

WESTERN SYDNEY UNIVERSITY

Western Sydney University's Challenging Racism Project presents a post-graduate interactive symposium facilitated and presented by one of Cross-Cultural Psychology's most renowned author:

Prof John W. Berry

Themes:

This 3 hour symposium and workshop seeks to engage researchers across psychology, education, health, medicine and the social science disciplines. The session will stimulate discussion and debate a variety of issues relating to acculturation and more generally cross-cultural research, as well as current theoretical and methodological issues. Discussions will showcase findings from valuable and cutting—edge international research. All interested parties are asked to RSVP with one question they would like to have addressed during this interactive session. Places are limited, so please respond promptly to avoid disappointment.

When: Tuesday, 3 May 2016

Time: 11 am – 2:00pm (Lunch provided)

Venue: BA-18.G.16

RSVP:

PLEASE NOTE: For a more personalised experience with Prof. Berry, five 30 minute one on one sessions will also be made available to interested HDR students and academic staff. These are available on a first come first serve basis. If you are keen on booking a free 30 minute session with Prof. Berry after the symposium, please notify upon R.S.V.P and a staff member will be in touch with more details.

We look forward to seeing you there!
