 - New migrant (adult and older adults) - targeting migrants from Hep B prevalent countries (Asia, Africa, Pacific Islands), aged between 30 and 70+, migrating to Australia in the last 15 years.
 - New migrant (Chinese) - targeting migrants from China, who migrated to Australian in the last 10 years.
9. By entering this competition, each entrant grants an irrevocable, perpetual, non-exclusive, non-transferable licence to each of the University and Hepatitis NSW to use, modify, reproduce, broadcast, distribute, display and/or adapt the film submission component of their entry in any way for the purposes of promoting this competition and its outcome, the Project and for general teaching, research, marketing and promotional purposes, with or without acknowledgement or attribution. Entrants hereby consent to any associated breach or infringement of their moral rights and release and indemnify the University and Hepatitis NSW, jointly and severally, from any loss, liability, damage, injury or claim arising out of this licence. Each entrant warrants that he or she has been given an opportunity to obtain independent legal advice in relation to this licence, prior to accepting these terms and conditions, and acknowledges the University's Intellectual Property Policy, which may be viewed at the following website: <https://policies.westernsydney.edu.au/document/view.current.php?id=85>.
 10. This is the only method of entry into this competition.
 11. Incomplete or incomprehensible entries will be ineligible for acceptance into the competition.
 12. Entrants may only enter themselves in this competition. Group submissions, by a group of entrants, where all members have successfully completed the Project workshop and are eligible to enter this competition, will be accepted. Please note, group entries will only be eligible to win one prize collectively.
 13. Students may, as individuals or as part of a group, submit more than one entry per category and in multiple categories. .. A group consisting of one or more ineligible entrants may be disqualified in whole at the University's discretion.
 14. Each entrant warrants to the University that his or her entry is his or her own, original work, is complete and accurate and does not infringe on the moral rights, intellectual property rights or privacy of any third party. Entrants hereby indemnify the University and Hepatitis NSW, jointly and severally, against any third party claims for breach of privacy or intellectual property infringement in connection with their entry.
 15. All entries must be submitted no later than 12.00pm AEST on 05 June, 2018. No late submissions will be accepted.
 16. Any entry received after expiry of the competition period will be invalid. No responsibility is accepted for late, lost, delayed, corrupted or misdirected entries. All entries become the property of the University and will not be returned.
 17. This competition is not a game of chance. Each entry will be judged on merit by a panel of judges selected by the University in its absolute discretion.

18. The judges will evaluate all entries fairly and impartially according to competition criteria which includes compliance with the criteria set out in clause 8, originality of idea and creativity.
19. In the event that the University receives a large number of entries, the University may elect to shortlist entries on merit, prior to final judging, at its absolute discretion. All shortlisted entrants will be notified via their nominated email address by no later than 25 June 2018. Students who fail to be shortlisted will also be notified via email on this date.
20. Winners of the competition will be announced via a presentation event on the 25 June 2018 at the Western Sydney University, Parramatta South Campus. Further event details will be provided to relevant entrants closer to the event date.
21. The decision of the University and the judges is final and binding on all entrants. No correspondence will be entered into.
22. The University reserves the right to make a lesser number of or no awards if not satisfied with the standard or quality of entries received.
23. If anything occurs that prevents or hinders the University's ability to conduct the competition or to deliver the prize to the prize winner, the University may, in its discretion, cancel the competition and recommence it at another time under the same terms and conditions or select another winner.
24. The University is not responsible for any incorrect or inaccurate information or other errors (whether technical or otherwise) that may occur in the course of conducting this competition. The University accepts no responsibility for any error, omission, interruption, deletion, defect, delay in operation or transmission, communications line failure, theft or destruction or unauthorised access to or alteration of entries.
25. To the full extent permitted by law, the University will not be liable for any injury, damages, expenses, or loss whatsoever (whether direct or inconsequential) to persons or property as a result of any person entering into the competition or accepting or using the prize.
26. The University reserves the right, at any time, to independently verify the validity of any entry or claim for the prize (including, without limitation, identity and other personal details of the entrant), and to reject that entry or claim if it cannot be verified to the University's satisfaction.
27. Any entrant who submits an entry or claim for the prize that is false or is not in accordance with these terms and conditions, or who tampers with the competition process in any way, will be automatically disqualified.
28. Both the University and Hepatitis NSW jointly and severally collect personal information in order to conduct this competition and may, for this purpose, disclose that information to third parties including agents, contractors, service providers, prize suppliers and, if required, to Australian regulatory authorities. Entry to this competition is conditional on entrants providing this information and consenting to disclosure. The University and/or Hepatitis NSW may, for an indefinite period, unless otherwise advised by an entrant, use the information for personal marketing, research, profiling and publicity purposes, including sending email to, or telephoning, entrants. Entrants should contact the University and Hepatitis NSW if they wish to access, update or correct their personal information. For more information on the University's Privacy Policy, please visit https://www.westernsydney.edu.au/complaints/complaints_management_and_resolution/privacy. For more information on Hepatitis NSW's privacy policy, please visit: <https://www.hep.org.au/wp-content/uploads/2017/09/OrgDoc-2017-Privacy-Policy.pdf>

29. Entrants consent to the University and/or Hepatitis NSW using the entrant's name, likeness, image and/or voice in any media (including photographs, film or sound recordings) for an unlimited period without compensation or remuneration for the purpose of promoting this competition (and any outcome) and promoting the University and/or Hepatitis NSW or their products and services.
30. By entering this competition, each entrant releases the University, its directors, officers, employees and agents from, and indemnifies each of them against, any and all liability or any loss, damage or injury of any kind arising from or in connection with their entry, this competition or the prize.
31. By entering this competition, entrants are eligible to win one (1) of three (3) prizes of $1,000 each.
32. All prizes must be claimed no later than 30 July 2018. Prizes cannot be claimed after that date.
33. No prize can be transferred or exchanged. If the prize becomes unavailable, the University reserves the right to substitute a product of equal value or specification, subject to any applicable laws or written directions from a regulatory authority.
34. The names of the prize winners will be published across all Western Sydney University and Hepatitis NSW Social Media pages, webpages, and where appropriate in local media.
