GENDER UNLIMITED* #1

What are the persistent challenges to gender equality on our campuses, in our workplaces, and within our communities? How can we start to make real progress toward overcoming these challenges? Are we doing enough?

Please join us for the launch of our new seminar series, Gender UNLIMITED*. The inaugural series topic is ‘Gender, Equality, and Violence’. Details attached.

ABOUT
Gender UNLIMITED* is a public-access seminar series that promotes progressive and provocative conversation around gender equality.

The series is designed to:
- promote awareness of the complex challenges that stand in the way of gender equality
- identify new ways to create and advocate for gender-aware, gender-responsive cultures
- enhance understanding of gender diversity, including complex, non-binary notions of gender
- generate new knowledge in gender research, including around factors that intersect with gender to compound inequality
- share knowledge about best practice organisational change toward gender equality

AUDIENCE
The series draws together a vast network of participants and audiences from across the Sydney region:
- gender equity practitioners
- industry, government, NGO, and community stakeholders
- higher education institutions
- academic and industry research partners
- the broader public.

CONTACT
Gender UNLIMITED* is coordinated by Western Sydney University’s SAGE team. For more information, contact:
