Flexible work practices including some work from home, flexible working hours, 35-hour week and flex leave

Provisional Psychologists will be provided training, supervision and extensive support provided as part of their employment

Your role

As part of the Psychological and Specialist Service team, you will work with a variety of disciplines to deliver psychological assessment, therapeutic interventions and professional services to DCJ client groups including children, young people, families and carers. Provide specialist consultation to staff and managers and assist in the development of therapeutic case plans. DCJ Psychologists are considered to be Therapeutic Specialists who are clinical experts in trauma informed therapeutic care.

- Specialises in trauma informed therapeutic assessment and intervention
- Based on assessment and formulation, develops and implements treatment plans for children, young people, families and carers
- Equips staff through training and reflective practice sessions
- Provides specialist consultation to guide casework practice

If you are a motivated team player, great at planning and prioritising, committed to evidence-based practice and bringing about change in vulnerable children's lives, we encourage you to apply!

The role is open to psychologists with general registration, registered psychologists with endorsements and those who are provisionally registered.

What we're looking for

- Tertiary qualifications in Psychology recognised by the Psychology Board of Australia, either:
  - Full registration as a Psychologist with the Psychology Board of Australia, or
  - Provisional registration with an ability to fulfil full registration within the relevant timeframes.
- Knowledge of theoretical and therapeutic frameworks that underpin assessment and intervention in the context of child abuse/neglect
- Current driver's licence

New graduates or students near the end of their degree are encouraged to apply.

We focus on hiring people who share our commitment and goals of inclusion, collaboration, adaptability, courage, and integrity. If you meet the essential requirements and the role resonates with you, please apply – you do not need to meet every desired requirement for us to want to talk to you.

Appointments are subject to reference checks and the following pre-employment checks:

- National Criminal History Record Check in accordance with the Disability Inclusion Act 2014
- Working with Children Check clearance in accordance with the Child Protection (Working with Children) Act 2012
