

702 ABC Sydney, Sydney, Overnights, Trevor Chappell03 Apr 2013 4:23AM

Duration: 7 mins 38 secs - ASR AUD 49,001 - NSW - Australia - ID: L00052753689

Interview with Kevin Dunn, Professor of Human Geography and Urban Studies at the University of Western Sydney and the leader of the Challenging Racism Project, discussing racism. Dunn says racism is based on fear of people with different skin colour. He says it's unfair that generalisations are made about a group from the actions of one or two individuals. Dunn talks about September 11 and says Islamophobia already existed before that. He says racism is also very strong towards Indigenous people and talks about anti-Asian sentiments in Sydney. [cont]

INTERVIEWEES

Kevin Dunn, Professor of Human Geography and Urban Studies, University of Western Sydney

AUDIENCE

27,800 All

16,900 Male 16+

11,900 Female 16+

702 ABC Sydney, Sydney, Overnights, Trevor Chappell03 Apr 2013 4:55AM

Duration: 4 mins 40 secs - ASR AUD 35,450 - NSW - Australia - ID: L00052754510

Continuing interview with Kevin Dunn, Professor of Human Geography and Urban Studies at the University of Western Sydney and the leader of the Challenging Racism Project, discussing racism. Caller Robert says are we being pushed to tolerate the intolerant. Caller says Christians in a Muslim country are discriminated against, prosecuted and others. Dunn says we should always be on our guard for any group who wants us to be intolerant of minorities.

INTERVIEWEES

Kevin Dunn, Professor of Human Geography and Urban Studies, University of Western Sydney

AUDIENCE

74,700 All

41,000 Male 16+

32,700 Female 16+

702 ABC Sydney, Sydney, Overnights, Trevor Chappell03 Apr 2013 4:49AM

Duration: 3 mins 34 secs - ASR AUD 27,095 - NSW - Australia - ID: L00052754342

Continuing interview with Kevin Dunn, Professor of Human Geography and Urban Studies at the University of Western Sydney and the leader of the Challenging Racism Project, discussing racism. Caller Cohan(*) says racism exists in the country and says it all starts with mockery. Caller says he's a Muslim and he just wants to live a content lifestyle. Caller says education is important. Dunn comments. [cont]

INTERVIEWEES

Kevin Dunn, Professor of Human Geography and Urban Studies, University of Western Sydney

AUDIENCE

74,700 All

41,000 Male 16+

32,700 Female 16+