

WESTERN SYDNEY
UNIVERSITY

SPORTS, SEXISM AND THE LAW

Is there a level playing field for men and women in Australian Sport? If there is inequality, what does this say about Australian society in the 21st century? Is law part of the problem, or part of the solution?

Western Sydney University Law School invites you to a Public Seminar on Sports, Sexism and the Law

28 April 2016
6:00pm – 7:30pm
Collector Hotel,
100 George St, Parramatta

Speakers:

- Erin Riley, journalist and author
- Belinda Smith, Associate Professor, University of Sydney
- Dr Tom Hickie, barrister and University of New South Wales academic
- David Rowe, Professor of Cultural Research, Western Sydney University

Seminar is free but reservations are essential RSVP by 21 April 2016 to law.research@westernsydney.edu.au

Inquiries: Catherine Renshaw
c.renshaw@westernsydney.edu.au

WESTERNSYDNEY.EDU.AU