Graduate Opportunity at Colliers

This a fantastic opportunity for anyone interested in property to kickstart their career in a sales-support role with a company that values its employees and encourages personal and professional growth.

As a member of our team, you'll develop essential skills such as negotiation, sales training, property listing, client relationship building, marketing, and sales closure. Focusing on the bustling south West Sydney region, you'll have the opportunity to build a vast network of professional contacts while maintaining long-term relationships and driving new business.

If you possess an entrepreneurial spirit and a passion for success, we want you on our team! Strong interpersonal and negotiation skills are a must, along with confidence, enthusiasm, and the ability to work collaboratively. A customer-centric approach is crucial, as is the ability to take responsibility for your own market and client base.

Join us now to launch your career in property with a company that values your growth and success.
