If you are still experiencing difficulties, please let us know by emailing examinations@westernsydney.edu.au

CAN'T SEE YOUR RESULTS?

If you can't see your results in your results email, you may have an encumbrance (restriction) on your student record due to outstanding fees. Check your student email account for messages about unpaid fees, and contact Student Central for information on how to make a payment. More information is online at westernsydney.edu.au/encumbrances

REVIEW OF GRADE

If you believe that there is an error with your mark or grade, you should speak with your Unit Coordinator about it.
If you are unable to resolve it with your Unit Coordinator you can apply for a Review of Grade.

If you need to lodge a Review of Grade application you must do this within 10 business days of your results being available in MySR. Applications made outside of these timeframes will not be considered. Find out more about applying at westernsydney.edu.au/reviewofgrade

IS YOUR ENROLMENT IN FUTURE SESSIONS STILL VALID?

If you have failed one or more units you need to check whether your enrolment for future sessions is still valid.

If you failed a prerequisite, co-requisite or other course rule, your enrolled units that previously showed as valid might now have an invalid status after results release. Instructions on what to do next are available at westernsydney.edu.au/rules

PROGRESSION - STAYING ON TRACK WITH YOUR STUDY

Once results are released we will check progression against rules within our Progression Policy to see if you are staying on track with your course. If you have failed a unit more than once or fail half or more of your units in the last session, you may receive a letter about progression.

Failing progression rules means that the number of units you can enrol in is restricted or you may be temporarily excluded from study. For more information about progression, please see our webpage westernsydney.edu.au/progression
