MASTER OF INCLUSIVE EDUCATION

Advancing the quality of life and learning outcomes for individuals with additional needs requires specialists who not only hold the necessary knowledge, but possess skills and dispositions to work in a manner that builds the capacity of individuals with additional needs, their families and those working with them.

Our program is designed to bolster professionals' knowledge and skills to support students with additional learning needs and disabilities across their lifespan.

WHAT YOU'LL STUDY

The Master of Inclusive Education considers individuals with a range of disabilities and needs across the lifespan. It qualifies teachers to work with individuals with additional needs across a range of settings (early childhood, primary, secondary, post-school). As well as studying selected units, the course includes a teaching practicum with students with additional needs, and the construction and completion of a research project.

Some of the units you may study are:

- Inclusive Environments
- Person Centred Practice
- Technology Assisting Learning
- Managing Challenging and Diverse Behaviour
- Assessing to Support Learning
- Universal Design for Learning

More information on course structure and units is available in the online University Handbook.
