

ACADEMIC INTEGRITY

Academic Integrity is behaving honestly in class discussions, assessments and exams. It's important when crediting the work of others.

To study with integrity, prepare, plan and be consistent. Check out our top tips below.

1. Manage your time to complete assessments.
2. Read requirements for each unit you study. Refer to your Learning Guides, vUWS and Unit Outlines.
3. Develop your note taking skills and keep detailed records of sources you refer to in your assessments.
4. Check your work before submitting it and ensure you include correct referencing and citation.
5. If possible, pre-submit your work to Turnitin and use the Originality Report to revise your work before final submission.
6. Seek assistance from a Study Smart Officer at your campus library or access Study Smart Online.
