

Ye (Joy) Fu is a lecturer at the Institute of Humanities, East China University of Technology. Joy holds a master's degree in Philosophy from East China University of Technology, a Bachelor of Arts (piano Major) from Department of Music of Shanghai Normal University, a Diploma in English language in economics and trade. She teaches piano, music theory, and Chinese and foreign music appreciation and is a member of the Piano Professional Committee of Shanghai Musicians Association. Joy was also a co-investigator of a project titled "Symbolic Culture Research" funded by the Chinese National Social Science Foundation and a visiting scholar to Western Sydney University.