

Guidelines for competitive assessment for Higher Degree Research (HDR) Scholarships

PURPOSE

These guidelines are used to assist with the assessment of HDR scholarship applications received by the Graduate Research School.

The Western Sydney University HDR Scholarship Assessment Panel will review and endorse scholarship offers based on meeting entrance criteria and recommendations put forward by Schools and Institutes.

The Deputy Vice-Chancellor (Research, Enterprise and International) will approve all scholarship offers based on the recommendation of the Western Sydney University HDR Scholarship Assessment Panel.

HOW APPLICATIONS WILL BE ASSESSED

HDR scholarship applications are assessed using a scoring criteria. Applications for scholarships are assessed on the basis of evidence of academic merit and performance; research output and/or relevant research experience; and demonstrated research skills. It is expected that only exceptional applicants will be recommended for a scholarship.

Each application will be scored by the Western Sydney University in accordance with these guidelines.

- Section 1 – Academic Qualifications and Performance
- Section 2 – Research Output and Experience
- Section 3 – Supervisor Eligibility
- Section 4 – Alignment with Strategic Research Priorities
- Section 5 – Equity

Scholarship offers are subject to applicants meeting the admission criteria for the relevant Higher Research Degree and receiving approval from the relevant School or Institute.

Applicants must provide a letter of recommendation that addresses their suitability for the proposed project from a suitable academic supervisor to be eligible for a scholarship.

Applicants that do not follow the prescribed application process, do not apply or do not provide supporting documentation by the relevant closing date, provide insufficient evidence to support their application or are unable to meet the requirements described in this document will be excluded from the scholarship ranking process.

HDR SCHOLARSHIP METRIC – APPLICATION SCORING CRITERIA

- The Graduate Research School will assess and allocate scores against criteria based on the evidence provided by the applicant.
- The relevant School or Institute will be asked to review the score and make recommendations to the Scholarship Assessment Panel.
- Any recommendation to adjust a score must be accompanied by a comprehensive justification.

SECTION 1: ACADEMIC QUALIFICATIONS AND PERFORMANCE

MAXIMUM POINTS: 24

Qualifications must be conferred or pending conferral (e.g. awaiting graduation). If the applicant holds more than one postgraduate qualification, only the qualification with the highest ranking will be scored.	Points
Master of Philosophy / Masters (Honours) Minimum one-year degree that is at least 66% independent research.	22
Masters by Research Minimum two-year degree that is at least 50% (one year) independent research and 50% (one year) research training coursework. The purpose of the degree must be to provide research training. Points are awarded based on thesis year results only.	85% + 21 80% - 84% 20 75% - 79% 19
Masters by Coursework Minimum one-year degree that is at least 50% supervised research component, or a two-year degree that is at least 25% supervised research component, with independent examination. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> a) The 25% equates to 40 credit points of research, that could comprise of a smaller research dissertation (30 CPs) with some research coursework (10 CPs). b) Points are awarded based on thesis results only. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> (i) Higher Distinction 18 (ii) Distinction (or the equivalent) 17
Undergraduate Bachelor Honours (end-on or embedded) An additional year of study following the completion of a Bachelor degree that includes a research component. The purpose of the degree may be to provide professional qualifications or accreditation.	Class 1 20 Class 2.1 19
Western Sydney University graduates OR Points are awarded to graduates that have completed a Bachelor Honours (Class 1), Research Masters, Master of Philosophy or Master of Research, at Western Sydney University. OR Western Sydney University current HDR candidates Points are awarded to HDR candidates currently enrolled in a Master of Philosophy or doctoral degree at Western Sydney University, with greater than six (6) months remaining in their candidature.	2
If entry is based on Academic/Professional Equivalence, please provide details Some applicants may have existing research experience that should be considered. This may have occurred in industry or some other working experience. Evidence needs to be provided to allow assessment of these skills.	16

ADDITIONAL CONSIDERATIONS

1. International qualifications with an 'Honours' or 'Class' result will not be automatically considered equivalent to an Australian Bachelor Honours degree. International tertiary education systems may use the terms 'Honours' or 'Class' to refer to results and the term does not always mean the degree includes a research component.
2. Qualifications can be scored as equivalent to a Master of Philosophy where the degree contains a substantial thesis component (minimum 25%) (e.g. equal to or more substantial than a Western Sydney University Master of Research), and where a copy of the thesis is provided in the application.
3. The relevant Western Sydney University School or Institute should make a judgment on international qualifications based on the grades attained, the content and structure of the research component, National Office for Overseas Skills Recognition (NOOSR) advice, discipline knowledge and standing of the institution, and the standing of the relevant program in the academic community.
4. If the Western Sydney University School or Institute makes a claim that an international qualification is equivalent to an Australian Bachelor Honours degree or Research Masters, written justification must be provided explaining how the degree is equivalent, referring to content, structure and learning outcomes. The justification must be submitted to the Graduate Research School by the Associate Dean Higher Degree Research.
5. For applicants that already hold a Doctor of Philosophy or equivalent doctorate degree, the research proposal should be in a substantially different research area (i.e. not a continuation of previously completed project).

SECTION 2: RESEARCH OUTPUT AND EXPERIENCE

MAXIMUM POINTS: 8 in total

Points may be allocated from one or more of the following categories. Research output must be refereed, and the quality of the publisher must be confirmed (i.e. commercial or academic vs. predatory or vanity press) by a reputable source such as Scopus, Ulrichsweb or Western Sydney University Library. Publications in predatory journals will be excluded for assessment. Applicants may provide evidence for up to a maximum of four (4) items of research output. EVIDENCE AND SUPPORTING DOCUMENTATION – FOR APPLICANTS

Applicants are required to provide the following evidence and/or documentation to support claims made in their application.

To ensure equity for all applicants, Western Sydney University will not allocate a score for an item or claim in an application if appropriate supporting documentation is not provided, and documentation will not be accepted after the relevant closing date.

Failure to provide evidence and supporting documentation may reduce the overall score of an applicant and may have a detrimental impact on their scholarship outcome.

Documents must be certified according to Western Sydney University requirements:

<https://www.westernsydney.edu.au/future/study/how-to-apply/certifying-documents.html>

ACADEMIC QUALIFICATIONS AND PERFORMANCE
Academic qualifications	Provide certified copies of full academic testamurs for qualifications completed outside of Western Sydney University.
Academic performance	Provide certified copies of full transcripts for qualifications completed outside of Western Sydney University.
RESEARCH OUTPUT AND EXPERIENCE
Applicants must list their research output and experience, as well as provide evidence and supporting documentation following the instructions in the Research Scholarship Application Form. Evidence and supporting documentation must meet the following requirements.
Published research books, monographs and book chapters	A full academic reference must be provided: title, author(s), year published, publisher, ISBN or ISSN. An online reference of the document (e.g. Scopus reference, Ulrichsweb reference, Western Sydney University Library reference, DOI, etc.) must be provided.
Refereed conference proceedings	A full academic reference must be provided: title, author(s), year published, publisher, ISBN or ISSN. Evidence of the conference: title, date, venue, location, other supporting information. Online evidence that the conference was refereed (such as refereeing procedures, composition of panel, etc.)
Commercial patents	A copy of the patent abstract, evidence that the patent has been granted, and an identifying code or patent number must be provided. An online reference to the patent (e.g. from the patent authority) must be provided.
Refereed journal articles and papers	A full academic reference must be provided: title, author(s), year published, publisher, ISBN or ISSN. Online evidence that the journal article or paper is refereed (e.g. Scopus reference, Ulrichsweb reference, Western Sydney University Library reference, DOI, etc.) must be provided.
Creative works	A full academic reference must be provided: title, author(s), year published, publisher, ISBN or ISSN. Evidence of the exhibition or distribution method: event title, date, venue, location, curator, other supporting information.
Research experience	A statement of service on the employer's letterhead stating the name of the employer, the period of employment, the title of the position, full-time or part-time workload, and duties and responsibilities. A statement about the level of research experience or training provided by the role is advantageous.

EVIDENCE AND SUPPORTING DOCUMENTATION – FOR SCHOOLS AND INSTITUTES

The Graduate Research School will assess academic qualifications and each item of research output and experience provided by the applicant (up to the maximum number of points allowed). Scores will be allocated based on the criteria in the guidelines above.

Schools and Institutes will receive the initial assessment and scores from the Graduate Research School and make recommendations to the Western Sydney University HDR Scholarship Assessment Panel. This may include justifications to adjust the scores allocated by the Graduate Research School.

EVIDENCE OF REFEREED OR PEER REVIEWED OUTPUT

The Graduate Research School will assess all research output using the following source:

- Western Sydney University Library: <https://library.westernsydney.edu.au/>

Applicants should check their own output (i.e. journal articles, book chapters, etc.) using reputable sources (e.g. Ulrichsweb, Scopus, etc.) prior to including them in their application, and they should as a minimum include online references to the output in the application form. If reasonable, applicants should include a PDF copy of the output or an acceptance letter from the publisher in their application.

If Western Sydney University cannot verify a claim made in an application using the above source, it may be excluded from the ranking process.
