

Do you have breast cancer and suffer from fatigue?

Could acupuncture help you?

Researchers at NICM Health Research Institute, Western Sydney University, are looking for women and men aged 18 years and over, who have been diagnosed with breast cancer, to participate in a study to investigate if acupuncture is helpful for reducing fatigue.

If it is between one month and two years since completing your treatment and you are experiencing fatigue you may be eligible to take part in the trial at our Westmead Campus.

For more information, please contact:
Trial Coordinator Naseema Haffejee
p. 0490 426 240
e. wsih@westernsydney.edu.au

www.nicm.edu.au

This clinical trial has been approved by the Western Sydney Human Research Ethics Committee (Approval Number H13278).