Meta-Analysis for Systematic Review 系統性文獻回顧 | 5 CPD

Are you struggling with how to conduct a meta-analysis or a statistical method to make sense of variability in findings across studies? Are you looking for solutions to overcome challenges? This is an opportunity for postgraduate students, HDR students, early career academics and researchers in health and medicine to learn how to use meta-analysis for systematic review and to find answers to questions that you may have in this area. In this workshop, you will learn how to effectively interpret findings through statistical analysis.

Presenter: Professor Liming Lu

Professor Liming Lu is a PhD Supervisor at the Guangzhou University of Chinese Medicine. He serves as an expert reviewer and a valuable member of the statistics team of clinical trials in the Guangdong Provincial Medical Products Administration.
