CREATIVE

ARTIST COMMISSION

EXPRESSIONS OF INTEREST NOW OPEN

THE WESTERN SYDNEY CREATIVE
ARTIST COMMISSION

An annual award supporting mid-career Western Sydney* artists or artist collectives, presented by Western Sydney University.

The Commission will support the development of an ambitious new work by an individual artist or collective. The resulting work will be presented as part of Western Sydney University's 2027 exhibition program as a solo exhibition, accompanied by a curated public program. The exhibition will be held in the Margaret Whitlam Galleries, located on the Parramatta South Campus on Dharug land.

It is envisaged that the exhibition would take place in the two riverside galleries – the small and long gallery, with an activation space on the Northern Side gallery.

The interactive studio space is a key component of the Commission. It provides an opportunity for students, staff and the wider community to engage with art making and idea development.

The approach can be very open and flexible. For example, you may choose to:

- Present a series of workshops these could be delivered by you or other artists during the exhibition;
- Create a drop in space where visitors can produce their ‘own’ response;
- Host talks, panels or lives performances.

Expressions of Interest will be evaluated in accordance with Western Sydney Creative Priority areas by a sub-committee of the Western Sydney Creative Advisory Committee:

- Recognise, respect and invest in Indigenous Australian arts.
- Create opportunities to promote and support the artistic practices of Australian women artists.
- Amplify local voices, practices and perspectives to ensure the collection reflects the culturally and linguistically diverse communities of Western Sydney.
- Acknowledge and support the alumni (students and staff) of Western Sydney University through acquisitions and commissions.
- Invest in artworks that demonstrate social and cultural practices and meanings for diverse audiences.
- Support artworks that contribute to the University's research and teaching programs, and that improve the liveability and amenity of the University's campuses.

Payment Schedule

- $22,000 for the creation of a significant new artwork/s for the exhibition
- $5,250 exhibition/performance fee which includes the loan of existing artworks/performances in addition to new works
- $5,250 for concepts and delivery of an interactive studio space and associated exhibition public programme.
