HOME

Welcome to the Handbook and Curriculum pages

The Handbook is where you will find descriptions of all programs and subjects offered at Western Sydney University.

Handbook (2022 onwards)

The new Handbook has been revamped to work with our new student management system. You will see new terminologies being used in the new Handbook – for example, UNITS are now called SUBJECTS. Subject codes have four letters, a space, then four numbers. The space is required when searching, for example ACCT 3001 should be entered into the search, and not ACCT3001.

Further help and information can be found at the following links.

- Glossary and how-to information (https://wsu.service-now.com/student/?id=kb_article_view&sysparm_article=KB0017922)
- Older versions of the curriculum can be accessed through the archives of the Legacy Handbook (http://handbook.westernsydney.edu.au/hbook/)

2021 Handbook and older

The legacy handbook, which lists all the units on offer in 2021, is currently still available for continuing students to review. Follow this link to go to the legacy handbook.

- Legacy Handbook page (http://handbook.westernsydney.edu.au/hbook/)

How to use the new Handbook

1. First search for your Program code by using the magnifying glass icon at the top right of the page.
   If you can't find your program, it may be part of our continuing curriculum in our legacy handbook http://handbook.westernsydney.edu.au/hbook/
2. Check that the Program commencement date is on or after the date that you commenced your study in the Program. If not, follow the relevant link on the page to go to the correct version on the legacy handbook
3. Use the Sequence or Structure tabs on the Program page to find links to related Subjects, or related Majors and Minors
4. The Subject Detail pages include information that replaces Unit Outlines.
   If you need to refer to previous unit outlines visit the Unit Outlines Archive section of the legacy handbook http://handbook.westernsydney.edu.au/hbook/

Associate Degree in Engineering (7022)

Approved Abbreviation: AssocDegEng
Western Sydney University Program Code: 7022
AQF Level: 6

This program applies to students who commenced in 2021 or later.

Students should follow the program structure for the session start date relevant to the year they commenced.

For commencement year Q3, 2015 please refer to: 7022.3 Associate Degree in Engineering (http://handbook.westernsydney.edu.au/hbook/course.aspx?course=7022.3)

For commencement year 2014 please refer to: 7022.2 Associate Degree in Engineering (http://handbook.westernsydney.edu.au/hbook/course.aspx?course=7022.2)

This program is delivered by Western Sydney University, The College as an agent of Western Sydney University.

The Associate Degree in Engineering is designed for people who wish to pursue a career in Engineering at entry level or who are in traineeship positions. The qualification can lead to employment or pathway to a Bachelor Degree program.

The Associate Degree in Engineering has a common first year program for all engineering disciplines, exposing students to a wide range of experiences in the first year. In the second year students may choose from Civil, Electrical, Mechanical or Robotic & Mechatronic majors.
If students choose to apply to study in the Bachelor of Engineering (Honours) after graduating from the Associate Degree in Engineering they may be given advanced standing in up to 12 subjects.

For more information on Western Sydney University, The College, please refer to their website.

Accreditation

Full accreditation has been accorded for the Civil Major by Engineers Australia in 2021. Provisional accreditation has been accorded for the Electrical, Mechanical and Robotic and Mechatronic Majors in 2021.

Work Integrated Learning

Western Sydney University seeks to enhance student learning experiences by enabling students to engage in the culture, expectations and practices of their profession or discipline. This program includes a placement or other community-based unpaid practical experience.

There is a mandatory work component required for completion of this program. Please contact the Program Advisor listed above for information.

Admission

Admissions 2023

Applicants may be regarded as eligible for admission if they have completed the NSW HSC and attained the required ATAR (Australian Tertiary Admission Rank), or have completed other equivalent qualifications such as a recognised Certificate III or Certificate IV and vocational experience and attained the required entrance standard set for entry to the program. This may include bridging/preparatory courses, para-professional and other post-secondary qualifications.

Admission to the Associate Degree in Engineering also requires an applicant to have a minimum of three (3) years industry experience or be a member in a suitable traineeship program.

Admissions 2024

Applicants may be regarded as eligible for admission if they have completed the NSW HSC and attained the required ATAR (Australian Tertiary Admission Rank), or have completed other equivalent qualifications such as a recognised Certificate IV related to engineering. This may include bridging/preparatory courses, para-professional and other post-secondary qualifications.

Applicants who have not achieved the required ATAR but have obtained at least Band 4 in HSC Mathematics, Mathematics Advanced, Physics or Chemistry (or equivalent) may be regarded as eligible for admission.

Bachelor of Accounting (2783)

Approved Abbreviation: BAcc
Western Sydney University Program Code: 2783
AQF Level: 7

CRICOS Code: 087773B

This program applies to students who commenced in 2018 or later.

Students should follow the program structure for the session start date relevant to the year they commenced.

Commencement Year 2017 - 2783.2 Bachelor of Accounting (http://handbook.westernsydney.edu.au/hbook/course.aspx?course=2783.2)

Commencement Year 2016 - 2783.1 Bachelor of Accounting (http://handbook.westernsydney.edu.au/hbook/course.aspx?course=2783.1)

The Bachelor of Accounting provides students with an in-depth knowledge of accounting, supported by knowledge of associated disciplines of law, economics, finance and statistics. The degree is unique in its scope and coverage offering qualification in accounting and, in combination with available majors, in financial planning and taxation. Contemporary issues in accounting practice are addressed through students engaging critically with the United Nations Sustainable Development Goals through their evaluation of economic, social, and environmental enterprise and professional behaviour and their consideration of responsible business practice.

This degree satisfies the accreditation requirements of CPA Australia (CPA), Chartered Accountants Australia and New Zealand (CAANZ) and the Institute of Public Accountants (IPA) for entry into their respective programs. Completion of this degree will allow students to claim a number of exemptions from the Chartered Institute of Management Accountants (CIMA) in obtaining the CIMA Professional Qualification.

On successful completion of the Financial Planning and Taxation specialisation the degree satisfies the eligibility requirements of the Financial Planning Association of Australia (FPA) to become a Financial Planner AFP® and prepares students for entry into the Certified Financial Planner CFP® Certification. The degree is also accredited with the Financial Adviser Standards and Ethics Authority (FASEA) management of which has recently transferred to the financial planning standards team known as the Financial Adviser Standards (FAS) under The Commonwealth Department of Treasury. This program may meet the RG146 generic knowledge requirements, specialist knowledge requirements and skills requirements as they currently stand. Details regarding the coverage of RG146 requirements are available via the link located below.

The University has approval from the Tax Practitioners Board (TPB) in Australia to deliver programs for tax (financial) advisers and tax agents. Completion of the Bachelor of Accounting degree (including completion of specific electives) satisfies the tertiary qualifications requirements to register as a Tax (Financial) Adviser and/or a Tax Agent. Details of which subjects must be completed to meet these requirements can be found via the link below.

Admission

Year 12 HSC (or equivalent); or completed Diploma in Business at Western Sydney University, The College; or completed relevant TAFE award.

Eligibility for admission to the Bachelor of Accounting is based on the following minimum requirements:

Assumed Knowledge: Mathematics and any two units of English. Students unable to demonstrate sufficient levels of achievement in mathematics will be required to use one of the elective subjects to increase their mathematical aptitude. This will not lengthen the period of study.

Applications from Australian and New Zealand citizens and holders of permanent resident visas may be made via the Universities Admissions Centre (UAC) or directly through the Western Portal. Use the links below to apply via UAC or Western Sydney University. Applications made directly to Western Sydney do not have an application fee.

http://www.uac.edu.au/
https://westernsydney.uac.edu.au/ws/

Applicants who have undertaken studies overseas may have to provide proof of proficiency in English. Local applicants who are applying through the Universities Admissions Centre (UAC) will find details of minimum English proficiency requirements and acceptable proof on the UAC website. Local applicants applying directly to the University should also use the information provided on the UAC website.

International students currently completing an Australian Year 12 in or outside Australia, an International Baccalaureate in Australia or a New Zealand National Certificate of Educational Achievement (NCEA) level 3 must apply via UAC International.

http://www.uac.edu.au/

All other International applicants must apply directly to the University via the International Office.

International students applying to the University through the International Office can find details of minimum English proficiency requirements and acceptable proof on their website.

International Office (http://www.westernsydney.edu.au/international/)

Overseas qualifications must be deemed by the Australian Education International - National Office of Overseas Skills Recognition (AEI-NOOSR) to be equivalent to Australian qualifications in order to be considered by UAC and Western Sydney University.

Advanced Standing

Advanced Standing will be assessed in accordance with University policy (https://policies.westernsydney.edu.au/document/view.current.php?id=176).

Program Structure

Equivalent Subjects

The subjects listed below count towards completion of the program for students who may have passed subjects in the list in 2022 or earlier.

FINC 1001 - Management Accounting Fundamentals, replaced by ACCT 1010 Management Accounting Fundamentals

Bachelor of Accounting/Bachelor of Laws (2785)

Approved Abbreviation: BAccounting/LLB
Western Sydney University Program Code: 2785
AQF Level: 7

CRICOS Code: 089438A

This program applies to students who commenced in 2022 or later.

Commencement Year 2017 - 2785.2 Bachelor of Accounting/Bachelor of Laws (http://handbook.westernsydney.edu.au/hbook/course.aspx?course=2785.2)

The program couples undergraduate qualifications in law and accounting. Students gain an in-depth knowledge of accounting principles and practice, combined with study of economics, finance, statistics and law. Students develop professional legal skills, including the ability to analyse and interpret legal material, understand fundamental legal principles, the relationship between law and society, and solve non-legal problems. Students can tailor study for career paths in a variety of local and international law fields.

The program meets the undergraduate academic requirements for admission to legal practice through the Legal Profession Admission Board and also satisfies the current pre-admission educational requirements for registration as a practicing accountant. Graduates may pursue further specialised study.

The Bachelor of Accounting is accredited with and satisfies the pre-admission educational requirements for membership of CPA Australia (CPA), Chartered Accountants Australia and New Zealand (CAANZ) and the Institute of Public Accountants (IPA). Completion of this degree will allow students to claim a number of exemptions from the Chartered Institute of Management Accountants (CIMA) in obtaining the CIMA Professional Qualification.

The University has approval from the Tax Practitioners Board (TPB) to deliver programs in Australian taxation law and commercial law for tax (financial) advisers and tax agents. Successful completion of the Bachelor of Accounting degree (including completion of specific electives) satisfies the tertiary qualifications requirements to register as a Tax (Financial) Adviser or Tax Agent. Details of which subjects must be completed to meet these requirements can be found via the link below.

TPB Tax (Financial) Adviser Registration Requirements (https://www.westernsydney.edu.au/__data/assets/pdf_file/0010/1193608/BAcc_LLB_Tax_Financial_Adviser_and_Tax_Agent_registration_requirements_2785.2.pdf)

Early Exit

Students may exit this program on completion of 80 credit points with a 2827 Diploma in Laws (exit only) (https://hbook.westernsydney.edu.au/programs/diploma-laws-exit-only/)

Study Mode

Five years full-time or ten years part-time. Students may be required to travel between campuses in order to complete their subjects.

Accreditation

Graduates of the Bachelor of Accounting/Bachelor of Laws are eligible to apply to the Legal Profession Admission Board for admission to legal practice in NSW after undertaking prescribed practical legal training. Providing students complete subject LAWS 4008 Revenue Law (students can select this as an LLB alternate subject), this degree satisfies the accreditation requirements of CPA Australia (CPA), Chartered Accountants Australia and New Zealand (CAANZ) and the Institute of Public Accountants (IPA) for entry into their respective programs. Completion of this degree will allow students to claim a number of exemptions from the Chartered Institute of Management Accountants (CIMA) in obtaining the CIMA Professional Qualification. In addition, by utilising their alternate subjects to complete the Taxation major T023, students satisfy the tertiary education requirements to register as a Tax (Financial) Adviser and a Tax Agent with the TPB. Details regarding these requirements can be found via the link located below. Students choosing to exit with the Bachelor of Accounting at the end of the third year who wish to seek professional accreditation as an accountant will need to complete all subjects listed in the first three years of the recommended program sequence and subjects LAWS 4008 Revenue Law (students can select this as an LLB alternate subject) and LAWS 3045 Law of Associations (an additional subject).

Association to Advance Collegiate Schools of Business (AACSB)

The business component of this program is accredited by the Association to Advance Collegiate Schools of Business (AACSB).

Inherent Requirements

There are inherent requirements for this program that you must meet in order to complete your program and graduate. Make sure you read and understand the requirements for this program online.

Inherent Requirements (https://www.westernsydney.edu.au/ir/inherent_requirements/)

Work Integrated Learning

Western Sydney University seeks to enhance student learning experiences by enabling students to engage in the culture, expectations and practices of their profession or discipline. This program includes a placement or other community-based unpaid practical experience.

There is an optional work component available in this program. Please contact the Program Advisor listed above for information.

International students should be aware that if an elective is a requirement of the program but the work itself was not registered with CRICOS, students can still complete these electives but it would be counted towards the work limitation. For more details, refer to the 'Work Integrated Learning (WIL) for international students' website.

Program Structure

Qualification for the award of Bachelor of Accounting/Bachelor of Laws requires the successful completion of 400 credit points as per the recommended sequence.

Note: Students wishing to seek professional accreditation as an accountant will need to complete alternate subject LAWS 4008 Revenue Law as one of the eight LLB alternate subjects.

Students can tailor their study to include subjects that are recognised for specialist tax and financial planning practice in the accounting profession. Note that additional study may be required to achieve full accreditation in those specialist fields. Students should seek advice from the DAP re alternate subjects to be taken.

Students choosing to exit with the Bachelor of Accounting at the end of the third year who wish to seek professional accreditation as an accountant will need to complete all subjects listed in the first three years of the recommended program sequence and subjects LAWS 4008 Revenue Law (students can select this as an LLB alternate subject) and LAWS 3045 Law of Associations (an additional subject).

Students enrolled in the Bachelor of Accounting/Bachelor of Laws will only be eligible to graduate from their Bachelor of Laws degree upon completion of the entire 400 credit point program. Students enrolled in this program who wish to graduate with a standalone law degree prior to completion of the entire Bachelor of Accounting component must transfer to program Bachelor of Laws (Non Graduate Entry) (p. 479) which requires the completion of 320 credit points (inclusive of 80 credit points of non-LLB study).

Students may early exit with the Diploma in Laws (p. 750) on completion of 80 credit points, comprising 20 credit points of specified Law core units and 60 credit points of Law core or alternate units, as provided in the course structure. Please refer to the Diploma in Laws links above for details.

Bachelor of Accounting/Bachelor of Laws (Honours) (2839)

Approved Abbreviation: BAccounting/LLB(Hons)
Western Sydney University Program Code: 2839
AQF Level: 8

CRICOS code: 108429G

This program applies to students who commenced in 2022 or later.

This program is designed for high achieving law students in the Bachelor of Accounting/Bachelor of Laws program who wish to undertake an extended level of study and research in Law. An honours degree indicates academic excellence in a professional context and, as an Australian Qualifications Framework Level 8 qualification, students may also have direct entry into postgraduate programs including Masters and Doctor of Philosophy programs.

There is no direct entry into the Honours program. Entry is by application only following completion of at least 160 credit points of Law study and by meeting specified criteria (see Admission details). As an embedded honours program, students are not required to undertake an additional period of study. Further details regarding the honours program and its requirements are available at: Honours in Law and School of Law Honours Guidelines.

The Bachelor of Laws (Honours) program satisfies the academic degree requirements for admission to practice as an Australian lawyer. Students will engage in collaborative face-to-face problem and case-based learning, will be supported by online learning materials, and will participate in authentic assessment to develop knowledge and skills. The program provides students with a broad progressive legal education with a strong practical orientation to the law. Students develop skills in problem-solving, critical thinking, research, communication, collaboration, self-management, and ethical and professional awareness and judgement. Students will have the opportunity to develop skills in legal advocacy, negotiation, and legal technology and extend their professional and learning experiences through work integrated learning, clinical placement and international exchange engagements.

Study Mode

Five years full-time or ten years part-time. Students may be required to travel between campuses in order to complete their subjects

Accreditation

Graduates of the Bachelor of Accounting/Bachelor of Laws (Honours) are eligible to apply to the Legal Profession Admission Board for admission to legal practice in NSW after undertaking prescribed practical legal training. Providing students complete subject LAWS 4008 Revenue Law (students can select this as an LLB alternate subjects), this degree satisfies the accreditation requirements of CPA Australia (CPA), Chartered Accountants Australia and New Zealand (CAANZ) and the Institute of Public Accountants (IPA) for entry into their respective programs. Completion of this degree will allow students to claim a number of exemptions from the Chartered Institute of Management Accountants (CIMA) in obtaining the CIMA Professional Qualification.

In addition, by utilising their alternate subjects to complete the Taxation major T023, students satisfy the tertiary education requirements to register as a Tax (Financial) Adviser and a Tax Agent with the TPB. Details regarding these requirements can be found via the link located above. Students choosing to exit with the Bachelor of Accounting at the end of the third year who wish to seek professional accreditation as an accountant will need to complete all subjects listed in the first three years of the recommended program sequence and subjects LAWS 4008 Revenue Law (students can select this as an LLB alternate subjects) and LAWS 3045 Law of Associations (an additional subject).

Association of Chartered Certified Accountants (ACCA) Accreditation

This degree is internationally accredited with the Association of Chartered Certified Accountants (ACCA) and students who complete this degree will receive exemptions from 11 ACCA papers.

Details available on the ACCA website at https://www.accaglobal.com/an/en.html

Inherent Requirements

There are inherent requirements for this program that you must meet in order to complete your program and graduate. Make sure you read and understand the requirements for this program online.

The School of Law has developed Inherent Requirements Standards (IRS) for the Bachelor of Laws programs. http://www.westernsydney.edu.au/ir/inherent_requirements/inherent_requirements_for_law_courses (http://www.westernsydney.edu.au/ir/inherent_requirements/inherent_requirements_for_law_courses/)

The School of Business developed a set of Inherent Requirements for the discipline of Accounting as part of a WSU-wide pilot. These requirements are available at: http://www.westernsydneyedu.au/ir/inherent_requirements/inherent_requirements_for_accounting_courses (http://www.westernsydney.edu.au/ir/inherent_requirements/inherent_requirements_for_accounting_courses%20/)

Work Integrated Learning

Western Sydney University seeks to enhance student learning experiences by enabling students to engage in the culture, expectations and practices of their profession or discipline. This program includes a placement or other community-based unpaid practical experience.

There is an optional work component available in this program. Please contact the Program Advisor listed above for information.

Bachelor of Advanced Medical Science (3758)

Approved Abbreviation: BAdvMedSc
Western Sydney University Program Code: 3758
AQF Level: 7

CRICOS Code: 075674D

This program applies to students who commenced in 2022 or later.

Students should follow the program structure for the session start date relevant to the year they commenced.

For Commencement Year 2020 to 2021 - Please refer to 3758.1 Bachelor of Advanced Medical Science (http://handbook.westernsydney.edu.au/hbook/course.aspx?course=3758.1)

This degree equips students with both specialised knowledge and enhanced inquiry and critical thinking skills. It provides training for a range of careers in medical science and allows development of leadership and research skills. The advanced science subjects partner you with experienced academic researchers in human nutrition, biomedical science or anatomy and physiology. The biomedical science major focuses on the cellular, molecular and genetic aspects of health. The Human Nutrition major uses biology, chemistry and physiology to develop concepts in food and nutrient form and function in relation to human metabolism and physiology, while the Anatomy and Physiology major focuses on the structure and function of the human body.

All students must complete 60 credit points of study at Level 3 to meet course requirements. Students prior to 2024 start may need to select at least 10 credit points of flexible study at Level 3 to meet this requirement.

Students should note that different majors are offered on different campuses.

Study Mode

Three years full-time or six years part-time.

Work Integrated Learning

Western Sydney University seeks to enhance student learning experiences by enabling students to engage in the culture, expectations and practices of their profession or discipline. This program includes a placement or other community-based unpaid practical experience.

Work integrated learning is a component of many subjects in the core of the course and testamur majors.Additionally, students may choose one of two specific work integrated learning subjects.

The first of these, Complex Case Studies in Science, is designed to provide students with opportunities for personal development, industry and civic engagement and to develop career readiness. The subject

In the second specific work integrated learning subject, Work Internship for Science Professionals, students undertake an industry placement. The placement will allow students to observe and develop professional skills and behaviour and integrate theoretical and practical science knowledge and conventions into a real world setting. Student placements are unpaid and are undertaken in accordance with the requirements of Western Sydney University's Placement Policy (https://policies.westernsydney.edu.au/document/view.current.php?id=308). Students who are in relevant employment may apply for this experience to be recognised for advanced standing purposes. Students should consult the Credit for Prior Learning Policy (https://policies.westernsydney.edu.au/document/view.current.php?id=176).

Admission

Assumed Knowledge: Students should have at least 2 unit English, 2 unit science (any science) and 2 unit mathematics at year 12 equivalent.

Minimum ATAR of 90. Students must maintain a Grade Point Average of (GPA) of 5.0 or above to continue their enrolment in the program. If this GPA is not maintained they will be automatically transferred into the standard program after one warning (one semester of further study). Students in other WSU science programs who achieve a GPA of 5.0 or greater at the end of their first year of study may be admitted into the Advanced Medical Science program by invitation if sufficient places are available.

Applications from Australian and New Zealand citizens and holders of permanent resident visas may be made via the Universities Admissions Centre (UAC) or directly through the Western Portal. Use the links below to apply via UAC or Western Sydney University. Applications made directly to Western Sydney do not have an application fee.

http://www.uac.edu.au/
https://westernsydney.uac.edu.au/ws/

Applicants who have undertaken studies overseas may have to provide proof of proficiency in English. Local applicants who are applying through the Universities Admissions Centre (UAC) will find details of minimum English proficiency requirements and acceptable proof on the UAC website. Local applicants applying directly to the University should also use the information provided on the UAC website.

International students currently completing an Australian Year 12 in or outside Australia, an International Baccalaureate in Australia or a New Zealand National Certificate of Educational Achievement (NCEA) level 3 must apply via UAC International.

http://www.uac.edu.au/

All other International applicants must apply directly to the University via the International Office.

International students applying to the University through the International Office can find details of minimum English proficiency requirements and acceptable proof on their website.

International Office (http://www.westernsydney.edu.au/international/)

Overseas qualifications must be deemed by the Australian Education International - National Office of Overseas Skills Recognition (AEI-NOOSR) to be equivalent to Australian qualifications in order to be considered by UAC and Western Sydney University.

Qualification for this award requires the completion of 240 credit points which includes: 120 credit points of core subjects, 80 credit points taken as a Science specialisation and 40 credit points of elective subjects.

All students must complete 60 credit points of study at Level 3 to meet program requirements. Students may need to select at least 10 credit points of elective study at Level 3 to meet this requirement.

Please note that the full three year sequence is shown on each of the Major Testamur handbook pages at the links below.

Early Exit

Students may exit this program on completion of 80 cps with a Diploma in General Science (exit only)

Diploma in General Science (exit only) (p. 725)

Subject	Title	Credit Points
All students are required to complete the following two core subjects:
NATS 1019	Scientific Literacy	10
CHEM 1008	Introductory Chemistry	10

NOTE: Students are allocated a core subject from the following areas depending on the major chosen. Students should consult the sequence of subjects identified for each major. Limited choice may be available and this is indicated in the sequence for each major.

Specialisations

Students are required to complete eight specialisation subjects from one of the following testamur majors:

Please note that the full three year structure is shown on each of the Major Testamur handbook pages via the links below.

Anatomy and Physiology, Testamur Major (T084) (p. 1290)
Biomedical Science, Testamur Major (T086) (p. 1318)
Human Nutrition, Testamur Major (T125) (p. 1498)

Elective subjects

Enrolment in elective units is subject to meeting any required criteria for individual units, such as co-requisites and pre-requisites.

Suggested Minors

Environmental Health, Minor (p. 1440)
Infectious Diseases, Minor (p. 1514)
Microbiology, Minor (p. 1582)

Minor elective spaces

Elective subjects may be used toward obtaining an additional approved minor (40 credit points). Western Sydney University offers minors in a range of areas including Sustainability and Indigenous Studies.

Global Sustainability Minor (p. 1469)
Indigenous Australian Studies Minor (p. 1511)

Western Sydney University also offers the following innovative transdisciplinary Challenge Minors (https://www.westernsydney.edu.au/educational_partnerships_and_quality/home/challenge_minors/) which we encourage those students who have elective space to consider.

Bachelor of Advanced Science (3757)

Approved Abbreviation: BAdvSc
Western Sydney University Program Code: 3757
AQF Level: 7

CRICOS Code: 041145K

This program applies to students who commenced in 2022 or later.

For Commencement Year 2020 to 2021 - please refer to: 3757.1 Bachelor of Advanced Science (http://handbook.westernsydney.edu.au/hbook/course.aspx?course=3757.1)

For Commencement Year 2016 to 2019 - please refer to: 3562.9 Bachelor of Science (Advanced Science) (http://handbook.westernsydney.edu.au/hbook/course.aspx?course=3562.9)

If you enjoy being constantly challenged and extended by your studies and are thinking about a career involving Science research, then the Bachelor Advanced Science degree allows exposure to research in an undergraduate degree. Inquiry-based research is introduced for all science students in first year, however in second year, Advanced Science students interact with world renowned researchers to provide extensive and individual training to develop leadership and/or research skills. This involves completing advanced science subjects only available to Advanced Science students, which focus on research methodology and developing skills pertinent for a future in science project management. On completing a science major, the degree also allows for completion of an additional minor or four electives, so students can design their own learning journey.

Students choosing the Environmental Health testamur major must complete a compulsory work placement.

Students should note that different majors are offered on different campuses, and not all majors will be offered at every campus.

Study Mode

Three years full-time or six years part-time.

Accreditation

The Environmental Health major, when undertaken within the Bachelor of Advanced Science has Conditional Provisional Accreditation with Environmental Health Australia.

Work Integrated Learning

Western Sydney University seeks to enhance student learning experiences by enabling students to engage in the culture, expectations and practices of their profession or discipline. This program includes a placement or other community-based unpaid practical experience opportunities.

Students who select T076 Environmental Health testamur major must complete a compulsory work placement. Please contact the Program Advisor listed above for information.

Work integrated learning is a component of many subjects in the core of the course and testamur majors. Additionally, students will be allocated to or, depending on the testamur major selected, may choose one of three specific work integrated learning subjects.

The first of these, Complex Case Studies in Science, is designed to provide students with opportunities for personal development, industry and civic engagement and to develop career readiness. The subject assures that students can critically analyse and logically argue complex scientific issues whilst taking into account multiple competing perspectives and builds on employability and communication skills developed in earlier subjects.

Complex Forensic Studies is the second specific work integrated learning subject. Students in T049 Forensic Science will undertake Complex Forensic Studies which assures similar skills to those in Complex Case Studies but in a specific forensic science context.

In the third specific work integrated learning subject, Work Internship for Science Professionals, students undertake an industry placement. This subject is compulsory for students studying T076 Environmental Health to meet accreditation requirements. The placement will allow students to observe and develop professional skills and behaviour and integrate theoretical and practical science knowledge and conventions into a real-world setting. Student placements are unpaid and are undertaken in accordance with the requirements of Western Sydney University's Placement Policy (https://policies.westernsydney.edu.au/document/view.current.php?id=308). Students who are in relevant employment may apply for this experience to be recognised for advanced standing purposes. Students should consult the Credit for Prior Learning Policy (https://policies.westernsydney.edu.au/document/view.current.php?id=176)

Admission

Assumed Knowledge: Students should have at least 2 Unit English, 2 Unit science (any science) and 2 Unit mathematics at year 12 equivalent. Minimum ATAR of 90.

Students must maintain a Grade Point Average (GPA) of 5.0 or above to continue their enrolment in the program. If this GPA is not maintained they will be automatically transferred into the standard program after one warning (one semester of further study). Students in other WSU science programs who achieve a GPA of 5.0 or greater at the end of their first year of study may be admitted into the Advanced Science program by invitation if sufficient places are available.

Applications from Australian and New Zealand citizens and holders of permanent resident visas may be made via the Universities Admissions Centre (UAC) or directly through the Western Portal. Use the links below to apply via UAC or Western Sydney University. Applications made directly to Western Sydney do not have an application fee.

Applicants who have undertaken studies overseas may have to provide proof of proficiency in English. Local applicants who are applying through the Universities Admissions Centre (UAC) will find details of minimum English proficiency requirements and acceptable proof on the UAC website. Local applicants applying directly to the University should also use the information provided on the UAC website.

International students currently completing an Australian Year 12 in or outside Australia, an International Baccalaureate in Australia or a New Zealand National Certificate of Educational Achievement (NCEA) level 3 must apply via UAC International.

Bachelor of Applied Data Science (3770)

Approved Abbreviation: BAppDataSc
Western Sydney University Program Code: 3770

AQF Level: 7

CRICOS Code: 105990F

This program applies to students who commenced in 2021 or later.

Students should follow the program structure for the session start date relevant to the year they commenced.

For commencement year 2016 - 2020, please refer to: 3734.1 Bachelor of Data Science (http://handbook.westernsydney.edu.au/hbook/course.aspx?course=3734.1)

The Bachelor of Applied Data Science is not a stand-alone program, but is designed to be undertaken as a bolt-on in combination with any bachelor degree. In order to graduate with a Bachelor of Applied Data Science, students must have completed all requirements from their first bachelor's degree, as well as the 80 credit points required for this program. Hence students in a three-year bachelor degree wishing to enrol into this program must complete a total of 320 credit points (240 credit points from first degree plus 80 credit points for the bolt-on). Likewise, students in a four-year bachelor degree wishing to enrol into this program must complete a total of 400 credit points (320 credit points for the first degree plus 80 credit points for the bolt-on).

Digital data plays an increasingly important role in many areas of endeavour. Extracting information from data has become a science in itself – Data Science. Graduates from many disciplines, will benefit from skills in Data Science. This program teaches a blend of skills from mathematics, statistics and computing, Graduates will know how to embark on data driven investigations, and conduct visual and computational analytics for application in their own primary discipline.

Study Mode

Four years for students completing a three-year Western Sydney Bachelor degree and the Bachelor of Applied Data Science. Five years for students completing a four-year Western Sydney Bachelor degree and the Bachelor of Applied Data Science.

Special Requirements Prerequisites

Students must have completed all requirements for another bachelors degree in order to graduate with the Bachelor of Applied Data Science.

Program Structure

The Bachelor of Applied Data Science is not a stand-alone degree, but is designed to be undertaken in combination with any Western Sydney bachelor degree. The standard study duration for both degrees would be:

- Four years for students completing a three-year Western Sydney Bachelor degree and the Bachelor of Applied Data Science.
- Five years for students completing a four-year Western Sydney Bachelor degree and the Bachelor of Applied Data Science.

Bachelor of Architectural Design (3753)

Approved Abbreviation: BArchDes
Western Sydney University Program Code: 3753
AQF Level: 7

CRICOS Code: 097540C

This program applies to students who commenced in 2018 or later.

The Bachelor of Architectural Design provides students with a combination of skills and knowledge required by contemporary architects. This program of study aligns with the Architects Accreditation Council of Australia (AACA) National Standard of Competency for Architects in the areas of design, documentation, project delivery and practice management across five knowledge domains; regulatory, social and ethical, environmentally sustainable, communication and disciplinary. The program focuses on producing graduates who can synthesise and evaluate information from across associated disciplines, undertake architectural design and apply design thinking to complex projects in a global marketplace.
Effective career professionals require a broad range of understandings to allow them to connect and work with colleagues across many disciplines. To assist students to flexibly build their career pathways, the Bachelor of Architectural Design provides a range of free electives from areas of interest across the University in addition to opportunities to work alongside industry/community partners to consolidate their learning and develop invaluable career networks.

Parts of this program may be taught at the Parramatta City - Hassall St or at the Parramatta South campus.

Study Mode

Three years full-time or six years part-time.

Work Integrated Learning

Western Sydney University seeks to enhance student learning experiences by enabling students to engage in the culture, expectations and practices of their profession or discipline. This program includes a placement or other community-based unpaid practical experience.

There is a mandatory work component required for completion of this program. Please contact the Program Advisor listed above for information.

International students should also refer to the link below for more information and a link to the Commonwealth Register of Institutions and Courses for Overseas Students (CRICOS).

Work Integrated Learning (WIL) for international students (https://www.westernsydney.edu.au/currentstudents/current_students/services_and_facilities/international_student_support/working_in_australia/work_integrated_learning/)

Admission

Assumed knowledge: HSC English Standard (or higher), and Science and/or Mathematics (Band 4 or above).

Recommended studies: Art, design, technology, and/or professional studies.

Alternate Entry: Where academic requirements are not met, entry by review of a PDF portfolio of works demonstrating creative ability will be considered. Portfolios will be assessed by the School of Engineering, Design and Built Environment on a qualitative basis.

Guidelines for Portfolio submission

The aim of a creative portfolio is to demonstrate your range of skills necessary to be successful in the Bachelor of Architectural Design. The portfolio should include your best work that is carefully arranged in a professional and creative layout. A good portfolio will readily convey your enthusiasm, commitment, and readiness to begin your study of architecture.

The portfolio may include:

1. Freehand drawings and sketches - include samples of your architectural sketches of interesting buildings.
2. Creative production - need not be limited to ‘architectural’ works but can include: photography, sculpture, freehand drawing, mechanical drafting or CAD modelling, woodwork or technical arts, music scores, creative writing, dramatic performance or dance, and other forms of creative or professional endeavour.
3. Statement of your architectural interests - a 1 page statement of your interests in architecture including buildings and architects that inspire you.

4. Letters of reference - include at least 1 reference letter from a relevant person who can attest to your character, skills, and work ethic.

Submission formatting:

- Maximum 10 page PDF file showing visual evidence of creative ability. Images should be labelled and dated, with brief descriptions of the work to clarify as required (max 25 words per image).
- Maximum 5MB file size
- Colour or black and white
- A4 portrait or landscape
- No embedded hyperlinks. Static files only. No security or password protection on the file
- Cover sheet with your name, email address, and phone number and 100 word maximum description of the creative content, explanation of any exceptional circumstances, and articulation of why the field of architecture is of interest
- Save the PDF file using the following name format: B_Arch_Design_SURNAME_FIRSTNAME_portfolio.pdf
- For example, B_Arch_Design_SMITH_JOHN_portfolio.pdf

All work submitted to be applicants own work.

Local applicants: Do NOT email your portfolios to WSU. You must upload your portfolio to your UAC application or Direct application.

International applicants: A PDF portfolio is required for all international applicants. Portfolios must be uploaded to your Studylink application.

Applications from Australian and New Zealand citizens and holders of permanent resident visas must be made via the Universities Admissions Centre (UAC). Use the links below to apply. Applications made directly to Western Sydney do not have an application fee.

Applicants who have undertaken studies overseas may have to provide proof of proficiency in English. Local and International applicants who are applying through the Universities Admissions Centre (UAC) will find details of minimum English proficiency requirements and acceptable proof on the UAC website. Local applicants applying directly to the University should also use the information provided on the UAC website.

http://www.uac.edu.au/

https://westernsydney.uac.edu.au/ws/

International applicants must apply directly to Western Sydney University via the International Office.

International Office (http://www.uws.edu.au/international/home/)

Overseas qualifications must be deemed by the Australian Education International - National Office of Overseas Skills Recognition (AEI-NOOSR) to be equivalent to Australian qualifications in order to be considered by UAC and Western Sydney University.

Note Regarding Professional Accreditation

The program is designed to meet all the requirements of the Architects Accreditation Council of Australia and in conjunction with the proposed Master of Architecture (Urban Transformation) program. The professional pathway to registration in architecture in Australia requires a minimum 5 year sequence including a three year Bachelors, a 2 year Master of Architecture and a nominal 2 year (3300 hrs) professional practice internship under the supervision of a registered practising architect of which 1650 hours can be during their study years. Successful completion of the Bachelor of Architectural Design will enable students to apply for entry into the Master of Architecture (Urban Transformation) program at Western Sydney University and may be eligible to apply to other accredited architecture program providers dependant on their entry requirements. Students who do not wish to proceed to the Masters program will still obtain a qualification that will assist with employment in the broad industry as part of building design teams and other allied disciplines in creative arts and professional services.

Special Requirements Prerequisites

Students are required to obtain a General Construction Induction Card ("white card") to facilitate construction site visits as part of the program. This can be obtained independently or through a coordinated effort of program staff during new student orientation. Detailed information will be provided to students. It is expected Induction Cards will be obtained during the first year of study, and will be a requirement to enrol in Year 2.

Work Integrated Learning

Western Sydney University seeks to enhance student learning experiences by enabling students to engage in the culture, expectations and practices of their profession or discipline. This program includes a placement or other community-based unpaid practical experience.

Students are encouraged to take a voluntary placement. Please contact the Course Advisor for information.

Program Structure

Qualification for this award requires the successful completion of 240 credit points as per the recommended sequence.

Students must complete:

- Eight 10 credit point core subjects
- Six 20 credit point core studio subjects
- Four elective subjects

Parts of these subjects may be taught at the Parramatta City - Hassall St campus or at the Parramatta South campus.

Recommended Sequence 2022 - Autumn 2023

Bachelor of Arts (1706)

Approved Abbreviation: BA
Western Sydney University Program Code: 1706
AQF Level: 7

CRICOS Code: 040992A

This program applies to students who commenced in 2022 or later.

Students should follow the program structure for the session start date relevant to the year they commenced.

Commencement Year 2020 to 2021 - 1706.4 Bachelor of Arts (http://handbook.westernsydney.edu.au/hbook/course.aspx?course=1706.4)

Commencement Year 2017 to 2019 - 1706.3 Bachelor of Arts (http://handbook.westernsydney.edu.au/hbook/course.aspx?course=1706.3)

Commencement Year 2016 - 1706.2 Bachelor of Arts (http://handbook.westernsydney.edu.au/hbook/course.aspx?course=1706.2)

Commencement Year 2013 to 2015 - 1706.1 Bachelor of Arts (http://handbook.westernsydney.edu.au/hbook/course.aspx?course=1706.1)

The Bachelor of Arts offers students an opportunity to develop a depth of disciplinary expertise together with the breadth of vision afforded by cross-disciplinary approaches to the humanities. Study in the Bachelor of Arts is designed to develop communication and personal skills, creativity and a capacity for independent thought, adaptability to new situations and problem-solving skills, attributes increasingly demanded by employers. Bachelor of Arts graduates find employment in diverse areas including: communication and media industries; education; psychology and counselling; cultural, political and social policy analysis; writing and publishing. The Bachelor of Arts is a three-year degree designed to provide knowledge and generic skills that form the basis for lifelong learning.

Students wishing to be a primary school teacher should enrol in programs 1651 Bachelor of Arts (Pathway to Teaching Primary) (p. 120) or 1708 Bachelor of Arts (Pathway to Teaching Birth - 5 / Birth -12) (p. 113) Students wishing to be a secondary school teacher of English, History, Languages or Human Society and its Environment (which includes both history and social science subjects) should enrol in 1652 Bachelor of Arts (Pathway to Teaching Secondary) (p. 125). For further information concerning the requirements for secondary teaching, students are advised to consult the Subject Content Requirements for Primary and Secondary Teaching NSW (Abridged) from the NSW Education Standards Authority (NESA).

Students in this program also have the opportunity to complete a semester of study overseas and receive advanced standing towards their majors, minors or flexible subjects. They are encouraged to do so but must discuss this with a program advisor.

Bachelor of Arts (Pathway to Teaching Primary) (1651)

Approved Abbreviation: BA
Western Sydney University Program Code: 1651
AQF Level: 7

CRICOS Code: 061012B

This program applies to students who commenced in Spring 2018 or later.

Students should follow the program structure for the session start date relevant to the year they commenced.

For Commencement Year 2017-2018 - please refer to 1651.7 Bachelor of Arts (Pathway to Teaching Primary) (http://handbook.westernsydney.edu.au/hbook/course.aspx?course=1651.7)

For Commencement Year 2015-2016 - please refer to 1651.6 Bachelor of Arts (Pathway to Teaching Primary) (http://handbook.westernsydney.edu.au/hbook/course.aspx?course=1651.6)

For Commencement Year 2013-2014 - please refer to 1651.5 Bachelor of Arts (Pathway to Teaching Primary) (http://handbook.westernsydney.edu.au/hbook/course.aspx?course=1651.5)

Graduates of this degree are eligible for entry into the Master of Teaching (Primary) via Transition to Teaching pathway. Completion of both the Bachelor's and Master's programs provides a teaching qualification for Primary. Eligible students will receive advice during their final study session in the Bachelor of Arts (Pathway to Primary) regarding how to accept an offer into the Postgraduate program to attain a teaching qualification.

The BA (Pathway to Teaching Primary) is a three year degree specially designed to lead into the Master of Teaching (Primary), an accredited postgraduate teaching qualification. The Bachelor of Arts (Pathway to Teaching Primary) component provides a focussed study in a Major content discipline of your choice as well as opportunity to study an Education Studies Major as a Primary Teaching Specialisation in either English, Mathematics or Science. As well as being equipped with all the necessary elements of an initial teacher qualification, Bachelor of Arts (Pathway to Teaching Primary) graduates are prepared for a wide range of alternate employment opportunities with strong communication and people skills, creativity and capacity for independent thought, flexibility and adaptability in new situations, all increasingly demanded by employers.

Bachelor of Arts (Pathway to Teaching Secondary) (1652)

Approved Abbreviation: BA
Western Sydney University Program Code: 1652
AQF Level: 7

CRICOS Code: 061013A

This program applies to students who commenced in 2021 or later.

Students should follow the program structure for the session start date relevant to the year they commenced.

Commencement Year 2019 and 2020 - 1652.8 Bachelor of Arts (Pathway to Teaching Secondary) (http://handbook.westernsydney.edu.au/hbook/course.aspx?course=1652.8)

Commencement Year 2017 and 2018 - 1652.7 Bachelor of Arts (Pathway to Teaching Secondary) (http://handbook.westernsydney.edu.au/hbook/course.aspx?course=1652.7)

Commencement Year 2015 and 2016 - 1652.6 Bachelor of Arts (Pathway to Teaching Secondary) (http://handbook.westernsydney.edu.au/hbook/course.aspx?course=1652.6)

Commencement Year 2013 and 2014 - 1652.5 Bachelor of Arts (Pathway to Teaching Secondary) (http://handbook.westernsydney.edu.au/hbook/course.aspx?course=1652.5)

Graduates of this degree are eligible for direct entry into the Master of Teaching (Secondary) via Transition to Teaching pathway. Completion of both the Bachelor's and Master's programs provides a teaching qualification for Secondary. Eligible students will receive advice during their final study session in the Bachelor of Arts (Pathway to Secondary) regarding how to accept an offer into the Postgraduate program to attain a teaching qualification.

The BA (Pathway to Teaching Secondary) is a three year degree specially designed to lead into the Master of Teaching (Secondary), an accredited postgraduate teaching qualification. Together, the two degrees provide direct access to a teaching career in four years and improved prospects for career advancement. The Bachelor of Arts (Pathway to Teaching Secondary) component provides focussed study in a teaching discipline, such as English, History, a Language Other than English or Human Society and Its Environment, as well as opportunity to study an Education Studies Minor that develops understandings of contemporary education issues, teaching and learning. As well as being equipped with all the necessary elements of an initial teacher qualification, Bachelor of Arts (Pathway to Teaching Secondary) graduates are prepared for a wide range of alternate employment opportunities with strong communication and people skills, creativity and capacity for independent thought, flexibility and adaptability in new situations, all increasingly demanded by employers. For further information concerning the requirements for secondary teaching, students are advised to consult the Subject Content Requirements for Primary and Secondary Teaching NSW (Abridged) from the NSW Education Standards Authority (NESA).

The double degree program permits students to undertake multi-skilling and offers diverse career paths providing high marketability in multiple areas of expertise.

Psychology develops students' scientific understanding of human behaviour and experience. The underlying principles, theories and concepts of psychological knowledge are applied in in areas of study that include the history and philosophy of psychology, individual differences in behaviour and personality, psychological health and well-being, psychological disorders and intervention, learning and memory, cognition, language and perception, motivation and emotion, neuroscience and the biological bases of behaviour, lifespan developmental psychology, social psychology, research methods and statistics.

The LLB provides students with professional legal skills including the ability to analyse legal material and understand fundamental legal principles; an understanding of the relationship between law and society; the skills to analyse and solve non-legal problems and specialised study into the Australian legal system.

Students in this double degree also have the opportunity to complete a semester of study overseas and receive advanced standing towards their majors, minors or Bachelor of Laws alternate units. They are encouraged to do so but must discuss this with a program advisor.

Early Exit

Students may exit this program on completion of 80 credit points with a 2827 Diploma in Laws (exit only) (https://hbook.westernsydney.edu.au/programs/diploma-laws-exit-only/)

Study Mode

Five and a half years full-time or eleven years part-time. Law subjects are available at Campbelltown and Parramatta campuses. Arts subjects are available at various campuses (mainly Parramatta, Bankstown and Penrith), depending on the subjects chosen.

Bachelor of Arts (Psychology)/ Bachelor of Laws (Honours) (2844)

Approved Abbreviation: BA(Psy)/LLB(Hons)
Western Sydney University Program Code: 2844
AQF Level: 8

CRICOS code: 108411F

This program applies to students who commenced in 2022 or later.

This program is designed for high achieving law students in the Bachelor of Arts (Psychology) /Bachelor of Laws program who wish to undertake an extended level of study and research in Law. An honours degree indicates academic excellence in a professional context and, as an Australian Qualifications Framework Level 8 (https://www.aqf.edu.au/aqf-levels/) qualification, students may also have direct entry into postgraduate programs including Masters and Doctor of Philosophy programs.

There is no direct entry into the Honours program. Entry is by application only following completion of at least 160 credit points of Law study and by meeting specified criteria (see Admission details).
As an embedded honours program, students are not required to undertake an additional period of study. Further details regarding the honours program and its requirements are available at: Honours in Law (https://www.westernsydney.edu.au/schools/sol/honours/) and School of Law Honours Guidelines (https://policies.westernsydney.edu.au/download.php?associated=1&id=498&version=4).

The Bachelor of Laws (Honours) program satisfies the academic degree requirements for admission to practice as an Australian lawyer. Students will engage in collaborative face-to-face problem and case-based learning, will be supported by online learning materials, and will participate in authentic assessment to develop knowledge and skills. The program provides students with a broad progressive legal education with a strong practical orientation to the law. Students develop skills in problem-solving, critical thinking, research, communication, collaboration, self-management, and ethical and professional awareness and judgement. Students will have the opportunity to develop skills in legal advocacy, negotiation, and legal technology and extend their professional and learning experiences through work integrated learning, clinical placement and international exchange engagements.

Study Mode

Five and a half years full-time or eleven years part-time. Law subjects are available at Campbelltown and Parramatta campuses. Arts subjects are available at various campuses (mainly Parramatta, Bankstown and Penrith), depending on the units chosen.

For Commencement Year 2016 - please refer to: 1818.1 Bachelor of Arts/Bachelor of Business (http://handbook.westernsydney.edu.au/hbook/course.aspx?course=1818.1)

This double degree program is designed for students whose interests span the Arts and Business. Study in the Bachelor of Arts component is designed to develop communication and personal skills, creativity and a capacity for independent thought, adaptability to new situations and problem-solving skills, attributes increasingly demanded by employers. This will be combined with a high level of knowledge in one of eight specific Business majors. There is a wide choice of specialisations in the Arts part of the double degree, of which students will choose two, one as a major and the other as a minor. The Business majors prepare students for professional employment in the specialisation of their choice. Students complete a major and a minor in Arts specialisations; and a Business major in one of: Applied Finance, Economics, Human Resource Management, International Business, Management, Marketing or Sport Management.

Students in this double degree also have the opportunity to complete a semester of study overseas and receive advanced standing towards their BA majors and minors subject to Western Sydney University limits on advanced standing. Students are encouraged to do so but must discuss this with a BA program advisor first.

- Director of Academic Program - Dr Charles Barbour

Study Mode

Four years full-time or eight years part-time. Students may be required to travel between campuses in order to complete their subjects,

Business subjects may, on occasion, only be available on Parramatta - Macquarie Street campus.

Bachelor of Arts/Bachelor of Creative Industries (1842)

Approved Abbreviation: BA/BCrInd
Western Sydney University Program Code: 1842
AQF Level: 7

CRICOS Code: 095720D

This program applies to students who commenced in 2021 or later.

Students should follow the program structure for the session start date relevant to the year they commenced.

For Commencement Year 2017 - 2020 - please refer to: 1842.1 Bachelor of Arts/Bachelor of Creative Industries (http://handbook.westernsydney.edu.au/hbook/course.aspx?course=1842.1)

Arts graduates who previously would have planned a career in fields such as publishing or curating now face a future where they will be required to continuously adapt and reapply their skills to changing work environments. This double degree brings together the existing Arts program with studies in emerging creative industries, allowing students who are interested in pursuing careers which require the diverse skill set of Arts graduates to also engage with new paradigms of creative and cultural production, developing skills in entrepreneurship and working in collaborative projects with creative industries in Greater Western Sydney (GWS).

Students in this double degree also have the opportunity to complete a semester of study overseas and receive advanced standing towards their BA majors and minors subject to Western Sydney University limits on advanced standing. Students are encouraged to do so but must discuss this with a BA program advisor first.

- Director of Academic Program - Dr Charles Barbour

Study Mode

Four years full-time or eight years part-time.

Bachelor of Arts/Bachelor of Laws (2537)

Approved Abbreviation: BA/LLB
Western Sydney University Program Code: 2537
AQF Level: 7

CRICOS Code: 041113G

This program applies to students who commenced in 2022 or later.

Students should follow the program structure for the session start date relevant to the year they commenced.

Commencement Year Spring 2014 to 2016 - 2537.10 Bachelor of Arts/Bachelor of Laws (http://handbook.westernsydney.edu.au/hbook/course.aspx?course=2537.10)

Commencement Year 2012 - 2537.7 Bachelor of Arts/Bachelor of Laws (http://handbook.westernsydney.edu.au/hbook/course.aspx?course=2537.7)

Commencement Years 2010 to 2011 - 2537.6 Bachelor of Arts/Bachelor of Laws (http://handbook.westernsydney.edu.au/hbook/course.aspx?course=2537.6)

The double degree program permits students to undertake multi-skilling and offers diverse career paths providing high marketability in multiple areas of expertise. The LLB provides students with professional legal skills including the ability to analyse legal material and understand fundamental legal principles; an understanding of the relationship between law and society; the skills to analyse and solve non-legal problems and specialised study into the Australian legal system.

Students in this double degree also have the opportunity to complete a semester of study overseas and receive advanced standing towards their majors, minors or Bachelor of Laws alternate subjects. They are encouraged to do so but must discuss this with a program advisor.

Early Exit

Students may exit this program on completion of 80 credit points with a 2827 Diploma in Laws (exit only) (https://hbook.westernsydney.edu.au/programs/diploma-laws-exit-only/)

Study Mode

Five years full-time or ten years part-time. Law subjects are available at Campbelltown and Parramatta campuses. Arts subjects are available at various campuses (mainly Parramatta, Bankstown and Penrith), depending on the subjects chosen.

Accreditation

Graduates from the Bachelor of Laws are eligible to apply to the Legal Profession Admission Board for admission to legal practice in NSW after undertaking prescribed practical legal training.

Inherent Requirements

There are inherent requirements for this program that you must meet in order to complete your program and graduate. Make sure you read and understand the requirements for this program online.

Inherent Requirements (https://www.westernsydney.edu.au/ir/inherent_requirements/)

Work Integrated Learning

Western Sydney University seeks to enhance student learning experiences by enabling students to engage in the culture, expectations and practices of their profession or discipline. This program includes a placement or other community-based unpaid practical experience.

There is an optional work component available in this program. Please contact the Program Advisor listed above for information.

International students should be aware that if an elective is a requirement of the program but the work itself was not registered with CRICOS, students can still complete these electives but it would be counted towards the work limitation. For more details, refer to the 'Work Integrated Learning (WIL) for international students' website.

Work Integrated Learning (WIL) for international students (https://www.westernsydney.edu.au/currentstudents/current_students/services_and_facilities/international_student_support/working_in_australia/work_integrated_learning/)

Admission

Eligibility for admission to the Bachelor of Arts/Bachelor of Laws is based on the following requirements:

- Assumed knowledge: any two units of HSC English
- Recommended studies: HSC English standard or equivalent.

Applications from Australian and New Zealand citizens and holders of permanent resident visas may be made via the Universities Admissions Centre (UAC) or directly through the Western Portal. Use the links below to apply via UAC or Western Sydney University. Applications made directly to Western Sydney do not have an application fee.

http://www.uac.edu.au/
https://westernsydney.uac.edu.au/ws/

Applicants who have undertaken studies overseas may have to provide proof of proficiency in English. Local applicants who are applying through the Universities Admissions Centre (UAC) will find details of minimum English proficiency requirements and acceptable proof on the UAC website. Local applicants applying directly to the University should also use the information provided on the UAC website.

International students currently completing an Australian Year 12 in or outside Australia, an International Baccalaureate in Australia or a New Zealand National Certificate of Educational Achievement (NCEA) level 3 must apply via UAC International.

http://www.uac.edu.au/

All other International applicants must apply directly to the University via the International Office.

International students applying to the University through the International Office can find details of minimum English proficiency requirements and acceptable proof on their website.

International Office (http://www.westernsydney.edu.au/international/)

Overseas qualifications must be deemed by the Australian Education International - National Office of Overseas Skills Recognition (AEI-NOOSR) to be equivalent to Australian qualifications in order to be considered by UAC and Western Sydney University.

Special Requirements

Students enrolling in these subjects may need to have a National Police Check and consent or prohibited employment declarations as they may be conducting their placement in circumstances where they work with minors. This would be managed on an as needs basis:

- LAWS 3074 Judicial Internship
- LAWS 4017 Access to Justice Clinic
- LAWS 3077 Legal Internship
- LAWS 4012 First Nations Peoples' Access to Justice Clinic
- LAWS 3080 Street Law Clinic
- JUST 3011 Issues in the Criminal Justice System (corrective services field trip requirement) also records and identity check.

The following subjects require a visa for the relevant country and the ability to travel at a specified time:

- LAWS 3024 Foundations of Chinese Law
- LAWS 3025 Law, Culture and Entrepreneurial Innovation in India
- LAWS 3078 Legal, Economic and Social Transformation in Taiwan

Program Structure

Qualification for a double degree in law requires the successful completion of 400 credit points including the subjects listed in the recommended sequences for the relevant double degree programs.

Students are eligible to graduate in the associated degree at the end of three years of full-time study, only when they have completed all non-law subjects plus the eight law subjects specified in the study sequence as being in the first three years of the relevant double degree.

Students enrolled in the 2537 Bachelor of Arts/Bachelor of Laws will only be eligible to graduate from their Bachelor of Laws degree upon completion of the entire 400 credit point program. Students enrolled in this program who wish to graduate with a standalone law degree prior to completion of the entire Bachelor of Arts component must transfer to program 2502 Bachelor of Laws (Non Graduate Entry) (p. 479) which requires the completion of 320 credit points (inclusive of 80 credit points of non-LLB study).

Students may exit with the Diploma in Laws (p. 750) on completion of 80 credit points, comprising 20 credit points of specified Law core subjects and 60 credit points of Law core or alternate subjects, as provided in the program structure. Please refer to the links above for details.

Arts Subjects

For details of the relevant Arts subjects, majors and minors, refer to the current listing of Bachelor of Arts (p. 98), program code 1706.

Bachelor of Arts/Bachelor of Laws students are required to complete four Level 1 Bachelor of Arts core subjects plus one of the eight-subject majors and one of the four-subject minor in the Arts degree (16 subjects, including the four level 1 Arts core subjects) together with the LLB key program (24 subjects). The double degree combination therefore consists of 40 subjects with no additional flexible subjects or choice beyond that already included within the separate Arts and Law programs.

Students must complete the four Level 1 Bachelor of Arts (BA) core subjects

LAWS 4006 International Climate Law

Bachelor of Arts/Bachelor of Laws (Honours) (2830)

Approved Abbreviation: BA/LLB(Hons)
Western Sydney University Program Code: 2830
AQF Level: 8

CRICOS code: 108409M

This program applies to students who commenced in 2022 or later.

This program is designed for high achieving law students in the Bachelor of Arts/Bachelor of Laws program who wish to undertake an extended level of study and research in Law. An honours degree indicates academic excellence in a professional context and, as an Australian Qualifications Framework Level 8 (https://www.aqf.edu.au/aqf-levels/) qualification, students may also have direct entry into postgraduate programs including Masters and Doctor of Philosophy programs.

There is no direct entry into the Honours program. Entry is by application only following completion of at least 160 credit points of Law study and by meeting specified criteria (see Admission details). As an embedded honours program, students are not required to undertake an additional period of study. Further details regarding the honours program and its requirements are available at: Honours in Law (https://www.westernsydney.edu.au/schools/sol/honours/) and School of Law Honours Guidelines (https://policies.westernsydney.edu.au/download.php?associated=1&id=498&version=4).

The Bachelor of Laws (Honours) program satisfies the academic degree requirements for admission to practice as an Australian lawyer. Students will engage in collaborative face-to-face problem and case-based learning, will be supported by online learning materials, and will participate in authentic assessment to develop knowledge and skills. The program provides students with a broad progressive legal education with a strong practical orientation to the law. Students develop skills in problem-solving, critical thinking, research, communication, collaboration, self-management, and ethical and professional awareness and judgement. Students will have the opportunity to develop skills in legal advocacy, negotiation, and legal technology and extend their professional and learning experiences through work integrated learning, clinical placement and international exchange engagements.

Study Mode

Five years full-time or ten years part-time. Law subjects are available at Campbelltown and Parramatta campuses. Arts subjects are available at various campuses (mainly Parramatta, Bankstown and Penrith), depending on the subjects chosen.

Accreditation

Graduates from the Bachelor of Laws (Honours) program are eligible to apply to the Legal Profession Admission Board for admission to legal practice in NSW after undertaking prescribed practical legal training.

Inherent Requirements

There are inherent requirements for this program that you must meet in order to complete your program and graduate. Make sure you read and understand the requirements for this program online.

Inherent requirements (http://www.westernsydney.edu.au/ir/inherent_requirements/inherent_requirements_for_law_courses/)

Work Integrated Learning

Western Sydney University seeks to enhance student learning experiences by enabling students to engage in the culture, expectations and practices of their profession or discipline. This program includes a placement or other community-based unpaid practical experience.

There is an optional work component available in this program. Please contact the Program Advisor listed above for information.

International students should be aware that if an elective is a requirement of the program but the work itself was not registered with CRICOS, students can still complete these electives but it would be counted towards the work limitation. For more details, refer to the 'Work Integrated Learning (WIL) for international students' website.

- LAWS 3078 Legal, Economic and Social Transformation in Taiwan

Program Structure

Qualification for a double degree in law requires the successful completion of 400 credit points including the subjects listed in the recommended sequences for the relevant double degree programs.

Students are eligible to graduate in the associated degree at the end of three years of full-time study, only when they have completed all non-law subjects plus the eight law subjects specified in the study sequence as being in the first three years of the relevant double degree.

Students enrolled in the 2830 Bachelor of Arts/Bachelor of Laws (Honours) will only be eligible to graduate from their Bachelor of Laws (Honours) degree upon completion of the entire 400 credit point course. Students enrolled in this course who wish to graduate with a standalone law degree prior to completion of the entire Bachelor of Arts component must transfer to course 2829 Bachelor of Laws (Non Graduate Entry) (Honours) which requires the completion of 320 credit points (inclusive of 80 credit points of non-LLB study).

Students must complete 240 credit points of Law subjects comprising:

- 160 credit points of specified core subjects to meet Priestly 11 accreditation requirements;
- 10 credit points Research Training Component (LAWS 4016 Legal Research and Methodology)
- 20 credit points Research Component (LAWS 4011 Law Honours Dissertation)
- 50 credit points of LLB alternate subjects.

Arts Subjects

For details of the relevant Arts subjects, majors and sub-majors, refer to the current listing of Bachelor of Arts (p. 98), program code 1706.

Bachelor of Arts/Bachelor of Laws (Honours) students are required to complete four Level 1 Bachelor of Arts core subjects plus one of the eight subject majors and one of the four sub-majors in the Arts degree (16 subjects, including the four level 1 Arts core subjects) together with the LLB key program (24 subjects). The double degree combination therefore consists of 40 subjects with no additional flexible subjects or choice beyond that already included within the separate Arts and Law programs.

Students must complete the four Level 1 (40 credit points) of Bachelor of Arts (BA) core subjects:

Bachelor of Arts/Bachelor of Social Science (1808)

Approved Abbreviation: BA/BSocSc
Western Sydney University Program Code: 1808
AQF Level: 7

CRICOS Code: 089201M

This program applies to students who commenced in 2020 or later.

Students should follow the program structure for the session start date relevant to the year they commenced.

Commencement Year 2017 to 2019 - 1808.2 Bachelor of Arts/Bachelor of Social Science (http://handbook.westernsydney.edu.au/hbook/course.aspx?course=1808.2)

Commencement Year 2015 to 2016 - 1808.1 Bachelor of Arts/Bachelor of Social Science (http://handbook.westernsydney.edu.au/hbook/course.aspx?course=1808.1)

This double degree program is designed for students whose interests span the Arts and Social Sciences. It will produce versatile graduates who can work across a range of academic and professional disciplines, including the opportunity to develop global perspectives and communication skills in an Asian language. In the Social Science area, students can design their own academic program within the Bachelor of Social Science program structure, which must include a Social Science Major. This qualification in Social Science is then combined with an Arts major, such as: Culture and Society; English; History and Political Thought; International Relations and Asian Studies; Islamic Studies; Philosophy; Linguistics; Indigenous Australian Studies; Arabic; Chinese; Japanese.

Students in this double degree also have the opportunity to complete a semester of study overseas and receive advanced standing towards their BA majors and minors subject to WSU limits on advanced standing. Students are encouraged to do so but must discuss this with a BA course advisor first.

- Director of Academic Program - Dr Charles Barbour

Study Mode

Four years full-time or eight years part-time.

Bachelor of Building Design Management (3727)

Approved Abbreviation: BBldgDesMgt
Western Sydney University Program Code: 3727
AQF Level: 7

CRICOS Code: 088711G

This program applies to students who commenced in 2021 or later.

Students should follow the program structure for the session start date relevant to the year they commenced.

For commencement year 2020, please refer to: 3727.2 Bachelor of Building Design Management (http://handbook.westernsydney.edu.au/hbook/course.aspx?course=3727.2)

For commencement year 2016, please refer to: 3727.1 Bachelor of Building Design Management (http://handbook.westernsydney.edu.au/hbook/course.aspx?course=3727.1)

Over four years, this program develops the skills necessary for a role in the integrated design and delivery of building projects. All aspects of building design are included: from initial design concept, extending to design brief formation, project documentation, quality control management during the building process and project handover. Students will develop an understanding of 'buildability' issues, accurate cost forecasting, risk management and sustainable project delivery. Students will also develop skills needed to work in a multi-disciplinary project team and negotiate favourable outcomes in complex project environments through simulations of real-life building projects and approved practical experiences.

There is an embedded honours stream in this program in the 4th year. Students are invited to enrol into the honours stream after consideration of certain criteria - such as GPA and overall marks in the first three years - with the opportunity to graduate with honours listed on their testamur.

Study Mode

Four years full-time or eight years part-time.

Bachelor of Business (2786)

Approved Abbreviation: BBus
Western Sydney University Program Code: 2786
AQF Level: 7

CRICOS Code: 089205G

This program applies to students who commenced in 2018 or later.

Students should follow the program structure for the session start date relevant to the year they commenced.

For commencement year 2017, please refer to: 2786.2 Bachelor of Business (http://handbook.westernsydney.edu.au/hbook/course.aspx?course=2786.2)

The Bachelor of Business harnesses your energy and passion for success. This degree gives you the knowledge to create a career as a business professional. Whether you wish to pursue a corporate role in a global enterprise or start your own business, this program will provide you with the skills to do it. The Bachelor of Business begins with four core subjects: Financing Enterprises, Enterprise Innovation and Markets, Enterprise Leadership, and Enterprise Law. These subjects provide you with the essential business knowledge that will be the platform for your career and equip you with the academic skills that will underpin your success in the degree.

You will then undertake four professional subjects. The professional subjects are where you begin to shape your future in one of three core business areas: Money, Markets or Management. By learning core business skills within the context of your chosen future you will develop new skills and enhance your employability. Subjects in the professional core will teach you to plan your career, innovate and analyse. You will also be able to explore and apply your skills and knowledge in a work-based learning subject. Through your business degree you will engage critically with the United Nations' Sustainable Development Goals through your evaluation of economic, social, and environmental enterprise and professional behaviour and your consideration of responsible business practice.

Ten industry-relevant majors have been created to equip you with expert skills across the three enterprise futures of Money, Markets and Management. The Money majors include Accounting, Applied Finance, Economics, and Property. The Markets majors are Hospitality Management, International Business, Marketing and Sport Management. Management majors are Human Resource Management and Management.

You will need flexibility to create your career. The Bachelor of Business gives you the flexibility to select eight subjects from anywhere in the University. This means that you can choose a variety of non-business subjects to gain depth and perspective on your enterprise future; you could take a major in another discipline; or you can complete a second major within Business.

Accreditation

Where the full recommended subject sequence of the major is satisfactorily completed:

- Accounting, Testamur Major (including online) is accredited with CPA Australia, Chartered Accountants Australia and New Zealand (CAANZ) and the Institute of Public Accountants (IPA). Completion of this degree will allow students to claim a number of exemptions from the Chartered Institute of Management Accountants (CIMA) in obtaining the CIMA Professional Qualification.
- Applied Finance, Testamur Major satisfies the educational requirements for membership of the Financial Services Institute of Australasia (Finsia).
- Human Resource Management, Testamur Major (including online) is accredited with the Australian Human Resources Institute (AHRI).
- Marketing, Testamur Major satisfies the requirements of accreditation of Marketing subjects in accordance with the Australian Marketing Institute's Accreditation and Endorsement Program. On completion of an AMI Accredited program graduates are eligible for special graduate membership rates and credit towards becoming a Certified Practising Marketer (CPM) in a shorter duration of time. Specifically, graduates are eligible to apply for a reduction off the minimum five (5) years industry experience required before becoming a CPM.
- Property, Testamur Major is accredited by the Australian Property Institute (API) and, depending on electives chosen, students may be eligible for API Certified Practising Valuer (CPV) certification. Students, depending on chosen electives, are also eligible for API certifications of Certified Property Practitioner, Certified Commercial Property Manager, Certified Funds Manager, Certified Asset Manager, Certified Development Practitioner and Residential Property Valuer. Details of the subjects which must be completed to meet these requirements can be found at the following web address BBusProp_API_Certification_Mapping_for_handbook_October_2023.pdf (https://hbook.westernsydney.edu.au/programs/bachelor-business/BBusProp_API_Certification_Mapping_for_handbook_October_2023.pdf)

Bachelor of Business (Pathway to Teaching Secondary) (2804)

Approved Abbreviation: BBus
Western Sydney University Program Code: 2804
AQF Level: 7

CRICOS Code: 099346M

This program applies to students who commenced in 2022 or later.

Students should follow the program structure for the session start date relevant to the year they commenced.

For commencement year 2017 - 2021, please refer to: 2804.1 Bachelor of Business (Pathway to Teaching Secondary) (http://handbook.westernsydney.edu.au/hbook/course.aspx?course=2804.1)

The Bachelor of Business (Pathway to Teaching Secondary) is a three-year undergraduate program that brings together a comprehensive foundation of business knowledge and skills to teach effectively across the full curriculum range at secondary school level. The business subjects are designed to equip students with foundation knowledge in Accounting, Marketing, Management, International Business and Economics. The education subjects are broadly structured for students to investigate and critique contemporary education issues. Students are also provided with the opportunity to study subject content subjects in either Modern History or Geography and Urban Studies, Mathematics, English, or Studies of Religion, dependent on their interests. This program leads into a Master of Teaching (Secondary), an accredited postgraduate qualification which presents opportunities for employment across Australia as well as internationally.

Study Mode

Three years full-time or six years part-time. The business subjects in this program are offered at the Parramatta City, Bankstown and Campbelltown campuses and the secondary teaching subjects are generally offered at the Parramatta South, Bankstown and Penrith campuses, or online. Students may be required to travel between campuses in order to complete this program.

Bachelor of Business/Bachelor of Laws (2788)

Approved Abbreviation: BBus/LLB
Western Sydney University Program Code: 2788
AQF Level: 7

CRICOS Code: 089215E

This program applies to students who commenced in 2022 or later.

Students should follow the program structure for the session start date relevant to the year they commenced.

Commencement Year 2017 - 2788.2 Bachelor of Business/Bachelor of Laws (http://handbook.westernsydney.edu.au/hbook/course.aspx?course=2788.2)

The program couples highly sought after qualifications in law and business. Students develop professional legal skills, including the ability to analyse and interpret legal material, understand fundamental legal principles, the relationship between law and society, and solve non-legal problems. Students can tailor study for career paths in a variety of local and international law fields.

The program meets the undergraduate academic requirements for admission to legal practice through the Legal Profession Admission Board. Depending on the Business major selected, employment possibilities are available in areas including accounting, taxation, economics, banking and finance, industrial relations, management, government, policy and governance, marketing and property. Graduates may pursue further specialised study.

Early Exit

Students may exit this program on completion of 80 credit points with a 2827 Diploma in Laws (exit only) (https://hbook.westernsydney.edu.au/programs/diploma-laws-exit-only/)

Study Mode

Five years full-time or ten years part-time. Students may be required to travel between campuses in order to complete their subjects.

Inherent Requirements

There are inherent requirements for this program that you must meet in order to complete your program and graduate. Make sure you read and understand the requirements for this program online.

Inherent Requirements (https://www.westernsydney.edu.au/ir/inherent_requirements/)

Work Integrated Learning

Western Sydney University seeks to enhance student learning experiences by enabling students to engage in the culture, expectations and practices of their profession or discipline. This program includes a placement or other community-based unpaid practical experience.

There is an optional work component available in this program. Please contact the Program Advisor listed above for information.

International students should be aware that if an elective is a requirement of the program but the work itself was not registered with CRICOS, students can still complete these electives but it would be counted towards the work limitation. For more details, refer to the 'Work Integrated Learning (WIL) for international students' website.

- LAWS 3078 Legal, Economic and Social Transformation in Taiwan

Program Structure

Qualification for the Bachelor of Business/Bachelor of Laws requires satisfactory completion of 400 credit points as per the following program sequence which includes:

- 160 credit points of specified Bachelor of Laws core subjects.
- 80 credit points of subjects chosen from the pool of Bachelor of Laws alternate subjects (note that students wishing for accounting accreditation must choose and complete the LLB alternate subject LAWS 4008 Revenue Law).
- 150 credit points of business subjects including:
  - 30 credit points compulsory core subjects: (excluding LAWS 1001 Enterprise Law);
  - 40 credit points selected to prepare you for careers in business (Professional subjects); and
  - 80 credit points of business subjects for the selected major.
- 10 credit points of any elective subject from across the University (excluding LAWS 1001 Enterprise Law, LAWS 2010 Law of Business Organisations, LAWS 3070 Taxation Law and any other inter-disciplinary law subject offered by the School of Law).

Please note that BBus/LLB students can complete an elective subject from any School across the University in place of the Business core subject LAWS 1001 Enterprise Law (excluding LAWS 1001 Enterprise Law, LAWS 2010 Law of Business Organisations, LAWS 3070 Taxation Law and any other inter-disciplinary law subject offered by the School of Law). Enrolment in elective subjects is subject to availability and meeting rules for individual subjects (for example co-requisite and pre-requisite rules).

Students enrolled in the 2788 Bachelor of Business/Bachelor of Laws will only be eligible to graduate from their Bachelor of Laws degree upon completion of the entire 400 credit point program. Students enrolled in this program who wish to graduate with a standalone law degree prior to completion of the entire Bachelor of Business component must transfer to program 2502 Bachelor of Laws (Non Graduate Entry) which requires the completion of 320 credit points (inclusive of 80 credit points of non-LLB study).

Students may exit with the Diploma in Laws on completion of 80 credit points, comprising 20 credit points of specified Law core subjects and 60 credit points of Law core or alternate subjects, as provided in the program structure. Please refer to the links below for details.

2827- Diploma in Laws (p. 750)

Students should refer to the Bachelor of Business handbook entry and the handbook entry for the Business Major for details of the Bachelor of Business Core subjects, Professional subjects and the Major subjects.

2786 Bachelor of Business (p. 158)

Business Major

Students in the Bachelor of Business/Bachelor of Laws (BBus/LLB) degree must select a Bachelor of Business major and complete all subjects of that major.

The majors are

Accounting, Testamur Major (T046) (p. 1265)
Applied Finance, Testamur Major (T038) (p. 1301)
Business Analytics, Testamur Major (T130) (p. 1324)
Economics, Testamur Major (T039) (p. 1407)
Human Resource Management, Testamur Major (T041) (p. 1502)
International Business, Testamur Major (T042) (p. 1524)
Management, Testamur Major (T043) (p. 1543)
Marketing, Testamur Major (T044) (p. 1548)
Property, Testamur Major (T047) (p. 1613)
Sport Management, Testamur Major (T045) (p. 1675)

Please note Business Analytics is a new major commencing from 2022.

Replaced Testamur Major

The Testamur Major listed below counts towards completion of this Program for students who began studying this major in 2021 or earlier.

MT2035 Hospitality Management, Testamur Major (http://handbook.westernsydney.edu.au/hbook/specialisation.aspx?unitset=MT2035.1) - no longer available from mid year 2021
MT2027 Marketing, Testamur Major (http://handbook.westernsydney.edu.au/hbook/specialisation.aspx?unitset=MT2027.1), replaced by Marketing, Testamur Major in 2022 (listed under the Major heading above)

Note to students who choose the Accounting major

Students in the Accounting major are advised to complete subject LAWS 4008 Revenue Law as one of their eight LLB alternate subjects. Students who do not complete LAWS 4008 Revenue Law as part of their law degree will be required to complete this subject or LAWS 3070

Taxation Law separately. LAWS 3070 Taxation Law cannot count towards the requirements of the law degree.

Students in the Accounting major should also note that in order to achieve accreditation with CPA Australia (CPA), Chartered Accountants Australia and New Zealand (CAANZ) and the Institute of Public Accountants (IPA), they will need to complete one additional subject (10 credit points) over and above the 400 credit points of this program. This means that students who wish to achieve accreditation will also need to complete ACCT 2001 Contemporary Management Accounting.

Please note that students who early exit from the double degree without completing all the requirements of the law degree and who seek to achieve accreditation with CPA Australia (CPA), Chartered Accountants Australia and New Zealand (CAANZ) and the Institute of Public Accountants (IPA), must in addition to completing their business subjects and the first eight law subjects also complete LAWS 3045 Law of Associations (or LAWS 2010 Law of Business Organisations) and LAWS 4008 Revenue Law (or LAWS 3070 Taxation Law). Students who later resume the law degree component of the program cannot count LAWS 2010 Law of Business Organisations or LAWS 3070 Taxation Law towards their law degree.

Note to students who choose the Property major

The Bachelor of Business (Property) is accredited by the Australian Property Institute (API) and, depending on electives chosen, students may be eligible for API Certified Practising Valuer (CPV) certification. Students, depending on chosen electives, are also eligible for Australian Property Institute (API) certifications of Certified Property Practitioner, Certified Property Manager, Certified Funds Manager, Certified Asset Manager and Certified Development Practitioner. Students in the Property major should note that in order to achieve accreditation with the Australian Property Institute (API), they will need to complete an additional two subjects (20 credit points) over and above the 400 credit points of this program. This means that students who wish to achieve accreditation must also complete MGMT 3004 Statutory Valuation and BLDG 1011 Property Building.

Elective Subjects

Please note that BBus/LLB students can complete an elective subject from any School across the University in place of the Business core subject LAWS 1001 Enterprise Law (excluding LAWS 1001 Enterprise Law, LAWS 2010 Law of Business Organisations, LAWS 3070 Taxation Law and any other inter-disciplinary law subject offered by the School of Law). Enrolment in elective subjects is subject to availability and meeting rules for individual subjects (for example co-requisite and pre-requisite rules).

Early Exit from the Program

Early exit with program 2786 Bachelor of Business is possible upon satisfactory completion of: 80 credit points of law subjects i.e. the first eight law subjects as specified in the program sequence; 150 credit points of business subjects; and 10 credit points of an elective. This can be achieved in the equivalent of three years full time study.

Students will only be eligible to graduate with a Bachelor of Laws on completion of the entire 400 credit point program. Students are not accredited to complete a law degree as part of the program. Should enrolled students in this program wish to pursue a standalone law degree they must transfer out of this program to program 2502 Bachelor of Laws (Non Graduate Entry). However, such a transfer to program 2502 Bachelor of Laws (Non Graduate Entry) is not the same as an “early exit”.

Planning study - It may be possible to vary the sequence of subjects so that students study a greater concentration of either law or business study each semester, to minimise travel between campuses and to overcome timetabling problems. Students should speak to their Academic Program Advisor as needed.

Bachelor of Business/Bachelor of Laws (Honours) (2840)

Approved Abbreviation: BBus/LLB(Hons)
Western Sydney University Program Code: 2840
AQF Level: 8

CRICOS code: 108430C

This program applies to students who commenced in 2022

This program is designed for high achieving law students in the Bachelor of Business/Bachelor of Laws program who wish to undertake an extended level of study and research in Law. An honours degree indicates academic excellence in a professional context and, as an Australian Qualifications Framework Level 8 (https://www.aqf.edu.au/aqf-levels/) qualification, students may also have direct entry into postgraduate programs including Masters and Doctor of Philosophy programs.

There is no direct entry into the Honours program. Entry is by application only following completion of at least 160 credit points of Law study and by meeting specified criteria (see Admission details). As an embedded honours program, students are not required to undertake an additional period of study. Further details regarding the honours program and its requirements are available at: Honours in Law (https://www.westernsydney.edu.au/schools/sol/honours/) and School of Law Honours Guidelines (https://policies.westernsydney.edu.au/download.php?associated=1&id=498&version=4).

The Bachelor of Laws (Honours) program satisfies the academic degree requirements for admission to practice as an Australian lawyer. Students will engage in collaborative face-to-face problem and case-based learning, will be supported by online learning materials, and will participate in authentic assessment to develop knowledge and skills. The program provides students with a broad progressive legal education with a strong practical orientation to the law. Students develop skills in problem-solving, critical thinking, research, communication, collaboration, self-management, and ethical and professional awareness and judgement. Students will have the opportunity to develop skills in legal advocacy, negotiation, and legal technology and extend their professional and learning experiences through work integrated learning, clinical placement and international exchange engagements.

Study Mode

Five years full-time or ten years part-time. Students may be required to travel between campuses in order to complete their subjects.

Inherent Requirements

Inherent Requirements

There are inherent requirements for this program that you must meet in order to complete your program and graduate. Make sure you read and understand the requirements for this program online.

Inherent requirements for the Bachelor of Laws are published at: https://www.westernsydney.edu.au/ir/inherent_requirements/inherent_requirements_for_law_courses (https://www.westernsydney.edu.au/ir/inherent_requirements/inherent_requirements_for_law_courses/)

The School of Business has developed a set of Inherent Requirements for the discipline of Accounting as part of a university–wide pilot. These requirements are available at: https://www.westernsydney.edu.au/ir/inherent_requirements/inherent_requirements_for_accounting_courses (https://www.westernsydney.edu.au/ir/inherent_requirements/inherent_requirements_for_accounting_courses/)

Work Integrated Learning

Western Sydney University seeks to enhance student learning experiences by enabling students to engage in the culture, expectations and practices of their profession or discipline. This program includes a placement or other community-based unpaid practical experience.

There is an optional work component available in this program. Please contact the Program Advisor listed above for information.

International students should be aware that if an elective is a requirement of the program but the work itself was not registered with CRICOS, students can still complete these electives but it would be counted towards the work limitation. For more details, refer to the 'Work Integrated Learning (WIL) for international students' website.

- LAWS 4017 Access to Justice Clinic
- LAWS 3074 Judicial Internship
- LAWS 3077 Legal Internship
- LAWS 4012 First Nations Peoples' Access to Justice Clinic
- LAWS 3080 Street Law Clinic
- JUST 3011 Issues in the Criminal Justice System (corrective services field trip requirement)- Also records and identity check.

The following units require a visa for the relevant country and the ability to travel at a specified time:

- LAWS 3024 Foundations of Chinese Law
- LAWS 3025 Foundations of Indian Law
- LAWS 3078 Legal, Economic and Social Transformation in Taiwan

Program Structure

Qualification for the Bachelor of Business/Bachelor of Laws (Honours) requires satisfactory completion of 400 credit points as per the following program sequence which includes:

240 credit points of Law subjects comprising:

- 160 credit points of specified core subjects to meet Priestly 11 accreditation requirements:
- 10 credit points Research Training Component (LAWS 4016 Legal Research and Methodology)
- 20 credit points Research Component (LAWS 4011 Law Honours Dissertation)
- 50 credit points of LLB alternate subjects. (Note that students wishing for accounting accreditation must choose and complete the LLB Alternate subject LAWS 4008 Revenue Law).

150 credit points of business subjects including:

- 30 credit points compulsory core subjects: (excluding LAWS 1001 Enterprise Law);
- 40 credit points selected to prepare you for careers in business (Professional subjects); and
- 80 credit points of business subjects for the selected major.

10 credit points of any elective subject from across the University (excluding LAWS 1001 Enterprise Law, LAWS 2010 Law of Business Organisations, LAWS 3070 Taxation Law and any other inter-disciplinary law subject offered by the School of Law).

Please note that Bachelor of Business/Bachelor of Laws (Honours) students can complete a elective subject from any School across the University in place of the Business core subject LAWS 1001 Enterprise Law (excluding LAWS 1001 Enterprise Law, LAWS 2010 Law of Business Organisations, LAWS 3070 Taxation Law and any other inter-disciplinary law subject offered by the School of Law). Enrolment in elective subjects is subject to availability and meeting rules for individual subjects (for example co-requisite and pre-requisite rules).

Students enrolled in the 2840 Bachelor of Business/Bachelor of Laws (Honours) will only be eligible to graduate from their Bachelor of Laws (Honours) degree upon completion of the entire 400 credit point program. Students enrolled in this program who wish to graduate with a standalone law degree prior to completion of the entire Bachelor of Business component must transfer to program 2829 Bachelor of Laws (Non Graduate Entry) (Honours) which requires the completion of 320 credit points (inclusive of 80 credit points of non-LLB study).

Students should refer to the 2786 Bachelor of Business (p. 158) handbook entry and the handbook entry for the Business Major for details of the Bachelor of Business Core subjects, Professional subjects and the Major subjects.

Business Major

Students in the Bachelor of Business/Bachelor of Laws (Honours) degree must select a Bachelor of Business major and complete all subjects of that major.

Accounting, Testamur Major (T046) (p. 1265)
Applied Finance, Testamur Major (T038) (p. 1301)
Business Analytics, Testamur Major (T130) (p. 1324)
Economics, Testamur Major (T039) (p. 1407)

Human Resource Management, Testamur Major (T041) (p. 1502)
International Business, Testamur Major (T042) (p. 1524)
Management, Testamur Major (T043) (p. 1543)
Marketing, Testamur Major (T044) (p. 1548)
Property, Testamur Major (T047) (p. 1613)
Sport Management, Testamur Major (T045) (p. 1675)

Note to students who choose the Accounting major: Students in the Accounting major are advised to complete subject LAWS 4008 Revenue Law as one of their five LLB alternate subjects. Students who do not complete LAWS 4008 Revenue Law as part of their law degree will be required to complete this subject or LAWS 3070 Taxation Law separately. LAWS 3070 Taxation Law cannot count towards the requirements of the law degree.

Students in the Accounting major should also note that in order to achieve accreditation with CPA Australia (CPA), Chartered Accountants Australia and New Zealand (CAANZ) and the Institute of Public Accountants (IPA), they will need to complete one additional subject (10 credit points) over and above the 400 credit points of this program. This means that students who wish to achieve accreditation will also need to complete ACCT 2001 Contemporary Management Accounting

Please note that students who early exit from the double degree without completing all the requirements of the law degree and who seek to achieve accreditation with CPA Australia (CPA), Chartered Accountants Australia and New Zealand (CAANZ) and the Institute of Public Accountants (IPA), must in addition to completing their business subjects and the first eight law subjects also complete LAWS 3045 Law of Associations (or LAWS 2010 Law of Business Organisations) AND LAWS 4008 Revenue Law (or LAWS 3070 Taxation Law). Students who later resume the law degree component of the program cannot count LAWS 2010 Law of Business Organisations or LAWS 3070 Taxation Law towards their law degree.

Note to students who choose the Property major: The Bachelor of Business (Property) is accredited by the Australian Property Institute (API) and, depending on flexible subjects chosen, students may be eligible for API Certified Practising Valuer (CPV) certification. Students, depending on chosen flexible subjects, are also eligible for Australian Property Institute (API) certifications of Certified Property Practitioner, Certified Property Manager, Certified Funds Manager, Certified Asset Manager and Certified Development Practitioner. Students in the Property major should note that in order to achieve accreditation with the Australian Property Institute (API), they will need to complete an additional two subjects (20 credit points) over and above the 400 credit points of this program. This means that students who wish to achieve accreditation must also complete MGMT 3004 Statutory Valuation and BLDG 1011 Property Building

Students can complete an elective subject from any School across the University in place of the Business core subject LAWS 1001 Enterprise Law (excluding LAWS 1001 Enterprise Law LAWS 2010 Law of Business Organisations, LAWS 3070 Taxation Law and any other inter-disciplinary law subject offered by the School of Law). Enrolment in elective subjects is subject to availability and meeting rules for individual subjects (for example co-requisite and pre-requisite rules).

Early Exit from the Program

Early exit with program 2786 Bachelor of Business (p. 158) is possible upon satisfactory completion of: 80 credit points of law subjects i.e. the first eight law subjects as specified in the program sequence; 150 credit points of business subjects; and 10 credit points of an elective subject. This can be achieved in the equivalent of three years full time study.

Students will only be eligible to graduate with a Bachelor of Laws (Honours) on completion of the entire 400 credit point program. Students are not accredited to complete a law degree as part of the program. Should enrolled students in this program wish to pursue a standalone law degree they must transfer out of this program to program 2829 Bachelor of Laws (Non Graduate Entry) (Honours). However, such a transfer to program 2829 is not the same as an "early exit".

Planning study

It may be possible to vary the sequence of subjects so that students study a greater concentration of either law or business study each semester, to minimise travel between campuses and to overcome timetabling problems. Students should speak to their Academic Program Advisor as needed.

Bachelor of Clinical Science (Medicine) / Doctor of Medicine (MD) (4758)

Approved Abbreviation: MD
Western Sydney University Program Code: 4758
AQF Level: 9

CRICOS Code: 097592B

This program applies to students who commenced in 2022 or later.

Students should follow the program structure for the session start date relevant to the year they commenced.

For commencement Year 2019 - please refer to 4758.1 - Doctor of Medicine (http://handbook.westernsydney.edu.au/hbook/course.aspx?course=4758.2)

For Commencement Year 2018 - please refer to 4641.7 Bachelor of Medicine, Bachelor of Surgery (http://handbook.westernsydney.edu.au/hbook/course.aspx?course=4641.7)

The Doctor of Medicine (MD) prepares you to be a doctor who can work safely, competently and effectively across the continuum of medical practice and to enter training in any medical specialty. You will learn through experience and immersion in a broad range of hospital and community-based services throughout the five-year program. From the first weeks, you will learn from real patients, supported by small group collaborative learning at the bedside and on campus. In the first two years, you will learn to apply the biomedical sciences to clinical problems, acquire and practice clinical and research skills. With guidance, you will build your personal learning journey by creating a portfolio of evidence of your learning. After second year, students with a passion for research may choose to do an additional year to gain the Bachelor of Medical Research. In the third year, you will extend and apply your knowledge and practical skills in full-time clinical and community placements and commence a significant project, and complete the requirements for the Bachelor of Clinical Science (Medicine). In the fourth and final years, you will build your clinical experience through placements in speciality and subspecialty medicine, ranging from major metropolitan hospitals to general practices and Aboriginal medical services in rural and remote areas. During this final phase, you will complete your project and portfolio to graduate with Doctor of Medicine and a Bachelor of Clinical Science (Medicine).

Early Exit

Students may exit this program on completion of 240 credit points with a 4759 Bachelor of Clinical Science (Medicine) (exit only) (https://hbook.westernsydney.edu.au/programs/bachelor-clinical-science-medicine-exit-only/)

Work Integrated Learning (WIL) for international students (https://www.westernsydney.edu.au/currentstudents/current_students/services_and_facilities/international_student_support/working_in_australia/work_integrated_learning/)

AMC accreditation standards require that medical programs provide minimum of clinical placement hours to ensure graduate readiness for supervised medical practice. The current Western Sydney MD meets and exceeds these requirements as well as offering community engaged experiences in GWS community services and in Aboriginal Medical Services across NSW. The MD will provide the same number of weeks and hours in clinical and community placements, and in addition, scaffold and integrate this learning through the use of a longitudinal Professional Portfolio.

Quality of supervision, including workplace-based teaching, supervision of informal learning and assessment are also mandated by AMC accreditation standards. The MD procedures and policies are regularly reviewed, and improved where necessary. Some of these arrangements include:

(1) Clinical School staff in each major clinical school site to make direct contact with and liaise with health service management and clinical supervisors on the ground

(2) Targeted recruitment and selection of clinical placements and supervisors, ongoing support and training through strategies such as face to face workshops and forums, and recognition through conjoint appointments and teaching awards

(3) Regular distribution of information about curriculum requirements and use of common assessment tools, assessor calibration and training resources

(4) Collection and analysis of evaluation data from students and teachers, implementation of improvements where necessary

(5) Collection and comparison of assessment data across teaching sites and student cohorts

(6) Regular meetings and communication between the School leadership and curriculum coordinators, health and community service leadership and managers, formal contractual arrangements

Admission

There are multiple entry pathways to the MD program.

Prospective applicants are directed to the School of Medicine webpage to determine appropriate entry category and pathway.

Criteria 3 - Interview

The interview will take the format of a Multi-station Mini Interview (MMI). Applicants invited to interview are asked a series of questions; each question is asked by a separate interviewer in a separate interview station. Interview places are reserved for Western Sydney and Rural background applicants.

Applicants with current or previous university study

Applicants with current or previous university study will be assessed on their GPA. Applicants who have attempted or completed more than one tertiary qualification will be assessed based on the qualification with the highest GPA (minimum of 4 subjects or one semester equivalent full-time).

No deferrals will be accepted for this course.

Additional Information

Applications from Australian and New Zealand citizens and holders of permanent resident visas may be made via the Universities Admissions Centre (UAC) or directly through the Western Portal. Use the links below to apply via UAC or Western Sydney University. Applications made directly to Western Sydney do not have an application fee.

http://www.uac.edu.au/
https://westernsydney.uac.edu.au/ws/

Applicants who have undertaken studies overseas may have to provide proof of proficiency in English. Local applicants who are applying through the Universities Admissions Centre (UAC) will find details of minimum English proficiency requirements and acceptable proof on the UAC website. Local applicants applying directly to the University should also use the information provided on the UAC website.

International students currently completing an Australian Year 12 in or outside Australia, an International Baccalaureate in Australia or a New Zealand National Certificate of Educational Achievement (NCEA) level 3 must apply via UAC International.

http://www.uac.edu.au/

All other International applicants must apply directly to the University via the International Office.

International students applying to the University through the International Office can find details of minimum English proficiency requirements and acceptable proof on their website.

International Office (http://www.westernsydney.edu.au/international/)

Overseas qualifications must be deemed by the Australian Education International - National Office of Overseas Skills Recognition (AEI-NOOSR) to be equivalent to Australian qualifications in order to be considered by UAC and Western Sydney University.

Special Requirements Prerequisites

Students are required to obtain and provide all necessary documentation to be verified by NSW ClinConnect. This verification is a requirement of the NSW Health Department for all students enrolled in medical programs. If a student fails to produce this documentation to ClinConnect they will not be able to attend hospital and health service teaching sessions, and placements. Attendance is a mandatory requirement of the program to ensure that professional competencies are met. Failure to attend will result in a 'CF' (Compulsory Fail) of the subject. Documents that must be provided to ClinConnect are:

1. National Police Certificate;
2. Adult Health Immunisation Schedule;
3. Code of Conduct Agreement.

Students must also meet the inherent requirements of the program as outlined in the University of Western Sydney Inherent Requirements for Medicine:
(https://www.westernsydney.edu.au/ir/inherent_requirements/inherent_requirements_for_medicine_courses (https://www.westernsydney.edu.au/ir/inherent_requirements/inherent_requirements_for_medicine_courses/)).

Inherent requirements are personal capabilities which are essential for achieving the learning outcomes of the Program or Subject in a way that will preserve the integrity of the University's teaching, learning and assessment standards and the accreditation requirements for the program.

The Disability Education Standard, Section 3.4 (3) states: "In assessing whether an adjustment to the course, subject of the course or program in which the student is enrolled, or proposes to be enrolled, is reasonable, the provider is entitled to maintain the academic requirements of the course or program, and other requirements or components that are inherent in or essential to its nature. Note: In providing for students with disabilities, a provider may continue to ensure the integrity of its courses or programs and assessment requirements and processes, so that those on whom it confers an award can present themselves as having the appropriate knowledge, experience and expertise implicit in the holding of that particular award."

Essential Equipment:

1. Stethoscope;
2. Pencil torch;
3. White laboratory coat;
4. Watch (with a second hand or display).

This is a guide for domestic applicants only and the University reserves the right to ascertain your equivalent score. These criteria are reviewed annually, and the criteria published on 1 October each year will apply to your application.

Criteria 3 — Aptitude test

Applicant must submit an ISAT score of 160* with a minimum score of 50% in each section. The International Student Admission Test (ISAT) is a general aptitude test which measures critical reasoning and quantitative reasoning. It is a 3-hour test which is delivered at test centres around the world. Testing is available in pre-determined test cycles.
For further information about ISAT, to locate a test centre and to register for the test, visit the Australian Council for Educational Research (ACER) Opens in new window website.
No deferrals will be accepted for this program.

Criteria 4 - Interview
Panel Interview:
International Admissions will schedule interviews for applicants who meet the eligibility criteria above, based on agreed timings with the School.
Interview format:
- International UAC applicants will be interviewed after ATAR results are released in December, to be eligible to receive offer letters in the first January offer round.
- The interview panel will consist of staff members from the School of Medicine.
- On completion of interviews, panel members will review each applicant and decide if an offer is to be made or declined.
- Borderline (non-International UAC) applicants will be placed on a waitlist and will be reviewed in October if quota places are not filled for that intake.

Commencement Year 2012 - 1696.1 Bachelor of Communication (http://handbook.westernsydney.edu.au/hbook/course.aspx?course=1696.1)

The Bachelor of Communication is designed to develop students' critical capacity and communication skills. Students will gain a deep understanding of media's influence on the world, grow their professional skills and research abilities, and master legal and ethical storytelling. Majors include Journalism, Advertising and Public Relations, and students can choose from a large selection of minors. The first year of study covers important communication theory and data storytelling, providing an understanding of communication practices, industries and disciplines. Second and third year allow students to focus on their chosen major and minor/s. Learning takes place in the classroom and in the field, with award-winning university teachers with specialised knowledge and expert industry partners. There are also opportunities for students to enhance their skills with internships, industry meet-and-greets and international study and travel.

- Director of Academic Program - Dr Nicole Bridges

Bachelor of Communication (Dean's Scholars) (1736)

Approved Abbreviation: BComm(DeansSchol)
Western Sydney University Program Code: 1736
AQF Level: 7

This program applies to students who commenced in 2017 or later.

Students should follow the program structure for the session start date relevant to the year they commenced.

Commencement Year 2015-2016 - 1736.1 Bachelor of Communication (Dean's Scholars) (http://handbook.westernsydney.edu.au/hbook/course.aspx?course=1736.1)

The Bachelor of Communication (Dean's Scholars) encompasses a range of studies in the fields of communication, media and design including specialised studies in the major fields of Advertising, Journalism, Public Relations and Media Arts Production. Teaching includes both theory and practice with reference to real world contexts highlighting future career opportunities in a convergent digital media world. Through classwork, independent study and engagement with the multicultural nature of our communities, students develop an understanding of the local and international relevance of their chosen studies, with opportunities to develop and produce a range of media outcomes as applied research and professional projects throughout their studies. Through self-directed, team-based and problem-based learning strategies requiring active participation in the community and professional contexts, graduates learn to reflect and value ethical and intellectual conduct as well as respect for diversity and social justice principles.

This degree is exclusively for high-achieving students, and will continually challenge you to do even better and build on your academic success.

- Director of Academic Program - Dr Nicole Bridges

Study Mode

Three years full-time or six years part-time.

Accreditation

The Bachelor of Communication (Dean's Scholars) is accredited by professional organisations including the Public Relations Institute of Australia (PRIA) and the Media Foundation of Australia (MFA).

Work Integrated Learning

Western Sydney University seeks to enhance student learning experiences by enabling students to engage in the culture, expectations and practices of their profession or discipline. This program includes a placement or other community-based unpaid practical experience.

There is a mandatory work component required for completion of this program. Please contact the Program Advisor listed above for information.

Admission

From Autumn 2024, there will be no further admissions into this program.

Students are admitted on the basis of their ATAR score. ATAR score of at least 90 required.

Applications from Australian and New Zealand citizens and holders of permanent resident visas must be made via the Universities Admissions Centre (UAC). Use the links below to apply via UAC or Western Sydney University. Applications made directly to Western Sydney do not have an application fee.

Applicants who have undertaken studies overseas may have to provide proof of proficiency in English. Local and International applicants who are applying through the Universities Admissions Centre (UAC) will find details of minimum English proficiency requirements and acceptable proof on the UAC website. Local applicants applying directly to the University should also use the information provided on the UAC website.

Bachelor of Communication / Bachelor of International Studies (1932)

Western Sydney University Program Code: 1932
AQF Level: 7

CRICOS Code: 114850K

This program applies to students who commenced in 2024 or later.

This double degree permits students to undertake multi-skilling into two diverse career paths, providing enhanced marketability into multiple areas of expertise.

The Bachelor of International Studies examines the relationships of politics, nations, societies, cultures, and history across a range of countries. Students will analyse national and global issues, focusing on the way global forces and interactions increasingly influence domestic politics. It will also address the most important challenges that the world's communities face including climate change; religion, peace and conflict; the rich-poor gap; and sustainability. International Studies is an interdisciplinary field drawing on politics, economics, sociology, and history. Students will apply their knowledge and skills to real life scenarios through core subjects and the major in Global Politics and International Relations.
The Bachelor of Communication encompasses a wide range of subjects in the field of communication with a core program of media studies, practice and theory, and specialised Major sequences in advertising, journalism and public relations.

Students will also have opportunities to enhance their skills and knowledge through internships, volunteering and international study and travel.

Bachelor of Communication/ Bachelor of Business (1819)

Approved Abbreviation: BComm/BBus
Western Sydney University Program Code: 1819
AQF Level: 7

CRICOS Code: 089211J

This program applies to students who commenced in 2018 or later.

Students should follow the program structure for the session start date relevant to the year they commenced.

For Commencement Year 2017 - please refer to: 1819.2 Bachelor of Communication/Bachelor of Business (http://handbook.westernsydney.edu.au/hbook/course.aspx?course=1819.2)

For Commencement Year 2016 - please refer to: 1819.1 Bachelor of Communication/Bachelor of Business (http://handbook.westernsydney.edu.au/hbook/course.aspx?course=1819.1)

The Bachelor of Communication / Bachelor of Business encompasses a range of studies in the fields of communication, media and business including specialised studies in the major fields of Advertising or Public Relations, combined with the business disciplines of Applied Finance, Economics, Human Resource Management, International Business, Management, Marketing, Sport Management or Business Analytics. Teaching includes both theory and practice with reference to real world contexts highlighting future career opportunities in a convergent digital media and business world, including a good understanding of basic business issues complemented by a high level of knowledge relevant to the specific discipline. Through classwork, independent study and engagement with the multicultural nature of our communities, students develop an understanding of the local and international relevance of their chosen studies, with opportunities to develop and produce a range of media outcomes as applied research and professional projects throughout their studies. Students complete a capstone unit in engaged learning that equips them as 'business ready' in terms of dealing with real world business issues and problems and generating real world business solutions. Through self-directed, team-based and problem-based learning strategies requiring active participation in the community and professional contexts, graduates learn to reflect and value ethical and intellectual conduct as well as respect for diversity and social justice principles.

- Director of Academic Program - Dr Nicole Bridges

Study Mode

Four years full-time or eight years part-time. Students may be required to travel between campuses in order to complete their subjects, Business subjects may, on occasion, only be available on Parramatta - Macquarie Street campus.

Bachelor of Communication/ Bachelor of Creative Industries (1840)

Approved Abbreviation: BComm/BCrInd
Western Sydney University Program Code: 1840
AQF Level: 7

CRICOS Code: 095718J

This program applies to students who commenced in 2021 or later.

Students should follow the program structure for the session start date relevant to the year they commenced.

For Commencement Year 2017 - 2020 - please refer to: 1840.1 Bachelor of Communication/Bachelor of Creative Industries (http://handbook.westernsydney.edu.au/hbook/course.aspx?course=1840.1)

Communication graduates who previously would have planned a career in media, public relations, journalism or advertising companies now face a future where they will be required to continuously adapt and reapply their skills to changing work environments. This double degree brings together the existing Communication program with studies that explore emerging creative industries and allows students who are interested in pursuing communications careers, to also engage with new paradigms of creative and cultural production, developing skills in entrepreneurship and working in collaborative projects with creative industries in Greater Western Sydney (GWS).

- Director of Academic Program - Dr Nicole Bridges

Study Mode

This double degree permits students to undertake multi-skilling into two diverse career paths, providing enhanced marketability into multiple areas of expertise.

The Bachelor of International Studies examines the relationships of societies, cultures, languages and systems of government within the international system. It develops students' capacity to analyse the historical development of relations among nation states and contemporary political, social and cultural issues, such as globalisation, transnationalism and migration. Students complete a major in International Relations and Asian Studies and a minor in Arabic, Chinese or Japanese.

The Bachelor of Communication encompasses a wide range of subjects in the field of communication with a core program of media studies, practice and theory, and specialised Major sequences in Advertising, Journalism, Screen Media and Public Relations.

Students in this double degree also have the opportunity to extend their combined studies through a semester studying abroad. In addition, students complete an internship in their Communications Major.

Students in this double degree also have the opportunity to complete a semester of study overseas and receive advanced standing towards their majors and minors subject to Western Sydney University limits on advanced standing. Students are encouraged to do so but must discuss this with their program advisor first.

Accreditation

Graduates from the Bachelor of Laws are eligible to apply to the Legal Profession Admission Board for admission to legal practice in NSW after undertaking prescribed practical legal training. The Bachelor of Communication is accredited with the International Advertising Association (IAA), the Public Relations Institute of Australia (PRIA) and the Media Federation of Australia (MFA).

Inherent Requirements

There are inherent requirements for this program that you must meet in order to complete your program and graduate. Make sure you read and understand the requirements for this program online.

Inherent requirements (https://www.westernsydney.edu.au/ir/inherent_requirements/)

Work Integrated Learning

Western Sydney University seeks to enhance student learning experiences by enabling students to engage in the culture, expectations and practices of their profession or discipline. This program includes a placement or other community-based unpaid practical experience.

There is an optional work component available in this program. Please contact the Program Advisor listed above for information.

International students should be aware that if an elective is a requirement of the program but the work itself was not registered with CRICOS, students can still complete these electives but it would be counted towards the work limitation. For more details, refer to the 'Work Integrated Learning (WIL) for international students' website.

Admission

Eligibility for admission to the Bachelor of Communication Studies/Bachelor of Laws is based on the following requirements:

Assumed knowledge: any 2 units of HSC English

Recommended studies: HSC English standard or equivalent

Applications from Australian and New Zealand citizens and holders of permanent resident visas may be made via the Universities Admissions Centre (UAC) or directly through the Western Portal. Use the links below to apply via UAC or Western Sydney University. Applications made directly to Western Sydney do not have an application fee.

http://www.uac.edu.au/
https://westernsydney.uac.edu.au/ws/

Applicants who have undertaken studies overseas may have to provide proof of proficiency in English. Local applicants who are applying through the Universities Admissions Centre (UAC) will find details of minimum English proficiency requirements and acceptable proof on the UAC website. Local applicants applying directly to the University should also use the information provided on the UAC website.

International students currently completing an Australian Year 12 in or outside Australia, an International Baccalaureate in Australia or a New Zealand National Certificate of Educational Achievement (NCEA) level 3 must apply via UAC International.

http://www.uac.edu.au/

All other International applicants must apply directly to the University via the International Office.

International students applying to the University through the International Office can find details of minimum English proficiency requirements and acceptable proof on their website.

International Office (http://www.westernsydney.edu.au/international/)

Overseas qualifications must be deemed by the Australian Education International - National Office of Overseas Skills Recognition (AEI-NOOSR) to be equivalent to Australian qualifications in order to be considered by UAC and Western Sydney University.

Special Requirements Prerequisites

Students enrolling in these units may need to have a National Police Certificate and consent or prohibited employment declarations as they may be conducting their placement in circumstances where they work with minors. This would be managed on an as needs basis:

- LAWS 3077 Legal Internship
- LAWS 3074 Judicial Internship
- LAWS 4017 Access to Justice Clinic
- LAWS 4012 First Nations Peoples' Access to Justice Clinic
- LAWS 3080 Street Law Clinic
- JUST 3011 Issues in the Criminal Justice System (corrective services field trip requirement) also records and identity check.

The following units require a visa for the relevant country and the ability to travel at a specified time:

- LAWS 3024 Foundations of Chinese Law
- LAWS 3025 Law, Culture and Entrepreneurial Innovation in India
- LAWS 3078 Legal, Economic and Social Transformation in Taiwan

Program Structure 2023

This structure applies to students who commenced in 2023 or earlier. If you commenced in 2024 or later please refer to the Structure 2024 tab for details.

Qualification for a double degree in law requires the successful completion of 400 credit points including the subjects listed in the recommended sequences for the relevant double degree programs.

Students are eligible to graduate in the associated degree at the end of three years of full-time study, only when they have completed all non-law subjects plus the eight law subjects specified in the study sequence as being in the first three years of the relevant double degree.

Students enrolled in the Bachelor of Communication/Bachelor of Laws will only be eligible to graduate from their Bachelor of Laws degree upon completion of the entire 400 credit point program. Students enrolled in this program who wish to graduate with a standalone law degree prior to completion of the entire Bachelor of Communication component must transfer to program Bachelor of Laws (Non Graduate Entry) (p. 479) which requires the completion of 320 credit points (inclusive of 80 credit points of non-LLB study).

Students may early exit with the Diploma in Laws (p. 750) on completion of 80 credit points, comprising 20 credit points of specified Law core subjects and 60 credit points of Law core or alternate subjects, as provided in the program structure. Please refer to the Diploma in Laws links above for details.

It may be possible to vary the sequence of subjects so that students study a greater concentration of either law or their second discipline of study each semester to minimise travel between campuses and to overcome timetabling problems. Students should speak to their academic advisor as needed. However students who enrol in LAWS 1003 Fundamentals of Australian Law must also be enrolled in LAWS 2004 Criminal Law and students who enrol in LAWS 1009 Legal Analysis and Critique must also be enrolled in LAWS 2013 Torts Law.

Students considering varying their recommended program sequences, should also refer to the separate Bachelor of Laws (Graduate Entry) (p. 472) or Bachelor of Laws (Non Graduate Entry) (p. 479) and Bachelor of Communication (p. 179) recommended program sequences, to ensure that they are completing their studies in a manner which will avoid problems due to a lack of prerequisites or prior knowledge. Continuing students should refer to the earlier versions of the above programs.

The Bachelor of Communication/Bachelor of Laws requires students to undertake the 12 core Communication subjects plus 40 credit points from one of the following majors, selecting 20 credit points at Level 2, and 20 credit points at Level 3

Advertising, Major (0159) (p. 1281)
Journalism, Major (0069) (p. 1536)
Public Relations, Major (0160) (p. 1625)
Screen Media, Major (0268) (p. 1650)

Recommended Sequence 2023

This sequence applies to students who commenced in 2023 or earlier. If you commenced in 2024 or later please refer to the Sequence 2024 tab for details.

Qualification for this award requires the successful completion of 400 credit points as per the recommended sequence below.

Students commencing via mid-year entry, please consult the Academic Program Advisor (https://directory.westernsydney.edu.au/search/profile/14661/)

Program Structure 2024

This structure applies to students who commenced in 2024 or later. If you commenced prior to 2024 please refer to the relevant Structure tab for details.

Qualification for a double degree in law requires the successful completion of 400 credit points including the subjects listed in the recommended sequences for the relevant double degree programs.

Students are eligible to graduate in the associated degree at the end of three years of full-time study, only when they have completed all non-law subjects plus the eight law subjects specified in the study sequence as being in the first three years of the relevant double degree.

Students enrolled in the Bachelor of Communication/Bachelor of Laws will only be eligible to graduate from their Bachelor of Laws degree upon completion of the entire 400 credit point program. Students enrolled in this program who wish to graduate with a standalone law degree prior to completion of the entire Bachelor of Communication component must transfer to program Bachelor of Laws (Non Graduate Entry) (https://hbook.westernsydney.edu.au/programs/bachelor-laws-non-graduate-entry/) which requires the completion of 320 credit points (inclusive of 80 credit points of non-LLB study).

Students may early exit with the Diploma in Laws (https://hbook.westernsydney.edu.au/programs/diploma-laws-exit-only/) on completion of 80 credit points, comprising 20 credit points of specified Law core subjects and 60 credit points of Law core or alternate subjects, as provided in the program structure. Please refer to the Diploma in Laws links above for details.

It may be possible to vary the sequence of subjects so that students study a greater concentration of either law or their second discipline of study each semester to minimise travel between campuses and to overcome timetabling problems. Students should speak to their academic advisor as needed. However students who enrol in LAWS 1003 Fundamentals of Australian Law must also be enrolled in LAWS 2004 Criminal Law and students who enrol inLAWS 1009 Legal Analysis and Critique must also be enrolled in LAWS 2013 Torts Law.

Students considering varying their recommended program sequences, should also refer to the separate Bachelor of Laws (Graduate Entry) (https://hbook.westernsydney.edu.au/programs/bachelor-laws-graduate-entry/) or Bachelor of Laws (Non Graduate Entry) (https://hbook.westernsydney.edu.au/programs/bachelor-laws-non-graduate-entry/) and Bachelor of Communication (https://hbook.westernsydney.edu.au/programs/bachelor-communication/) recommended program sequences, to ensure that they are completing their studies in a manner which will avoid problems due to a lack of prerequisites or prior knowledge. Continuing students should refer to the earlier versions of the above programs.

The Bachelor of Communication/Bachelor of Laws requires students to undertake:

- 160 credit points of specified Law core subjects
- 80 credit points of subjects chosen from the pool of Bachelor of Laws Alternate Subjects
- 80 credit points of specified core Communication subjects
- plus one of the following majors (80 credit points)

Bachelor of Computer Science (Advanced) (3634)

Approved Abbreviation: BCompSc(Adv)
Western Sydney University Program Code: 3634
AQF Level: 7

CRICOS Code: 061245G

This program applies to students who commenced in 2017 or later.

Handbook summary 2017-2023

This program is an advanced version of Bachelor of Computer Science. It provides students with a thorough and in-depth technical understanding of modern decentralised computer systems. This understanding includes how these computer systems are put together, how they work and what are the principles that govern them. Based on this solid foundation, students then have the opportunity to further learn the practical skills needed to design, develop and integrate the decentralised computer systems required by today's large organisations. This program is a three year program with distinct majors which allow students to specialise in different applications of computer science and computer systems. Some of the majors are: Cyber Security, Networked Systems, Cloud Computing, Systems Programming, Artificial Intelligence and others.

Students in the Bachelor of Computer Science (Advanced) will follow the same study program that is set out for the Bachelor of Computer Science. However, each student in this program will have an academic mentor and the student will also participate in additional compulsory activities including research projects. To maintain their enrolment in the Bachelor of Computer Science (Advanced) students must maintain an overall above 5 Grade Point Average, otherwise they will be transferred to the standard 3506 – Bachelor of Computer Science program. At enrolment students will be required to sign a declaration acknowledging the need to maintain a grade-point average (GPA) of 5.0 or more.

This program is designed for high performing students who are motivated to explore further in cutting-edge technology. In addition to computer science study which covers programming, data structure, algorithm, security, artificial intelligence, software design and development, the program provides student with independent learning and research training in advanced topics including algorithms, artificial intelligence, software engineering and security. Mentor will be assigned to each student. This program offers majors in Cyber Security, Artificial Intelligence, Systems Programming, Networked Systems, Technology Entrepreneurship, and a minor in Cloud Computing.
Graduates of an advanced computer science program will be well-equipped to tackle complex computational problems and contribute to the development of innovative technologies. Career paths include software engineering, cybersecurity, artificial intelligence, and research in computer science.
Students are required to maintain a grade-point average (GPA) of 5.0 or more at every semester.

Study Mode

Three years full-time.

Accreditation

The Bachelor of Computer Science currently is accredited by Australian Computer Society at the professional level.

Work Integrated Learning

Western Sydney University seeks to enhance student learning experiences by enabling students to engage in the culture, expectations and practices of their profession or discipline. This program includes a placement or other community-based unpaid practical experience.

There is a mandatory work component required for completion of this program. Please contact the Program Advisor listed above for information.

International students should also refer to the link below for more information and a link to the Commonwealth Register of Institutions and Courses for Overseas Students (CRICOS).

Work Integrated Learning (WIL) for international students (https://www.westernsydney.edu.au/currentstudents/current_students/services_and_facilities/international_student_support/working_in_australia/work_integrated_learning/)

Admission

Assumed Knowledge: HSC Mathematics and any two units of HSC English.

Applications from Australian and New Zealand citizens and holders of permanent resident visas may be made via the Universities Admissions Centre (UAC) or directly through the Western Portal. Use the links below to apply via UAC or Western Sydney University. Applications made directly to Western Sydney do not have an application fee.

http://www.uac.edu.au/
https://westernsydney.uac.edu.au/ws/

Applicants who have undertaken studies overseas may have to provide proof of proficiency in English. Local applicants who are applying through the Universities Admissions Centre (UAC) will find details of minimum English proficiency requirements and acceptable proof on the UAC website. Local applicants applying directly to the University should also use the information provided on the UAC website.

International students currently completing an Australian Year 12 in or outside Australia, an International Baccalaureate in Australia or a New Zealand National Certificate of Educational Achievement (NCEA) level 3 must apply via UAC International.

http://www.uac.edu.au/

All other International applicants must apply directly to the University via the International Office.

International students applying to the University through the International Office can find details of minimum English proficiency requirements and acceptable proof on their website.

International Office (http://www.westernsydney.edu.au/international/)

Overseas qualifications must be deemed by the Australian Education International - National Office of Overseas Skills Recognition (AEI-NOOSR) to be equivalent to Australian qualifications in order to be considered by UAC and Western Sydney University.

Program Structure 2017 - 2023

If you commenced in 2024 or later please refer to the Structure 2024 tab for details.

In addition to the subjects outlined in the program structure for Bachelor of Computer Science (p. 217), students in the advanced program must also complete the following three subjects.

Students must enrol in both 1H and 2H sessions.

Handbook Summary 2021 - 2022

This program will graduate students with the skills necessary to perform competently at a professional level in the building industry. Students will develop specialised skills in four concentrated areas alongside a broad-based view of the construction industry and its operations. The four concentrated areas, related to the delivery of construction projects are construction technology; construction economics; construction law; and construction resource management.

The honours component of this program develops higher level research skills as students engage in research tasks and make evidence-based decisions relate to real world industry problems. To ensure students are work ready upon graduation a total of 1,200 hours approved, mandatory practical experience is also completed during the program.

Handbook Summary 2023

This program will graduate students with the skills necessary to perform competently at a professional level in the building industry. Students will develop specialised skills in four concentrated areas alongside a broad-based view of the construction industry and its operations. The four concentrated areas relate to the delivery of construction projects are construction technology; construction economics; construction law; and construction resource management.

The honours component of this program develops higher level research skills as students engage in research to make evidence-based decisions to address real world industry problems. Students complete 1,200 hours of approved, mandatory practical experience providing them with essential work-ready skills for a range of roles in construction management.

To assist students to flexibly build their career pathways in construction management, the Bachelor of Construction management (Honours) provides elective options. Students can choose the eight elective subjects in order to complete a major in 'quantity surveying', 'building surveying' or 'building,' leading to specific careers either in professional consulting, building control or construction contracting, respectively. Alternatively, students can select one or two suggested minors or optional electives to complete their eight elective subjects. Students also have the option of selecting any free elective that is outside construction management in consultation with academic program advisors.

Study Mode

Bachelor of Construction Management Advanced (Honours) (3782)

Approved Abbreviation: BConstrMgtAdv(Hons)
Western Sydney University Program Code: 3782
AQF Level: 8

CRICOS Code: 107228B

This program applies to students who commenced in 2022 or later.

This advanced construction management (Honours) program is designed for high achieving WSU students, who meet the entry criteria. It is aimed to produce outstanding graduates, who will lead and drive the change in the adoption of new technologies in the construction industry. This is a unique accelerated program, where students complete 320 credit points within 3.5 years including a suite of work-integrated learning (WIL) subjects, some being offered in summer session with flexible delivery. In the WIL subjects, each student has an academic supervisor and an industry supervisor to undertake a negotiated WIL activity that aligns with the given WIL theme within a workplace. Students will be recruited by agreed industry partners to their organisation through a selection process after their first year to undertake these WIL subjects. Students who have completed all WIL subjects will receive an exemption of 1040 hours towards completing the Industry Based Learning subject, leaving a total of 160 additional hours required to be undertaken. Students will have the option to transfer to the Bachelor of Construction Management (Honours) program if they experience any difficulties continuing with the advanced program.

Study Mode

3.5 years full-time or 7 years part-time.

Work Integrated Learning (WIL) for international students (https://www.westernsydney.edu.au/currentstudents/current_students/services_and_facilities/international_student_support/working_in_australia/work_integrated_learning/)

- This course consists of 80 credit points of newly introduced six WIL units (2 x 20 cpts plus 4 x 10cps).
- Students who have completed all WIL subjects will receive an exemption of 1040 hours towards completing the Industry Based Learning unit, leaving a total of 160 additional hours required to be undertaken.
- With regards to six WIL subjects, each student has an academic supervisor and an industry supervisor with relevant UG degree and undertakes a negotiated WIL activity that aligns with the given WIL theme within the workplace.
- The WIL subjects will have a student-centred learning approach on the job with no content delivery. Student will submit assessments related to the WIL activity such as project proposal, presentations and final report.

- These are co-designed and co-delivered with agreed industry partners
- WSU academic supervisor who will be appointed for each WIL project will be responsible for marking assessments in consultation with the relevant industry supervisors.

Admission

Admission 2023 and earlier

Inherent Requirements

There are inherent requirements for this program that you must meet in order to complete your program and graduate. Make sure you read and understand the requirements for this program online.

Inherent requirements (https://www.westernsydney.edu.au/ir/inherent_requirements/)

Work Integrated Learning

Western Sydney University seeks to enhance student learning experiences by enabling students to engage in the culture, expectations and practices of their profession or discipline. This program includes a placement or other community-based unpaid practical experience.

There is a mandatory work component required for completion of this program. Please contact the Program Advisor listed above for information.

International students should also refer to the link below for more information and a link to the Commonwealth Register of Institutions and Courses for Overseas Students (CRICOS).

Work Integrated Learning (WIL) for international students (https://www.westernsydney.edu.au/currentstudents/current_students/services_and_facilities/international_student_support/working_in_australia/work_integrated_learning/)

Admission

Eligibility for admission to the Bachelor of Construction Management Studies/Bachelor of Laws is based on the following requirements:

Assumed knowledge: HSC Mathematics, Physics and any two subjects of HSC English (or equivalent)

Applications from Australian and New Zealand citizens and holders of permanent resident visas may be made via the Universities Admissions Centre (UAC) or directly through the Western Portal. Use the links below to apply via UAC or Western Sydney University. Applications made directly to Western Sydney do not have an application fee.

http://www.uac.edu.au/
https://westernsydney.uac.edu.au/ws/

Applicants who have undertaken studies overseas may have to provide proof of proficiency in English. Local applicants who are applying through the Universities Admissions Centre (UAC) will find details of minimum English proficiency requirements and acceptable proof on the UAC website. Local applicants applying directly to the University should also use the information provided on the UAC website.

International students currently completing an Australian Year 12 in or outside Australia, an International Baccalaureate in Australia or a New Zealand National Certificate of Educational Achievement (NCEA) level 3 must apply via UAC International.

http://www.uac.edu.au/

All other International applicants must apply directly to the University via the International Office.

International students applying to the University through the International Office can find details of minimum English proficiency requirements and acceptable proof on their website.

International Office (http://www.westernsydney.edu.au/international/)

Overseas qualifications must be deemed by the Australian Education International - National Office of Overseas Skills Recognition (AEI-NOOSR) to be equivalent to Australian qualifications in order to be considered by UAC and Western Sydney University.

Special Requirements Prerequisites

Students enrolling in these subjects may need to have a National Police Certificate and consent or prohibited employment declarations as they may be conducting their placement in circumstances where they work with minors. This would be managed on an as needs basis:

- LAWS 3077 Legal Internship
- LAWS 3074 Judicial Internship
- LAWS 4017 Access to Justice Clinic
- LAWS 4012 First Nations Peoples' Access to Justice Clinic
- LAWS 3080 Street Law Clinic
- JUST 3011 Issues in the Criminal Justice System (corrective services field trip requirement), also records and identity check.

The following subjects require a visa for the relevant country and the ability to travel at a specified time:

- LAWS 3024 Foundations of Chinese Law
- LAWS 3025 Law, Culture and Entrepreneurial Innovation in India
- LAWS 3078 Legal, Economic and Social Transformation in Taiwan

Program Structure

To gain early exit from the combined degree, with a Bachelor Construction Management Studies, students are required to complete the 17 construction management studies subjects and the first eight law subjects listed in the recommended sequence.

Students enrolled in the 2769 Bachelor of Construction Management/ Bachelor of Laws will only be eligible to graduate from their Bachelor of Laws degree upon completion of the entire 400 credit point program. Students enrolled in this program who wish to graduate with a standalone law degree prior to completion of the entire Bachelor of Construction Management component must transfer to program 2502 Bachelor of Laws (Non Graduate Entry) (p. 479) which requires the completion of 320 credit points (inclusive of 80 credit points of non-LLB study).

Students may early exit with 2827- Diploma in Laws (http://handbook.westernsydney.edu.au/hbook/course.aspx?course=2827.1) on completion of 80 credit points, comprising 20 credit points of specified Law core units and 60 credit points of Law core or alternate units, as provided in the course structure.

It may be possible to vary the sequence of subjects so that students study a greater concentration of either law or construction management studies each semester, to minimise travel between campuses and to overcome timetabling problems. Students should speak to their Academic Program Advisor as needed. However students who enrol in LAWS 2004 Criminal Law must also be enrolled in LAWS 1003 Fundamentals of Australian Law, and students who enrol in LAWS 2013 Torts Law must also be enrolled in LAWS 1009 Legal Analysis and Critique.

Bachelor of Construction Management Studies/Bachelor of Laws (Honours) (2838)

Approved Abbreviation: BConstMgtStud/LLB(Hons)
Western Sydney University Program Code: 2838
AQF Level: 8

CRICOS code: 108428H

This program applies to students who commenced in 2022 or later.

This program is designed for high achieving law students in the Bachelor of Construction Management Studies/Bachelor of Laws program who wish to undertake an extended level of study and research in Law. An honours degree indicates academic excellence in a professional context and, as an Australian Qualifications Framework Level 8 qualification, students may also have direct entry into postgraduate programs including Masters and Doctor of Philosophy programs.

There is no direct entry into the Honours program. Entry is by application only following completion of at least 160 credit points of Law study and by meeting specified criteria (see Admission details). As an embedded honours program, students are not required to undertake an additional period of study. Further details regarding the honours program and its requirements are available at: Honours in Law and School of Law Honours Guidelines.

The Bachelor of Laws (Honours) program satisfies the academic degree requirements for admission to practice as an Australian lawyer. Students will engage in collaborative face-to-face problem and case-based learning, will be supported by online learning materials, and will participate in authentic assessment to develop knowledge and skills. The program provides students with a broad progressive legal education with a strong practical orientation to the law. Students develop skills in problem-solving, critical thinking, research, communication, collaboration, self-management, and ethical and professional awareness and judgement. Students will have the opportunity to develop skills in legal advocacy, negotiation, and legal technology and extend their professional and learning experiences through work integrated learning, clinical placement and international exchange engagements.

Study Mode

Five years full-time or ten years part-time. Construction Management Studies units are offered at Parramatta and Penrith campuses and Law units are offered at Campbelltown and Parramatta campuses. Students may be required to travel between campuses in order to complete their units.

Students must meet all of the following criteria for admission:

- Completion of at least 160 credit points of law study (or 140 credit points if two Summer subjects are undertaken);
- Demonstration of the likelihood of graduating with an Honours Weighted Average Mark (HWAM) of at least 70 at the time of graduation; or an Admission Average Mark (AAM) of at least 70 at the time of admission to the Honours program. Refer to https://www.westernsydney.edu.au/schools/sol/honours (https://www.westernsydney.edu.au/schools/sol/honours/) for details
- Submission of a 'Nomination of Topics' form which expresses preferences among supervisor-defined topics and/or describes a student-defined topic in a scholarly manner. Refer to https://www.westernsydney.edu.au/__data/assets/word_doc/0008/1784474/Honours_topic_nomination_form_2020.docx
- Demonstration of satisfactory academic writing skills
- Availability of a principal supervisor

Special Requirements

Students enrolling in these subjects may need to have a National Police Certificate and consent or prohibited employment declarations as they may be conducting their placement in circumstances where they work with minors. This would be managed on an as needs basis:

- LAWS 3077 Legal Internship
- LAWS 3074 Judicial Internship
- LAWS 4017 Access to Justice Clinic
- LAWS 4012 First Nations Peoples' Access to Justice Clinic
- LAWS 3080 Street Law Clinic
- JUST 3011 Issues in the Criminal Justice System (corrective services field trip requirement)- Also records and identity check.

The following units require a visa for the relevant country and the ability to travel at a specified time:

- LAWS 3024 Foundations of Chinese Law
- LAWS 3025 Law, Culture and Entrepreneurial Innovation in India
- LAWS 3078 Legal, Economic and Social Transformation in Taiwan

Program Structure

Qualification for a double degree in law requires the successful completion of 400 credit points comprising all subjects listed in the recommended sequence.

To gain early exit from the combined degree, with a Bachelor Construction Management Studies, students are required to complete the 17 construction management studies subjects and the first eight law subjects listed in the recommended sequence.

Students enrolled in the 2838 Bachelor of Construction Management/Bachelor of Laws (Honours) will only be eligible to graduate from their Bachelor of Laws (Honours) degree upon completion of the entire 400 credit point program. Students enrolled in this program who wish to graduate with a standalone law degree prior to completion of the entire Bachelor of Construction Management component must transfer to program 2829 Bachelor of Laws (Non Graduate Entry) (Honours) which requires the completion of 320 credit points (inclusive of 80 credit points of non-LLB study).

It may be possible to vary the sequence of subjects so that students study a greater concentration of either law or construction management studies each semester, to minimise travel between campuses and to overcome timetabling problems. Students should speak to their Academic Program Advisor as needed.

Students must complete 240 credit points of Law subjects comprising:

- 160 credit points of specified core subjects to meet Priestly 11 accreditation requirements:
- 10 credit points Research Training Component (LAWS 4016 Legal Research and Methodology)
- 20 credit points Research Component (LAWS 4011 Law Honours Dissertation)
- 50 credit points of LLB alternate subjects.

Bachelor of Creative Leadership (1943)

Western Sydney University Program Code: 1943
AQF Level: 7

CRICOS Code: 107741G

This program applies to students who commenced in 2H 2024 or later.

Students should follow the program structure for the session start date relevant to the year they commenced.

For Commencement Year 2022 to 1H 2024 - please refer to: 8127 Bachelor of Creative Leadership (https://hbook.westernsydney.edu.au/programs/bachelor-creative-leadership/)

For Commencement Year 2015 to 2021 - please refer to: 3725.1 Bachelor of Applied Leadership and Critical Thinking (http://handbook.westernsydney.edu.au/hbook/course.aspx?course=3725.1)

The Bachelor of Creative Leadership (BCL) is a unique interdisciplinary degree that equips Western students with the essential skills needed to reshape the present as they prepare for the complex challenges of the future. Students will embark on a journey to grow as creative leaders who are globally aware, interculturally adept, and innovative changemakers. The degree develops the students' knowledge and skills in leadership and ethics and grows their capacity to lead in complexity by focusing on high-level critical, logical, and systems thinking. Students will develop creativity, innovation, and entrepreneurship skills while collaborating in interdisciplinary projects and discussions, to articulate innovative strategies that address complex contemporary and future challenges in both local and international contexts. In the BCL, students will engage with innovative assessments that prepare them for real-world challenges and gain work experience by selecting from a diverse range of opportunities to complete a 60-hour internship. The essential skills learned in the BCL are what the employer of tomorrow will be seeking in a graduate in various roles in the workplace – even if these roles are not yet imagined. The BCL is not a stand-alone degree, but is designed to be undertaken in combination with any Western Sydney bachelor degree.

Study Mode

Three years full-time or the equivalent part-time. Note: This includes two years equivalent Credit for Prior Learning for previous prior undergraduate degree study.

Bachelor of Criminal and Community Justice (1709)

Approved Abbreviation: BCrim&CtyJust
Western Sydney University Program Code: 1709
AQF Level: 7

CRICOS Code: 083030G

This program applies to students who commenced in 2015 or later.

Students should follow the program structure for the session start date relevant to the year they commenced.

Commencement Year 2014 - 1709.1 Bachelor of Criminal and Community Justice (http://handbook.uws.edu.au/hbook/course.aspx?course=1709.1)

The Bachelor of Criminal and Community Justice degree is designed for current employees within Corrective Services, as well as students who wish to pursue a career in corrections, probation or parole. The degree will draw upon disciplinary areas such as Criminal Justice, Criminology, Psychology, Social Work and Welfare in order to provide a theoretical framework for those who work with offenders and on issues of rehabilitation, through-care and resettlement. As well as providing a theoretical framework, the program will provide those who complete the degree with the knowledge and skills to develop and evaluate practice with a view to enhancing working with offenders. The Bachelor of Criminal and Community Justice can be described as an 'applied degree pathway' insofar as the teaching within the program will link theory to practice. It is important to note that this degree does not guarantee direct employment into Corrections Services.

Study Mode

Three years full-time or six years part-time.

Accreditation

Graduates from this program are eligible to apply to the Legal Profession Admission Board for admission to legal practice in NSW after undertaking prescribed practical legal training.

Inherent Requirements

There are inherent requirements for this program that you must meet in order to complete your program and graduate. Make sure you read and understand the requirements for this program online.

Inherent requirements (https://www.westernsydney.edu.au/ir/inherent_requirements/)

Work Integrated Learning

Western Sydney University seeks to enhance student learning experiences by enabling students to engage in the culture, expectations and practices of their profession or discipline. This program includes a placement or other community-based unpaid practical experience.

There is an optional work component available in this program. Please contact the Program Advisor listed above for information.

International students should be aware that if an elective is a requirement of the program but the work itself was not registered with CRICOS, students can still complete these electives but it would be counted towards the work limitation. For more details, refer to the 'Work Integrated Learning (WIL) for international students' website.

Work Integrated Learning (WIL) for international students (https://www.westernsydney.edu.au/currentstudents/current_students/services_and_facilities/international_student_support/working_in_australia/work_integrated_learning/)

Admission

Recommended studies: HSC English standard (2 units) or equivalent.

Applications from Australian and New Zealand citizens and holders of permanent resident visas may be made via the Universities Admissions Centre (UAC) or directly through the Western Portal. Use the links below to apply via UAC or Western Sydney University. Applications made directly to Western Sydney do not have an application fee.

http://www.uac.edu.au/
https://westernsydney.uac.edu.au/ws/

Applicants who have undertaken studies overseas may have to provide proof of proficiency in English. Local applicants who are applying through the Universities Admissions Centre (UAC) will find details of minimum English proficiency requirements and acceptable proof on the UAC website. Local applicants applying directly to the University should also use the information provided on the UAC website.

International students currently completing an Australian Year 12 in or outside Australia, an International Baccalaureate in Australia or a New Zealand National Certificate of Educational Achievement (NCEA) level 3 must apply via UAC International.

http://www.uac.edu.au/

All other International applicants must apply directly to the University via the International Office.

International students applying to the University through the International Office can find details of minimum English proficiency requirements and acceptable proof on their website.

International Office (http://www.westernsydney.edu.au/international/)

Overseas qualifications must be deemed by the Australian Education International - National Office of Overseas Skills Recognition (AEI-NOOSR) to be equivalent to Australian qualifications in order to be considered by UAC and Western Sydney University.

Special Requirements Prerequisites

Students enrolling in these subjects may need to have a National Police Certificate and consent or prohibited employment declarations as they may be conducting their placement in circumstances where they work with minors. This would be managed on an as needs basis:

- LAWS 3077 Legal Internship
- LAWS 3074 Judicial Internship
- LAWS 4017 Access to Justice Clinic
- LAWS 4012 First Nations Peoples' Access to Justice Clinic
- LAWS 3080 Street Law Clinic
- JUST 3011 Issues in the Criminal Justice System (corrective services field trip requirement), also records and identity check.

The following subjects require a visa for the relevant country and the ability to travel at a specified time:

- LAWS 3024 Foundations of Chinese Law
- LAWS 3025 Law, Culture and Entrepreneurial Innovation in India
- LAWS 3078 Legal, Economic and Social Transformation in Taiwan

Program Structure

Qualification for a double degree in law requires the successful completion of 400 credit points including the subjects listed in the recommended sequences for the relevant double degree programs.

Students are eligible to graduate with the award Bachelor of Criminal and Community Justice when they have satisfactorily completed all subjects listed as sequenced within the first three years of the double degree.

Students enrolled in the 2767 Bachelor of Criminal and Community Justice/Bachelor of Laws will only be eligible to graduate from their Bachelor of Laws degree upon completion of the entire 400 credit point program. Students enrolled in this program who wish to graduate with a standalone law degree prior to completion of the entire Bachelor of Criminal and Community Justice component must transfer to program 2502 Bachelor of Laws (Non-Graduate Entry) (p. 479) which requires the completion of 320 credit points (inclusive of 80 credit points of non-LLB study).

Students may early exit with the Diploma in Laws (p. 750) on completion of 80 credit points, comprising 20 credit points of specified Law core subjects and 60 credit points of Law core or alternate subjects, as provided in the program structure. Please refer to the links above for details.

It may be possible to vary the sequence of subjects so that students study a greater concentration of either law or criminology each semester, to minimise travel between campuses and to overcome timetabling problems. Students should speak to their Academic Program Advisor as needed. However, students who enrol in LAWS 1003 Fundamentals of Australian Law must also be enrolled in LAWS 2004 Criminal Law and students who enrol in LAWS 1009 Legal Analysis and Critique must also be enrolled in LAWS 2013 Torts Law.

Bachelor of Criminal and Community Justice/Bachelor of Laws students are required to complete the 14 specified and 2 optional subjects of the program sequence.

Bachelor of Criminal and Community Justice/Bachelor of Laws (Honours) (2836)

Approved Abbreviation: BCrim&CtyJust/LLB(Hons)
Western Sydney University Program Code: 2836
AQF Level: 8

CRICOS Code: 108486J

This program applies to students who commenced in 2022 or later.

This program is designed for high achieving law students in the Bachelor of Criminal and Community Justice/ Bachelor of Laws program who wish to undertake an extended level of study and research in Law. An honours degree indicates academic excellence in a professional context and, as an Australian Qualifications Framework Level 8 (https://www.aqf.edu.au/aqf-levels/) qualification, students may also have direct entry into postgraduate programs including Masters and Doctor of Philosophy programs.

There is no direct entry into the Honours program. Entry is by application only following completion of at least 160 credit points of Law study and by meeting specified criteria (see Admission details). As an embedded honours program, students are not required to undertake an additional period of study. Further details regarding the honours program and its requirements are available at:
Honours in Law (https://www.westernsydney.edu.au/schools/sol/honours/) and School of Law Honours Guidelines (https://policies.westernsydney.edu.au/download.php?associated=1&id=498&version=4).

The Bachelor of Laws (Honours) program satisfies the academic degree requirements for admission to practice as an Australian lawyer. Students will engage in collaborative face-to-face problem and case-based learning, will be supported by online learning materials, and will participate in authentic assessment to develop knowledge and skills. The program provides students with a broad progressive legal education with a strong practical orientation to the law. Students develop skills in problem-solving, critical thinking, research, communication, collaboration, self-management, and ethical and professional awareness and judgement. Students will have the opportunity to develop skills in legal advocacy, negotiation, and legal technology and extend their professional and learning experiences through work integrated learning, clinical placement and international exchange engagements.

Study Mode

Five years full-time or ten years part-time. Criminology and Community Justice subjects are offered at Liverpool and Penrith campuses and Law subjects are offered at Campbelltown and Parramatta campuses. Students are required to travel between campuses in order to complete their subjects.

Bachelor of Criminal and Community Justice/Bachelor of Social Work (1713)

Approved Abbreviation: BCrim&CtyJust/BSW
Western Sydney University Program Code: 1713
AQF Level: 7

CRICOS Code: 088186B

This program applies to students who commenced in 2015 or later.

Students should follow the program structure for the session start date relevant to the year they commenced.

Commencement Year 2014 - 1713.1 Bachelor of Criminal and Community Justice/Bachelor of Social Work (http://handbook.uws.edu.au/hbook/course.aspx?course=1713.1)

This dual degree combines a critical perspective on theories and practices from social work, as well as criminology. There is a strong focus on practice for students who wish to pursue a career in social work, community corrections, or other sectors of the criminal justice system, including private providers as well as the not for profit sector included in probations. It is an applied degree pathway, and links theory to practice, and contains two field education placements.

The Associate Degree in Social Science (exit) is an early exit point from the Bachelor of Social Work. As detailed below, qualification for this award requires the successful completion of 160 credit points of Social Work subjects.

The Diploma in Social Science Studies (exit) is an early exit point from the Bachelor of Social Work. As detailed below, qualification for this award requires the successful completion of 80 credit points of Social Work subjects.

Early Exits

Students may exit this program on completion of 160 credit points with a 1918 Associate Degree in Social Science (exit only) (https://hbook.westernsydney.edu.au/programs/associate-degree-social-science-exit-only/) or on completion of 80 credit points with a 1919 Diploma in Social Science Studies (exit only) (https://hbook.westernsydney.edu.au/programs/diploma-social-science-studies-exit-only/).

Bachelor of Criminology (1710)

Approved Abbreviation: BCrim
Western Sydney University Program Code: 1710
AQF Level: 7

CRICOS Code: 079498E

This program applies to students who commenced in 2019 or later.

Students should follow the program structure for the session start date relevant to the year they commenced.

For Commencement Year 2015 to 2018 - please refer to 1710.2 Bachelor of Criminology (http://handbook.westernsydney.edu.au/hbook/course.aspx?course=1710.2)

The Bachelor of Criminology degree offers students the opportunity to study crime and criminal justice in both a conceptual and an applied way that particularly stresses social and cultural definitions of criminality and the reactions to it. Areas of focus include criminal justice institutions and practices; the development of criminology as a discipline and its various strands; forms and patterns of victimisation; crime prevention strategies and debates; aspects of juvenile justice; the evolution of prisons and different forms of punishment; law enforcement and surveillance; violence, gender and crime; cultural depictions of crime and contemporary debates in criminology. As such, the degree addresses the criminalisation of disadvantage through race, class, disability and gender, with a focus on the nexus between social and criminal justice. This will equip students with the specialist skills and knowledge that a new graduate would need on entering the workforce or on proceeding to advanced study.

Study Mode

Three years full-time or six years part-time.

The following subjects require a visa for the relevant country and the ability to travel at a specified time:

- LAWS 3024 Foundations of Chinese Law
- LAWS 3025 Law, Culture and Entrepreneurial Innovation in India
- LAWS 3078 Legal, Economic and Social Transformation in Taiwan

Program Structure

Qualification for a double degree in law requires the successful completion of 400 credit points consisting of the subjects listed in the recommended sequence.

Early exit - Students are eligible to graduate in the Bachelor of Criminology on completion of 16 specified criminology subjects plus the eight law subjects specified in the first three years of the program sequence.

Students enrolled in the 2766 Bachelor of Criminology/Bachelor of Laws will only be eligible to graduate from their Bachelor of Laws degree upon completion of the entire 400 credit point program. Students enrolled in this program who wish to graduate with a standalone law degree prior to completion of the entire Bachelor of Criminology component must transfer to program 2502 Bachelor of Laws (Non-Graduate Entry) (p. 479) which requires the completion of 320 credit points (inclusive of 80 credit points of non-LLB study).

Students may early exit with the Diploma in Laws (p. 750) on completion of 80 credit points, comprising 20 credit points of specified Law core subjects and 60 credit points of Law core or alternate subjects, as provided in the program structure. Please refer to the links above for details.

Planning study - It may be possible to vary the sequence of subjects so that students study a greater concentration of either law or criminology each semester, to minimise travel between campuses, and to overcome timetabling problems. Students should speak to their Academic Program Advisor as needed.

Bachelor of Criminology/Bachelor of Laws (Honours) (2835)

Approved Abbreviation: BCrim/LLB(Hons)
Western Sydney University Program Code: 2835
AQF Level: 8

CRICOS code: 108422C

This program applies to students who commenced in 2022 or later.

This program is designed for high achieving law students in the Bachelor of Criminology/ Bachelor of Laws program who wish to undertake an extended level of study and research in Law. An honours degree indicates academic excellence in a professional context and, as an Australian Qualifications Framework Level 8 (https://www.aqf.edu.au/aqf-levels/) qualification, students may also have direct entry into postgraduate programs including Masters and Doctor of Philosophy programs.

There is no direct entry into the Honours program. Entry is by application only following completion of at least 160 credit points of Law study and by meeting specified criteria (see Admission details). As an embedded honours program, students are not required to undertake an additional period of study. Further details regarding the honours program and its requirements are available at: Honours in Law (https://www.westernsydney.edu.au/schools/sol/honours/) and School of Law Honours Guidelines (https://policies.westernsydney.edu.au/download.php?associated=1&id=498&version=4).

The Bachelor of Laws (Honours) program satisfies the academic degree requirements for admission to practice as an Australian lawyer. Students will engage in collaborative face-to-face problem and case-based learning, will be supported by online learning materials, and will participate in authentic assessment to develop knowledge and skills. The program provides students with a broad progressive legal education with a strong practical orientation to the law. Students develop skills in problem-solving, critical thinking, research, communication, collaboration, self-management, and ethical and professional awareness and judgement. Students will have the opportunity to develop skills in legal advocacy, negotiation, and legal technology and extend their professional and learning experiences through work integrated learning, clinical placement and international exchange engagements.

Study Mode

Five years full-time or ten years part-time. Criminology subjects are offered at Liverpool and Penrith campuses and Law subjects are offered at Campbelltown and Parramatta campuses. Students are required to travel between campuses in order to complete their subjects.

Bachelor of Cyber Security and Behaviour (1837)

Approved Abbreviation: BCyberSecBehav
Western Sydney University Program Code: 1837
AQF Level: 7

CRICOS Code: 094541D

This program applies to students who commenced in Autumn 2022 or later.

Students should follow the program structure for the session start date relevant to the year they commenced.

For Commencement Year Spring 2021 - please refer to 1837.3 Bachelor of Cyber Security and Behaviour (http://handbook.westernsydney.edu.au/hbook/course.aspx?course=1837.3)

For Commencement Year 2019 to Autumn 2021 - please refer to 1837.2 Bachelor of Cyber Security and Behaviour (http://handbook.westernsydney.edu.au/hbook/course.aspx?course=1837.2)

For Commencement Year 2017 to 2018 - please refer to 1837.1 Bachelor of Cyber Security and Behaviour (http://handbook.westernsydney.edu.au/hbook/course.aspx?course=1837.1)

This program teaches you the technical components of cyber security, while emphasising the human behaviours that lead to poor cyber security practices. The program meets the pressing need for the application of behavioural sciences and research to understand cyber security issues in the context of decision-making, human errors, crime that deceives both humans and technical systems, social influence, organisational cultures and vulnerable populations. As cyber threats become more sophisticated and damaging across all types of organisations, cyber security has become one of the nation's top priorities. Students will gain a solid grounding in conventional computer and network security concepts and skills, and will be exposed to elite training in what is known as Blue and Purple Teams – Cyber Defence and Incident Response. This program leads to a range of rewarding career options for graduates. Examples include security architect, digital forensic officer, cyber intelligence, cyber safety officer, data security, security analyst, risk analytics, and cyber investigations.

Study Mode

Work Integrated Learning

Western Sydney University seeks to enhance student learning experiences by enabling students to engage in the culture, expectations and practices of their profession or discipline. This program includes a placement or other community-based unpaid practical experience.

There is an optional work component available in this program. Please contact the Program Advisor listed above for information.

International students should be aware that if an elective is a requirement of the program but the work itself was not registered with CRICOS, students can still complete these electives but it would be counted towards the work limitation. For more details, refer to the 'Work Integrated Learning (WIL) for international students' website.

Minor elective spaces

Elective subjects may be used toward obtaining an additional approved minor (40 credit points). Western Sydney University offers minors in a range of areas including Sustainability and Indigenous Studies.

Global Sustainability Minor (p. 1469)
Indigenous Australian Studies Minor (p. 1511)

Western Sydney University also offers the following innovative transdisciplinary Challenge Minors (https://www.westernsydney.edu.au/educational_partnerships_and_quality/home/challenge_minors/) which we encourage those students who have elective space to consider.

Equitable Technologies (p. 1447)
Urban Evolution (p. 1715)
Migration and Global Change (p. 1582)
Personal Innovation (p. 1605)
Innovating, Creating and Problem Solving (p. 1517)
Eco-Socially Conscious Design and Manufacturing (p. 1406)
Water for Life (p. 1718)
Climate Justice (p. 1357)
Creative and Visual Communication (p. 1383)
Global Workplaces (p. 1469)
Innovating For Humans (p. 1517)
Creative Living for Cultural Wellbeing (p. 1384)
Ideate.Strategise.Innovate. (p. 1508)

For commencement year 2021, please refer to: 3769.1 Bachelor of Data Science (http://handbook.westernsydney.edu.au/hbook/course.aspx?course=3769.1)

Data is ubiquitous in this digital age and plays an important role in all careers. A Data Scientist has the required expertise to convert all forms of data into valuable information. This degree equips its graduates with the skills and knowledge for designing experimental studies, building and fitting models for analysis, visualisation, estimation and prediction, machine learning for prediction, analysis of complex data relationships, storage and retrieval of big data. These skills are essential for the analysis of customer transactions and behaviour, scientific investigations, financial trends, and online behaviour.

Study Mode

Three years full-time, six years part-time.

The Bachelor of Design (Visual Communication) degree will provide you with fundamental skills and knowledge to communicate ideas and information across a wide range of visual media. With an emphasis on studio-based practice, you will study areas such as image design, typography, layout design, branding, design history, research methods, and web-based design. From year two, there are opportunities to engage with live community or industry projects, and you will choose two practical specialisations from the following pairs: motion design and data visualisation; game and app design; illustration; and photography. You may also choose electives from outside of design such as advertising and media production. Throughout the program, you will engage with individual and team-based projects, develop your conceptual thinking skills, use a variety of traditional and emerging technologies, and expand your creative practice. In year four you will take a position in our award-winning teaching design studio where you will gain experience in a professional learning environment, preparing you for work in an exciting and evolving industry.

The Design and Technology program provides a sound knowledge in a broad range of work-ready design skills, including thinking methods, drawing skills for creativity, design innovation, product design, human factors, design management, and 2D and 3D CAD. This program can lead to multiple career outcomes, including product design, packaging, 3D modelling, rapid prototyping with 3D printing, design for sustainability, new product-oriented Start-Up, or secondary school teaching (with additional qualifications). Fields of Study include Design Practice, Graphic Design, Cultural Studies, UX, Manufacturing, and Sustainable Futures. Students wishing to become industrial designers can articulate in the fourth year of the Bachelor of Industrial Design.

Parts of this course may be taught at the Parramatta City - Hassall St campus or at the Parramatta South campus.

Handbook Summary 2023

The Design and Technology Program is a catalyst for innovation in product design, service design and design for sustainability, drawing together an all-disciplines approach mindset highly valued by employers. It responds flexibly to the varying needs and the power of integrated design for communities, industry, entrepreneurial pursuits and design education.

The Design and Technology degree provides skills development in a broad range of work-ready design skills, including design thinking methods, drawing skills for creativity, design innovation, product design, human factors design, design management, and 2D and 3D CAD with the latest internationally recognised software. Students also work collaboratively in teams and with clients on industry projects whilst utilising the extensive Design Studio and Advanced Prototyping Workshop facilities available to them.

This program prepares students for multiple career outcomes, including product design, packaging, 3D modelling, rapid prototyping with 3D printing, design for sustainability, new product-oriented venture Start-Ups, high-level verbal and visual presentation and if preferred, secondary school teaching with additional WSU qualifications in Master of Teaching (Secondary). Studies are held at the Parramatta Engineering Innovation Hub.

Effective Design career professionals require a broad range of knowledge to allow them to connect and work with colleagues across many disciplines. To assist students to flexibly build their career pathways, the Bachelor of Design and Technology provides elective options in order to complete a major; or one or two minors; or explore a range of free electives in areas of interest across the university.

Study Mode

Three years full-time or six years part-time.

Parts of this course may be taught at the Parramatta City - Hassall St campus or at the Parramatta South campus.

Accreditation

Graduates are eligible for membership of the Design Institute of Australia (DIA).

Admission

Assumed knowledge: any two units of English plus at least two units of Design, Design and Technology, Visual Arts, Digital Multimedia, Engineering, or Business Studies

Alternate Entry

Entry by interview in which personal aptitude, experience, and educational qualifications are taken into consideration supported by a portfolio of works. After applicants have applied, they are required to book an interview and download a questionnaire at the University's online booking system. The questionnaire provides applicants further information on how to prepare their portfolio and for the interview.

Design graduates who previously would have planned a career in graphic design, media or advertising companies now face a future where they will be required to continuously adapt and reapply their skills to changing work environments. This double degree brings together the existing Design program with studies that explore emerging creative industries and allows students who are interested in pursuing careers as designers to also engage with new paradigms of creative and cultural production, developing skills in entrepreneurship and working in collaborative projects with creative industries in Greater Western Sydney (GWS).

Students have the option to travel to Penrith campus for a portion of the Creative Industries component.

Bachelor of Education (Early Childhood) (1926)

Effective from: 2023
Approved Abbreviation: BEd(EarlyCh)
Western Sydney University Program Code: 1926
AQF Level: 7

CRICOS Code: 110869J

This program applies to students who commenced in 2023 or later. This program is only available to domestic student in 2023.

Handbook Summary 2023

The Bachelor of Education (Early Childhood) is a 4 year degree specifically designed as an initial teacher qualification, equipping graduates with the specialist knowledge and skills to teach effectively in early childhood settings with children from Birth to 5 years. Students will attend an on-campus intensive workshop block prior to each professional practice placement. Students will also develop a professional e-portfolio throughout the course of the degree to demonstrate their capacity to work successfully as a graduate teacher.

Handbook Summary 2024

The Bachelor of Education (Early Childhood) equips graduates to teach effectively across the early childhood sector with children Birth - 5 years and their families. Early childhood teachers play a pivotal role in children's learning, development and wellbeing. Students will learn how to foster children's creativity, curiosity, imagination and resilience through an integrated and responsive play-based curriculum. Students will build leadership and advocacy skills to prepare for their professional role working in diverse communities.

The program is flexible, providing both on campus and/or online learning options to accommodate the wide range of student commitments. Study options include part time, full time and accelerated mode. Students will undertake professional experience in early childhood education and care settings.

Credit for prior learning may be available to students with a Diploma, including a Diploma in Early Childhood Education and Care (CHC50113) or (CHC50121). Further information is available on the Pathways website (https://www.westernsydney.edu.au/tertiaryeducationpathwaysandpartnerships/home/).

Program Logic

The Program Logic is embedded throughout all Initial Teacher Education programs at Western Sydney University. It explains how each subject contributes to the journey to become a Graduate Teacher. The Program Logic includes three phases: Foundation, Development and Transition. In each of these phases, pre-service teachers develop essential knowledge and skills by learning about evidence-based pedagogies and practices, enabling their successful transition to teaching.

Foundation: Pre-service teachers will develop fundamental knowledge, skills, and attributes to support the beginning of their journey to become a teacher.

Development: Pre-service teachers will strengthen their pedagogical content knowledge, understanding of classroom management, and evidence-based pedagogical practices.

Transition: Pre-service teachers will consolidate the knowledge, skills, and attributes required for success as a Graduate Teacher, using evidence to inform and strengthen pedagogical practice.

Early Exits

Students may exit this program on completion of 160 credit points with a 1927 Associate Degree in Early Education (https://hbook.westernsydney.edu.au/programs/associate-degree-early-years-education-exit-only/).

Study Mode

Four years full-time and eight years part-time.

Handbook summary 2021-2023

The Bachelor of Education (Primary) is an initial teaching qualification. It prepares graduates for careers in primary school government and non-government settings and other educational fields in Australia. The degree provides deep engagement in primary education through innovative approaches to teaching and learning. It involves students in engaged learning and work integrated learning, through placements in agencies and schools.

Handbook summary 2024

The Bachelor of Education (Primary) is a four-year undergraduate program that incorporates the core content which covers what every teacher should learn in Initial Teacher Education (ITE) to be prepared for the classroom and to best support students from Kindergarten to Year 6.

Applying core content students will develop the fundamental knowledge, skills, and attributes required for their transition into teaching. Students will extend their literacy and numeracy skills, as well as strengthen their curriculum and pedagogical content knowledge, develop understanding of classroom management, and evidence-based pedagogical practices.

Graduates meet the Australian Professional Standards for Teachers, required for registration with the NSW Education Standards Authority (NESA).

Program Logic

The Program Logic is embedded throughout all Initial Teacher Education programs at Western Sydney University. It explains how each subject contributes to the journey to become a Graduate Teacher. The Program Logic includes three phases: Foundation, Development and Transition. In each of these phases, pre-service teachers develop essential knowledge and skills by learning about evidence-based pedagogies and practices, enabling their successful transition to teaching.

Handbook Summary 2020-2023

The Bachelor of Education (Primary) Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Education is a four year undergraduate program that gives students the skills and knowledge to teach effectively across the full curriculum range from Kindergarten to Year 6. This program is only available to Australian Aboriginal and/or Torres Strait Islander applicants. Students will extend their literacy and numeracy skills, as well as develop both curriculum and cultural knowledge and understandings to form a firm foundation for teaching in primary schools. Graduates meet the NSW Education Standards Authority Professional Teaching Standards for a Graduate Teacher. There are 2 early exit points, the Diploma in Educational Studies (Primary) Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Education and Bachelor of Educational Studies (Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Education) for students not seeking a professional teaching qualification.

Handbook Summary 2024

The Bachelor of Education (Primary) Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Education is a four-year undergraduate program that incorporates the core content which covers what every teacher should learn in Initial Teacher Education (ITE) to be prepared for the classroom and to best support students from Kindergarten to Year 6. The program is only available to Australian Aboriginal and/or Torres Strait Islander applicants.

Applying core content students will develop the fundamental knowledge, skills, and attributes needed as they transition to teaching. Students will extend their literacy and numeracy skills, as well as strengthen their curriculum and pedagogical content knowledge, develop understanding of classroom management, and evidence-based pedagogical practices.

Graduates meet the Australian Professional Standards for Teachers, required for registration with the NSW Education Standards Authority (NESA).

Program Logic

The Program Logic is embedded throughout all Initial Teacher Education programs at Western Sydney University. It explains how each subject contributes to the journey to become a Graduate Teacher. The Program Logic includes three phases: Foundation, Development and Transition. In each of these phases, pre-service teachers develop essential knowledge and skills by learning about evidence-based pedagogies and practices, enabling their successful transition to teaching.

Foundation: Pre-service teachers will develop fundamental knowledge, skills, and attributes to support the beginning of their journey to become a teacher.

Development: Pre-service teachers will strengthen their pedagogical content knowledge, understanding of classroom management, and evidence-based pedagogical practices.

Transition: Pre-service teachers will consolidate the knowledge, skills, and attributes required for success as a Graduate Teacher, using evidence to inform and strengthen pedagogical practice.

Bachelor of Education (Secondary) (1939)

Effective from: 2024
Approved Abbreviation: BEd(Sec)
Western Sydney University Program Code: 1939
AQF Level: 7

CRICOS Code: 114981K

This program applies to students who commenced in Spring 2024 or later.

The Bachelor of Education (Secondary) prepares graduates to teach across secondary schools nationally and internationally. The degree provides deep engagement in secondary education, focusing on innovative and evidence-based approaches to teaching and learning and the development of strong pedagogical content knowledge. It prepares students for their teaching career by emphasising pedagogical approaches and culturally responsive teaching practices that enable diverse learners to access learning experiences, effective classroom management practices, and using assessment and feedback to guide and enhance student learning. It provides opportunities to study two teaching majors across all Key Learning Areas in the secondary curriculum and includes 80 days of professional experience in schools. There are opportunities to complete subjects in Inclusive Education in addition to the secondary teaching areas.

The Diploma in Educational Studies (Secondary) and Associate Degree in Educational Studies (Secondary) are exit points.

Program Logic

The Program Logic is embedded throughout all Initial Teacher Education programs at Western Sydney University. It explains how each subject contributes to the journey to become a Graduate Teacher. The Program Logic includes three phases: Foundation, Development and Transition. In each of these phases, pre-service teachers develop essential knowledge and skills by learning about evidence-based pedagogies and practices, enabling their successful transition to teaching.

Foundation: Pre-service teachers will develop fundamental knowledge, skills, and attributes to support the beginning of their journey to become a teacher.

Development: Pre-service teachers will strengthen their pedagogical content knowledge, understanding of classroom management, and evidence-based pedagogical practices.

Transition: Pre-service teachers will consolidate the knowledge, skills, and attributes required for success as a Graduate Teacher, using evidence to inform and strengthen pedagogical practice.

Early Exits

Students may exit this program on completion of 80 credit points with a 1941 Diploma in Educational Studies (Secondary) (exit only) (p. 719) or on completion of 160 credit points with a 1940 Associate Degree in Educational Studies (Secondary) (exit only) (p. 68).

Study Mode

Four years full-time or eight years part-time. Subjects that are part of the majors and minor are subject to availability. Students may need to travel to different campuses to complete some of these subjects.

Bachelor of Engineering (Honours) (3740)

Approved Abbreviation: BEng(Hons)
Western Sydney University Program Code: 3740
AQF Level: 8

CRICOS Code: 089429B

This program applies to students who commenced in 2022 or later.

Students should follow the program structure for the session start date relevant to the year they commenced.

For Commencement Year 2019, please refer to: 3740.3 Bachelor of Engineering (Honours) (http://handbook.westernsydney.edu.au/hbook/course.aspx?course=3740.3)

For Commencement Year 2017, please refer to: 3740.2 Bachelor of Engineering (Honours) (http://handbook.westernsydney.edu.au/hbook/course.aspx?course=3740.2)

For Commencement Year 2016, please refer to: 3740.1 Bachelor of Engineering (Honours) (http://handbook.westernsydney.edu.au/hbook/course.aspx?course=3740.1)

The Bachelor of Engineering (Honours) is a four year full-time undergraduate engineering program. The program is designed to meet Engineers Australia professional accreditation requirements – Competency Stage 1 Professional Engineers, and Australian Quality Frameworks (AQF) Level 8.

Students have opportunities to choose a discipline area by selecting a major in Advanced Manufacturing, Civil, Construction, Electrical, Materials, Mechanical, Robotics & Mechatronics, and Sustainability Engineering. In addition, students can specialise by selecting one minor that will complement their chosen discipline. Meanwhile free elective subjects help students broaden their learning by developing knowledge and skills from other disciplines and professional fields for future.

Early Exit

Students may exit this program on completion of 240 credit points with a 3691 Bachelor of Engineering Science (https://hbook.westernsydney.edu.au/programs/bachelor-engineering-science/)

Accreditation

This program has Full Accreditation at the level of Professional Engineer at Penrith campus and Parramatta campus for five majors (Civil, Construction, Electrical, Mechanical and Robotics & Mechatronics) and Sydney City Campuses for three majors (Civil, Electrical and Mechanical only).

This program has Provisional Accreditation at the level of Professional Engineer at Penrith and Parramatta campus, for three majors (Advanced Manufacturing, Materials, and Sustainability).

Provisional Accreditation at the level of Professional Engineer will be sought at Sydney City Campuses for three majors (Advanced Manufacturing, Materials, and Sustainability).

Graduates of this program will be eligible to apply for full membership of Engineers Australia. They will be eligible to apply for Chartered Professional Engineering registration upon successful completion of required engineering practice period specified by Engineers Australia.

Inherent Requirements

There are inherent requirements for this program that you must meet in order to complete your program and graduate. Make sure you read and understand the requirements for this program online.

Work Integrated Learning

Western Sydney University seeks to enhance student learning experiences by enabling students to engage in the culture, expectations and practices of their profession or discipline. This program includes a placement or other community-based unpaid practical experience.

There is a mandatory work component required for completion of this program. Please contact the Program Advisor listed above for information.

International students should also refer to the link below for more information and a link to the Commonwealth Register of Institutions and Courses for Overseas Students (CRICOS).

Work Integrated Learning (WIL) for international students (https://www.westernsydney.edu.au/currentstudents/current_students/services_and_facilities/international_student_support/working_in_australia/work_integrated_learning/)

Admission

- Recommended studies: Physics and HSC Mathematics Extension 1 or HSC Mathematics Extension 2.
- Assumed knowledge required: Two subjects of Science, two subjects of English and Mathematics (not General Mathematics) at Band 5 or higher.

Applications from Australian and New Zealand citizens and holders of permanent resident visas may be made via the Universities Admissions Centre (UAC) or directly through the Western Portal. Use the links below to apply via UAC or Western Sydney University. Applications made directly to Western Sydney do not have an application fee.

http://www.uac.edu.au/
https://westernsydney.uac.edu.au/ws/

Applicants who have undertaken studies overseas may have to provide proof of proficiency in English. Local applicants who are applying through the Universities Admissions Centre (UAC) will find details of minimum English proficiency requirements and acceptable proof on the UAC website. Local applicants applying directly to the University should also use the information provided on the UAC website.

International students currently completing an Australian Year 12 in or outside Australia, an International Baccalaureate in Australia or a New Zealand National Certificate of Educational Achievement (NCEA) level 3 must apply via UAC International.

Full-time Autumn Intake - Parramatta and Penrith Campuses

All students undertaking the Bachelor of Engineering (Honours) are required to enrol in MATH 1021 Mathematics for Engineers Preliminary and undertake a readiness test at the beginning of their study.

The readiness test will be conducted at the beginning of the first semester of enrolment and the result will be used to determine whether a student will remain in MATH 1021 Mathematics for Engineers Preliminary or be transferred by the School to MATH 1016 Mathematics for Engineers 1.

Students remaining in MATH 1021 Mathematics for Engineers Preliminary will be required to complete MATH 1016 Mathematics for Engineers 1 during second semester and will be encouraged to complete MATH 1019 Mathematics for Engineers 2 during the Summer session.

Students studying General Engineering via UAC

Students will complete all eight common fundamental subjects in the first year and then one of two subjects - ELEC 1003 Electrical Fundamentals and ENGR 1008 Engineering Materials will be counted as a free elective subject when they choose their Testamur Major at the end of the first year.

Year 2 - Year 4

Students must then select one of the following majors.

Students may transfer to Bachelor of Engineering Science (p. 318) at the end of Year 2 of study.

Equivalent Subjects

The subjects listed below count towards completion of this program for students who passed these subjects in Autumn 2022 or earlier.

Full-time Autumn Intake - Parramatta and Penrith Campuses

All students undertaking the Bachelor of Engineering (Honours) are required to enrol in MATH 1021 Mathematics for Engineers Preliminary. Students with advanced mathematical skills (band 6 in Advanced Maths or a good grade in Extension Maths or equivalent) may take a readiness test at the start of semester to determine if they are ready for direct entry to MATH 1016 Mathematics for Engineers 1. This test is a mathematics aptitude test, students with the requisite skills should not need to study for it.

Students who pass the readiness test will have their enrolment transferred to MATH 1016 Mathematics for Engineers 1 by the School.

Students remaining in MATH 1021 Mathematics for Engineers Preliminary will be required to complete MATH 1016 Mathematics for Engineers 1 during second semester and will be encouraged to complete MATH 1019 Mathematics for Engineers 2 during the Summer session.

Bachelor of Engineering (Honours)/ Bachelor of Business (3728)

Approved Abbreviation: BEng(Hons)/BBus
Western Sydney University Program Code: 3728
AQF Level: 8

CRICOS Code: 089217C

This program applies to students who commenced in 2022 or later.

Students should follow the program structure for the session start date relevant to the year they commenced.

For commencement Year 2020, please refer to: 3728.3 Bachelor of Engineering (Honours)/Bachelor of Business (http://handbook.westernsydney.edu.au/hbook/course.aspx?course=3728.3)

For commencement Year 2018, please refer to: 3728.2 Bachelor of Engineering (Honours)/Bachelor of Business (http://handbook.westernsydney.edu.au/hbook/course.aspx?course=3728.2)

For commencement Year 2016, please refer to: 3728.1 Bachelor of Engineering (Honours)/Bachelor of Business (http://handbook.westernsydney.edu.au/hbook/course.aspx?course=3728.1)

The Bachelor of Engineering (Honours)/Bachelor of Business double degree permits students to undertake multi-skilling and offers diverse career paths providing high marketability in multiple engineering and business areas. The Engineering degree provides students with professional skills in each of the eight key areas students choose to study. The eight engineering Majors are Advanced Manufacturing, Civil, Construction, Electrical, Materials, Mechanical, Robotics & Mechatronics, and Sustainability Engineering. Depending on the Business Major selected, employment possibilities are available in conventional engineering industries and also in areas including Applied Finance, Economics, Human Resource Management, International Business, Management, Marketing, Sport Management and Business Analytics. Graduates will be equipped to work as engineers, with a good understanding of business principles and practices.

Study Mode

Five years full-time or ten years part-time. The Bachelor of Engineering (Honours) is offered on Penrith and Parramatta Campuses. The Bachelor of Business offers a number of its majors at Bankstown, Campbelltown and Parramatta campuses. Students may be required to travel between campuses in order to complete these B Business majors.

Accreditation

Professional Engineer for the disciplines, Civil, Construction, Electrical, Mechanical, and Robotics & Mechatronics at Penrith and Parramatta. Provisional accreditation at the level of Professional Engineer at the Penrith and Parramatta campuses for three Majors (Advanced Manufacturing, Materials, and Sustainability). Graduates of this program are eligible to apply for full membership of Engineers Australia. They are eligible to apply for Chartered Professional Engineering registration upon successful completion of required engineering practice period specified by Engineers Australia.

Bachelor of Business: Where the full recommended unit sequence of the major is satisfactorily completed: Major T041 Human Resource Management is accredited with the Australian Human Resources Institute (AHRI). Major T038 Applied Finance satisfies the educational requirements for membership of the Financial Services Institute of Australasia (Finsia). T044 - Marketing satisfies the requirements of accreditation of Marketing subjects in accordance with the Australian Marketing Institute's Accreditation and Endorsement Program. On completion of an AMI Accredited program graduates are eligible for special graduate membership rates and credit towards becoming a Certified Practising Marketer (CPM) in a shorter duration of time. Specifically, graduates are eligible to apply for a reduction off the minimum five (5) years industry experience required before becoming a CPM.

Program Structure

Qualification for this award requires the successful completion of 400 credit points.

Students who complete this award will graduate with two testamurs

- Bachelor of Engineering (Honours), with the Bachelor of Engineering major noted on the testamur, and
- Bachelor of Business, with the Bachelor of Business Major noted on the testamur.

Engineering Component

Students must study seven Engineering Foundation subjects followed by 15 Engineering Core subjects and two Engineering Thesis subjects in one of the following Bachelor of Engineering (Honours) programs.

Engineering Majors - Autumn 2022

Advanced Manufacturing, Testamur Major (T126) (p. 1268)
Business Analytics, Testamur Major (T130) (p. 1324)
Civil, Testamur Major (T033) (p. 1354)
Construction, Testamur Major (T034) (p. 1379)

Business Component

Core Subjects (compulsory 40 credit points)

Subject	Title	Credit Points
LAWS 1001	Enterprise Law	10
BUSM 1010	Financing Enterprises	10
BUSM 1006	Enterprise Innovation and Markets	10
BUSM 1008	Enterprise Leadership	10
Total Credit Points		40

Professional Subjects (choose 40 credit points)

The professional subjects provide a focus on careers. Students are required to complete one subject from each of the four key focus areas: numeracy, career planning, innovation, and enterprise engagement, a total of 40 credit points. Students are advised to choose subjects that will support careers in one of three areas:

- Money (for majors in Applied Finance and Economics),
- Markets (for majors in International Business, Marketing and Sport Management),
- Management (for majors in Human Resource Management and Management).

The professional subjects that are recommended for each of the Bachelor of Business testamur majors are specified in the majors.

Majors

Choose 80 credit points from one primary Business major. These are testamur majors.

Use the links below to each Bachelor of Business Major see the list of Core, Professional and Major subjects required. Students should follow the recommended sequence listed under each Bachelor of Engineering (Honours) program via the links above and not the recommended sequence listed under each B Bus Major.

Majors for Careers in Money

- Practical Experience: A session of industrial experience is required at the end of the third or fourth year.

Applications from Australian and New Zealand citizens and holders of permanent resident visas must be made via the Universities Admissions Centre (UAC). Use the links below to apply via UAC or Western Sydney University. Applications made directly to Western Sydney do not have an application fee.

Applicants who have undertaken studies overseas may have to provide proof of proficiency in English. Local and International applicants who are applying through the Universities Admissions Centre (UAC) will find details of minimum English proficiency requirements and acceptable proof on the UAC website. Local applicants applying directly to the University should also use the information provided on the UAC website.

Overseas qualifications must be deemed by the Australian Education International - National Office of Overseas Skills Recognition (AEI-NOOSR) to be equivalent to Australian qualifications in order to be considered by UAC and Western Sydney University.

Program Structure

Qualification for this award requires the successful completion of 440 credit points.

Students who complete this award will graduate with two testamurs

- Bachelor of Engineering (Honours), with the Bachelor of Engineering major noted on the testamur, and
- Bachelor of Business, with the Bachelor of Business Major noted on the testamur.

Engineering Component

Students must study eight Engineering Foundation subjects (80 credit points) followed by 18 Engineering Major Core subjects (200 credit points) in one of the following Bachelor of Engineering (Honours) majors.

Advanced Manufacturing, Testamur Major (T126) (p. 1268)
Civil Engineering, Testamur Major (T131) (p. 1341)
Construction Engineering, Testamur Major (T132) (p. 1366)
Electrical Engineering, Testamur Major (T102) (p. 1417)
Materials Engineering, Testamur Major (T128) (p. 1550)
Mechanical Engineering, Testamur Major (T103) (p. 1566)
Robotics and Mechatronics Engineering, Testamur Major (T104) (p. 1635) Sustainability Engineering, Testamur Major (T129) (p. 1682)

Business Component

Core Subjects (compulsory 40 credit points)

BUSM 1010	Financing Enterprises	10
BUSM 1006	Enterprise Innovation and Markets	10
BUSM 1008	Enterprise Leadership	10
Total Credit Points		40

Professional Subjects (choose 40 credit points)

The professional subjects provide a focus on careers. Students are required to complete one subject from each of the four key focus areas: numeracy, career planning, innovation, and enterprise engagement, a total of 40 credit points. Students are advised to choose subjects that will support careers in one of four areas:

- Money (for majors in Applied Finance and Economics),
- Markets (for majors in International Business, Marketing and Sport Management),
- Management (for majors in Human Resource Management and Management),
- Business Analytics (for majors in Business Analytics.

The professional subjects that are recommended for each of the Bachelor of Business testamur majors are specified in the majors.

Majors

Choose 80 credit points from one primary Business major. These are testamur majors.

Use the links below to each Bachelor of Business Major see the list of Core, Professional and Major subjects required. Students should follow the recommended sequence listed under each Bachelor of Engineering (Honours) program via the links above and not the recommended sequence listed under each B Business Major.

Majors for Careers in Money

Applied Finance, Testamur Major (T038) (p. 1301)
Economics, Testamur Major (T039) (p. 1407)

Majors for Careers in Markets

International Business, Testamur Major (T042) (p. 1524)

Handbook summary 2023 and earlier

The Bachelor of Engineering Advanced (Honours) is a four year honours degree program. The program has been designed to meet Engineers Australia professional accreditation requirements. Students have the opportunity to focus on a discipline area by selecting a Major in Advanced Manufacturing, Civil, Construction, Electrical, Materials, Mechanical, Robotic & Mechatronic, and Sustainability engineering. The majors of Electrical, Mechanical, and Robotics & Mechatronics engineering are offered within the WSU-UNSW Collaborative Program (see below). In addition, students can specialise by selecting a Minor from a wide range of recommended subject sets that will complement their chosen discipline. Students in this program will need to maintain a minimum GPA of 5.0 at the end of completion of 160 credit points, and again at the completion of 200 credit points; those not meeting this academic performance requirement will be transferred to Bachelor of Engineering (Honours).

WSU-UNSW Collaborative Program

The WSU-UNSW Collaborative Program is exclusive to the Bachelor of Engineering Advanced (Honours) degree and offers three majors; Electrical, Mechanical and Robotics & Mechatronics engineering. UNSW academics deliver 5 subjects into this Program, with each major including 3 UNSW delivered subjects. Students who achieve a GPA of 5.7 or above at the completion of 2 years (160 cp) of study will be eligible to transfer to UNSW to complete the remainder of their studies and graduate with a UNSW Bachelor of Engineering (Honours) degree (subject to meeting the threshold requirements for student transfer). Students not transferring to UNSW will continue their studies at WSU in the Bachelor of Engineering Advanced (Honours) degree of their selected major.

Handbook summary from 2024

The Bachelor of Engineering Advanced (Honours) is a four-year honours degree program. The program has been designed to meet Engineers Australia professional accreditation requirements. Students have the opportunity to focus on a discipline area by selecting a Major in Advanced Manufacturing, Civil, Construction, Electrical, Materials, Mechanical, Robotic & Mechatronic, or Sustainability engineering. In addition, students can specialise by selecting a Minor from a wide range of recommended subject sets that will complement their chosen discipline. Students in this program will need to maintain a minimum GPA of 5.0 at the end of completion of 160 credit points, and again at the completion of 200 credit points; those not meeting this academic performance requirement will be transferred to Bachelor of Engineering (Honours).

This program is taught at the Parramatta City - Hassall Street campus.

Early Exit

Students may exit this program on completion of 240 credit points with a 3691 Bachelor of Engineering Science (https://hbook.westernsydney.edu.au/programs/bachelor-engineering-science/)

Accreditation

The Majors of Advanced Manufacturing, Materials and Sustainability are currently under provisional accreditations from Engineers Australia (EA). The Majors of Civil, Construction, Electrical, Mechanical and Robotics and Mechatronics are under full accreditations from Engineers Australia (EA).

The Major of Software Engineering will seek provisional accreditation from the Australian Computer Society (ACS) in 2021. Full accreditation will be sought after the first cohort graduates in 2025.

Inherent Requirements

There are inherent requirements for this program that you must meet in order to complete your program and graduate. Make sure you read and understand the requirements for this program online.

The Bachelor of Engineering Science (BEngSc) is a three-year degree program with common first year structure. Students have the opportunity to focus on a discipline area by selecting a Major in Advanced Manufacturing, Civil, Construction, Electrical, Materials, Mechanical, Robotics & Mechatronics, and Sustainability engineering. The program has been developed with the view of enabling graduates to practice as an engineering technologist in their chosen field. The three-year BEngSc program may be used as a pathway to the four-year Bachelor of Engineering program that meets Engineers Australia professional accreditation requirements; an academic performance criteria will be the eligibility criteria for such a transfer.

This program is taught at the Parramatta City - Hassall Street campus.

Study Mode

Accreditation

The program has been designed to meet Engineers Australia professional accreditation requirements – Competency Stage 1 Engineering Technologist and Australian Quality Frameworks (AQF) Level 7.

Engineers Australia accreditation is pending approval for the Advanced Manufacturing, Materials, and Sustainability disciplines. Engineers Australia accreditation for the Surabaya Campus offering will be sought.

Graduates of this program are eligible to apply for full membership of Engineers Australia. They are eligible to apply for Certified Engineering Technologist registration upon successful completion of required engineering practice period specified by Engineers Australia.

All students undertaking the Bachelor of Engineering Science are required to enrol in MATH 1021 Mathematics for Engineers Preliminary. Students with advanced mathematical skills (band 6 in Advanced Maths or a good grade in Extension Maths or equivalent) may take a readiness test at the start of semester to determine if they are ready for direct entry to MATH 1016 Mathematics for Engineers 1. This test is a mathematics aptitude test, students with the requisite skills should not need to study for it.

Students who pass the readiness test will have their enrolment transferred to MATH 1016 Mathematics for Engineers 1 by the School.

Students remaining in MATH 1021 Mathematics for Engineers Preliminary will be required to complete MATH 1016 Mathematics for Engineers 1 during second semester and will be encouraged to complete MATH 1019 Mathematics for Engineers 2 during the Summer session.

Bachelor of Entrepreneurship (3747)

Approved Abbreviation: BEntrep
Western Sydney University Program Code: 3747
AQF Level: 7

CRICOS Code: 0101788

This program applies to students who commenced in 2017 or later

The Bachelor of Entrepreneurship is not a stand-alone degree, but is designed to be undertaken in combination with any Western Sydney bachelor degree. The degree is an innovative approach to training the next generation of high impact entrepreneurs by providing knowledge and developing practical skills. The program aims to guide students through all phases of their entrepreneurship journey: from forming a team to helping with pitching their ideas to potential investors and developing strategies for obtaining funding.

Students will not be limited to learning a particular profession, but will also engage in the process of building a start-up company. The key emphasis of this program is on developing the mindset, risk tolerance, creativity, passion, big thinking, team formation and leadership capabilities – key characteristics of high impact entrepreneurs. Practical experience is incorporated into every semester of study, such as incubators, technology parks, and innovation centres and enabling a student through all the stages from creative ideas through the sustainable development of the idea into a lean start-up. Upon completion graduates will demonstrate an entrepreneurial mind set and will know how to apply this mindset to address a diverse range of problems through game and simulation-based solutions.

Students will have the ability to complete the Bachelor of Entrepreneurship as either intertwined with the student's primary degree and studied concurrently, or as a final year block of subjects at the end of their primary degree.

Study Mode

Three years full-time or the equivalent part-time. Note: This includes two years equivalent Advanced Standing for prior undergraduate degree.

BUSM 2023 - Incubator 2: Legal and Ethical Setting of Entrepreneurship

Bachelor of Entrepreneurship (Games Design and Simulation) (3746)

Approved Abbreviation: BEntrep(GamesDesSim)
Western Sydney University Program Code: 3746
AQF Level: 7

CRICOS Code: 096607G

This program applies to students who commenced in Spring 2018 or later.

Students should follow the program structure for the session start date relevant to the year they commenced.

For Commencement Year 2017 to Autumn 2018, please refer to: 3746.1 Bachelor of Entrepreneurship (Games Design and Simulation) (http://handbook.westernsydney.edu.au/hbook/course.aspx?course=3746.1)

The Bachelor of Entrepreneurship (Games Design and Simulation) is an innovative approach to training the next generation of high impact entrepreneurs by providing the knowledge and developing the practical skills that make them successful. Whilst the specialist focus of the degree is game and simulation development, the program connects it with the art of entrepreneurship and guides students through all phases of their entrepreneurship journey: from forming a team to obtaining funding. Students will gain game development skills while also learning how to start a gaming company. The key emphasis of this program is on developing the mindset, risk tolerance, creativity, team formation and leadership capabilities – key characteristics of high impact entrepreneurs. Practical experience is incorporated into every semester of study, enabling students to continue working on their start-ups throughout the degree.

Study Mode

Three years full-time or six years part-time.

Commencement Year 2017 to 2020 - 1843.1 Bachelor of Graphic Design (Pathway to Teaching Secondary) (http://handbook.westernsydney.edu.au/hbook/course.aspx?course=1843.1)

The Bachelor of Graphic Design (Pathway to Teaching Secondary) is a three-year degree specially designed to lead into the Master of Teaching (Secondary), an accredited postgraduate teaching qualification. Together, the two degrees provide direct access to a teaching career and improved prospects for career advancement.

With an emphasis on studio-based practice, you will study areas such as image design, typography, layout design, branding, design history, research methods, and web-based design. From year two, you will develop a focus on digital design, photography, and graphics technology, enabling you to develop two teaching disciplines, Design & Technology and Graphics & Multimedia Technology. In year three you will also study an Education Studies minor, where you will gain an understanding of contemporary education issues, teaching and learning. As well as being equipped with the necessary elements of an initial teacher qualification, you will be prepared for professional graphic design practice and associated alternate employment opportunities in design. Students who complete this degree will gain 40 credit points of advanced standing towards the first semester of theMaster of Teaching (Secondary) (p. 1214).

For further information concerning the requirements for secondary teaching, students are advised to consult the Subject Content Requirements for Primary and Secondary Teaching NSW (Abridged) from the NSW Educational Standards Authority (NESA) or the School of Education.

Bachelor of Health Science (4656)

Approved Abbreviation: BHlthSc
Western Sydney University Program Code: 4656
AQF Level: 7

CRICOS Code: 044779G

This program applies to students who commenced in 2022 or later

Students should follow the program structure for the session start date relevant to the year they commenced.

For Commencement Year 2021 - please refer to 4656.3 Bachelor of Health Science (http://handbook.westernsydney.edu.au/hbook/course.aspx?course=4656.3)

For Commencement Year 2016 - please refer to 4656.2 Bachelor of Health Science (http://handbook.westernsydney.edu.au/hbook/course.aspx?course=4656.2)

For Commencement Year 2010 - please refer to 4656.1 Bachelor of Health Science (http://handbook.westernsydney.edu.au/hbook/course.aspx?course=4656.1)

The Bachelor of Health Science provides an understanding of health sciences. Students choose one of five majors.

Clinical Sciences, Testamur Major (T109) (p. 1358)
Health Promotion, Testamur Major (T018) (p. 1480)
Health Services Management, Testamur Major (T019) (p. 1483)
Public Health, Testamur Major (T021) (p. 1623)
Recreational Therapy, Testamur Major (T110) (p. 1628)

These majors prepare students for work in related fields or to undertake further study. The health promotion, public health, health services management and recreational therapy programs qualify students for highly demanded positions in the workforce. The clinical sciences testamur major prepares students for graduate entry clinical health courses. Students have flexibility in their elective choices within the program and can select from a range of majors or minors, to complement their primary testamur major and extend their health discipline-specific knowledge and skill set.

The testamur majors Public Health, Health Promotion and Recreational Therapy are also offered as fully online courses.

Study Mode

Three years full-time or six years part-time.

Work Integrated Learning (WIL) for international students (https://www.westernsydney.edu.au/currentstudents/current_students/services_and_facilities/international_student_support/working_in_australia/work_integrated_learning/)

The health promotion, public health, health services management and recreational therapy majors each have work placements. These workplace-based placements are embedded in subjects within the testamur major and include threshold assessment tasks. Work placements are organised in NSW Health or other appropriate and equivalent placement settings. Students are supervised by qualified practitioners in these disciplines.

Work Integrated Learning Placements allow students the opportunity to apply their knowledge and skills in the health care setting. The program offers work placements blocks of 140hrs (Health Promotion and Public Health), 280hrs (Health Services Management) and 720hrs (Recreational Therapy). Clinical Sciences students can undertake a work placement by choosing a second major in 0052 Health Promotion, 0055 Public Health or 0053 Health Services Management. As most of these placements are with NSW Health, the special requirements are required to be completed in the students first year of study.

Student Compliance Information for all Health-Related Placements

To enrol in this program, students must meet Western Sydney University program requirements. To attend a health-related placement in this program, Special Legislative Requirements will be assessed from the first year of study.

Western Program Requirements

Visit the Special Requirements webpage for details about your program.

Special Requirements (https://www.westernsydney.edu.au/currentstudents/current_students/enrolment/special_requirements/)

Mandatory NSW Health student placement policy requirements

To be able to undertake placement in any NSW Health facility you must be assessed as compliant with NSW Health student placement policy in the first year of your program, regardless of when you expect to go on your first placement. Access and read the NSW Student Compliance Information Booklet

NSW Student Compliance Information Booklet (https://issuu.com/uwspublications/docs/wsu_student_compliance_booklet_2020_v6/)

Please ensure that you

1. Find your existing National Police Check or apply for one
2. Gather documentary evidence of your vaccination history
3. Print and compete all relevant NSW Health forms relevant to the campus you are enrolled at or online enrolment requirements
4. Follow booklet instructions on how to have your compliance documents assessed by NSW health staff.

International students have additional requirements: the link to the booklet will inform you of these requirements.

School Requirements

Contact your School for further details regarding your School's requirements, if any, such as

- If you live outside of NSW or Australia and need to meet your state, territory or country's compliance requirements
- If you need to meet different state, territory or country compliance requirements.
- NSW Working with Children Check (WWCC) or other state equivalent, valid for your entire program.
- Current approved first aid certificate valid for your entire program - approved program providers can be found at the Government Training website
- http://training.gov.au
- Other non-health related requirements

Program Structure

Qualification for this award requires the successful completion of 240 credit points.

The Bachelor of Health Science is made up of a compulsory core group of 8 subjects (80cp) that focus on the foundation knowledge and skills required by all health professionals. These subjects focus on population health, health professional competencies, communication, anatomy and physiology, human development across the lifespan, diseases, psychology, research and evidence and project development and management. All 4656 students share the same core and some of these subjects are also shared with other clinical health courses in the School of Health Science.

The major is added to the core set. It is the primary focus of the degree and is written on the testamur at graduation. Testamur majors in Public Health, Health Promotion, Health Services Management and Recreational Therapy prepare graduates for industry-based health professional roles and course completion. Alternately, the Clinical Sciences testamur major has been designed as a pathway degree, to help students progress to post graduate study in clinical health areas. Clinical Sciences has been designed specifically to ensure foundation skills and presumed knowledge areas are covered.

Each testamur majors adds an additional 80cps to your program, except for Recreational Therapy which requires an additional 120cp.

Bachelor of Health Science (Health and Physical Education) (4747)

Approved Abbreviation: BHlthSc(HPE)
Western Sydney University Program Code: 4747
AQF Level: 7

CRICOS Code: 089443D

This program applies to students who commenced in 2017 or later.

Students should follow the program structure for the session start date relevant to the year they commenced.

For commencement year 2016 - please refer to 4747.1 - Bachelor of Health Science (Health and Physical Education) (http://handbook.westernsydney.edu.au/hbook/course.aspx?course=4747.1)

The Health and Physical Education (HPE) program brings together a comprehensive foundation of health sciences, understanding of physical activity, and skills in interacting with people. The program explores challenging areas of personal development, including youth health issues, sexuality, drugs, psychology and risk-taking behaviours, as well as general health science, including human biology, health systems, health promotion and research. Facilities are state of the art, including a new gymnasium and a renovated dance and gym studio, and practical experience is a strong feature of the program. The program is a popular pathway to a Master of Teaching degree, and then on to a teaching career. Teaching opportunities can be extended beyond HPE by studying electives, such as science and mathematics, where students gain a second teaching area in a subject of their choice. Graduates also work as personal trainers, sports coaches, research assistants, and community-based recreation.

Study Mode

Three years full-time.

Bachelor of Health Science (Paramedicine) (4669)

Approved Abbreviation: BHlthSc(Paramedic)
Western Sydney University Program Code: 4669
AQF Level: 7

CRICOS Code: 079923D

This program applies to students who commenced in 2022.

Students should follow the program structure for the session start date relevant to the year they commenced.

Commencement Year 2014 to 2021 - 4669.1 Bachelor of Health Science (Paramedicine) (http://handbook.westernsydney.edu.au/hbook/course.aspx?course=4669.1)

Paramedics play an integral role in the health system, responding to emergencies involving patients with acute and sub-acute health problems in a range of diverse and uncontrolled settings. Paramedics provide unscheduled, out-of-hospital care to patients of all ages, dealing with health complaints that span the spectrum of illness and injury severity and complexity. This contemporary program has a strong evidence-based focus and uses innovative blended learning and assessment strategies, together with diverse clinical placements, to develop high level practical and clinical decision making skills. Completion of the program will enable you to work effectively as a paramedic in an ambulance service, the private paramedical industry, or the defence forces.

Note: This program involves a mandatory health and medical assessment that must be completed prior to enrolling in HLTH 1009 Paramedic Practice 1 offered in Spring Year 1, and undertaking the associated ambulance service clinical placement. Students who are unable to pass the assessment by the end of Autumn session in the first year of the program will be required to take a leave of absence pending re-assessment in the following year, or transfer to an alternative health science program such as 4656 Bachelor of Health Science.

Student Compliance Information for all Health-Related Placements

To enrol in this program, students must meet Western Sydney University program requirements. To attend a health-related placement in this program, Special Legislative Requirements will be assessed from the first year of study.

Western Program Requirements

Visit the Special Requirements webpage for details about your program.

Special Requirements (https://www.westernsydney.edu.au/currentstudents/current_students/enrolment/special_requirements/)

Mandatory NSW Health student placement policy requirements

To be able to undertake placement in any NSW Health facility you must be assessed as compliant with NSW Health student placement policy in the first year of your program, regardless of when you expect to go on your first placement. Access and read the NSW Student Compliance Information Booklet

NSW Student Compliance Information Booklet (https://issuu.com/uwspublications/docs/wsu_student_compliance_booklet_2020_v6/)

Please ensure that you

1. Find your existing National Police Check or apply for one
2. Gather documentary evidence of your vaccination history
3. Print and compete all relevant NSW Health forms relevant to the campus you are enrolled at or online enrolment requirements
4. Follow booklet instructions on how to have your compliance documents assessed by NSW health staff.

International students have additional requirements: the link to the booklet will inform you of these requirements.

School Requirements

Contact your School for further details regarding your School's requirements, if any, such as

- If you live outside of NSW or Australia and need to meet your state, territory or country's compliance requirements
- If you need to meet different state, territory or country compliance requirements.
- NSW Working with Children Check (WWCC) or other state equivalent, valid for your entire program.
- Current approved first aid certificate valid for your entire program - approved program providers can be found at the Government Training website
- http://training.gov.au
- Other non-health related requirements

Student Compliance Resources are also available on the Placements Hub web page (NSW students only) https://www.westernsydney.edu.au/learning_futures/home/placements_hub/placements_hub/student_compliance (https://www.westernsydney.edu.au/learning_futures/home/placements_hub/placements_hub/student_compliance/)

Special Requirements

In clinical placement units, students must wear the Western Sydney University paramedicine uniform, which complies with NSW uniform requirements. This uniform will be purchased at the student's expense.

For Commencement Year 2010 - please refer to 4658.1 Bachelor of Health Science (Sport and Exercise Science) (http://handbook.westernsydney.edu.au/hbook/course.aspx?course=4658.1)

Sport and exercise science encompasses the science that underpins health, physical activity and exercise, and their applications to the design, implementation and evaluation of exercise programs. There are a range of career options in health and fitness centres, for example as a personal trainer, a health and fitness specialist or a fitness assessor, in government agencies associated with sport, physical activity and health, in teaching and research, and with professional sporting groups, rehabilitation clinics and hospitals. If you gain higher-level accreditation as an exercise physiologist, you will also be able to provide healthcare services funded by Medicare (Australian Government), pharmaceutical, health or food industries. Alternatively, graduates who elect studies in the physical sciences, mathematics or business are well placed for careers in the manufacturing industry.

The program combines studies in exercise physiology, sports psychology, biomechanics motor control and exercise prescription with a broad understanding of biomedicine and various health science fields to develop the professional competencies important for ethical and safe practice and high quality care and the skills to work in multidisciplinary teams. Facilities are state-of-the-art, centred on an Exercise and Sport Science Laboratory complex, and practical experience is a strong feature of the program.

Study Mode

Bachelor of Humanitarian and Development Studies (1735)

Approved Abbreviation: BHuman&DevtSt
Western Sydney University Program Code: 1735
AQF Level: 7

CRICOS Code: 088714E

This program applies to students who commenced in 2016 or later.

The Bachelor of Humanitarian and Development Studies covers all aspects of disaster management, humanitarian assistance, and development to equip students with the required skills, knowledge, and practical experience (i.e. humanitarian crisis simulation + international or domestic internship) that make you ready to work with national and international government and non-government organisations implementing short- and long-term life-saving programs. The degree provides a theory- driven and comprehensive field experience package that enhances students' learning, research skills, real world experience, and career readiness. The field experience opportunity requires students to obtain a medical clearance, and a Working with Children check.

Early Exit

Students may exit this program on completion of 80 credit points with a 1917 (https://hbook.westernsydney.edu.au/programs/diploma-social-science-humanitarian-development-studies-exit-only/)Diploma in Social Science (Humanitarian and Development Studies) (exit only) (https://hbook.westernsydney.edu.au/programs/diploma-social-science-humanitarian-development-studies-exit-only/).

Bachelor of Industrial Design (3730)

Approved Abbreviation: BIndDes
Western Sydney University Program Code: 3730

AQF Level: 7

CRICOS Code: 041035E

This program applies to students who commenced in 2021 or later.

Students should follow the program structure for the session start date relevant to the year they commenced.

For commencement year 2020, please refer to: 3730.3 Bachelor of Industrial Design (http://handbook.westernsydney.edu.au/hbook/course.aspx?course=3730.3)

For commencement year 2018-2019, please refer to: 3730.2 Bachelor of Industrial Design (http://handbook.westernsydney.edu.au/hbook/course.aspx?course=3730.2)

Handbook Summary 2021 - 2022

This degree provides students with the knowledge to create a career as an industrial designer involved in new product development, and collaborative leadership at the forefront of innovation and creativity. Students are engaged in industry-driven curriculum content over four years of study with a focus on the latest advances in sustainable materials, smart manufacturing, sustainability, human factors research, and design innovation in realising breakthrough products and services while improving the quality of life through good design. Specialisations in strategic design management, business model innovation, digital innovation, sustainable futures and design practice, help students who wish to pursue a corporate design role, or build their own start-up business generating new value and driving dynamic careers.

Handbook Summary 2023

Industrial Designers are innovation leaders working across collaborative teams within design consultancies and across a multitude of client-based projects in a wide array of fields. In this program students will experience Advanced and Additive Manufacturing and develop the design skills to maximise the outcomes for brands, products, and positive environmental impacts.

Students work collaboratively, in teams and with clients, on industry projects whilst utilising the extensive Design Studio and Advanced Prototyping Workshop facilities available to them. At the culmination of the program students will have the opportunity to have their capstone Project showcased in the Annual Widevision School Excellence Exhibition for industry and employer engagement providing a unique career enhancing, and networking opportunity.

This program places graduates at the forefront of developing new user experiences and high-level outcomes in brand management, marketing and manufacturing. Graduate opportunities range from working with consumer products such as medical devices, advanced packaging and sustainable circular products, to high technology industries including wearables, space, and IoT enabled interfaces. Studies are held at the Parramatta Engineering Innovation Hub.

Effective Design Practice career professionals require a broad range of knowledge to allow them to connect and work with colleagues across many disciplines. To assist students to flexibly build their career pathways, the Bachelor of Industrial Design provides elective options in order to complete an industrial design major; or one or two minors; or explore a range of free electives in areas of interest across the university.

Parts of this course may be taught at the Parramatta City - Hassall St campus or at the Parramatta South campus.

Early Exit

Students may exit this program on completion of 240 credit points with a 3729 Bachelor of Design and Technology (https://hbook.westernsydney.edu.au/programs/bachelor-design-technology/)

Study Mode

Four years full-time or eight years part-time.

Work Integrated Learning

Western Sydney University seeks to enhance student learning experiences by enabling students to engage in the culture, expectations and practices of their profession or discipline. This program includes a placement or other community-based unpaid practical experience.

There is a mandatory work component required for completion of this program. Please contact the Program Advisor listed above for information.

International students should also refer to the link below for more information and a link to the Commonwealth Register of Institutions and Courses for Overseas Students (CRICOS).

Work Integrated Learning (WIL) for international students (https://www.westernsydney.edu.au/currentstudents/current_students/services_and_facilities/international_student_support/working_in_australia/work_integrated_learning/)

Admission

Assumed knowledge: any two units of English plus at least two units of Design, Design and Technology, Visual Arts, Digital Multimedia, Engineering, or Business Studies.

Alternate Entry Pathway

Entry by interview in which personal aptitude, professional experience, and educational qualifications are taken into consideration supported by a portfolio of works. After applicants have applied they are required to book an interview and download a questionnaire at the University's online booking system. The questionnaire provides applicants further information on how to prepare their portfolio and for the interview.

Majors and Minors

The Bachelor of Industrial Design is offered on Parramatta (Victoria Road) Campus only. Students may be required to travel between campuses in order to complete some subjects within specific majors and minors.

Design Practice, Major (0225) (p. 1399)
Technology Entrepreneurship, Major (0261) (p. 1708)

Business Studies for Secondary Teaching, Minor (0139) (p. 1327)
Construction Economics, Minor (0119) (p. 1365)
Culture and Society, Minor (0264) (p. 1391)
Design Practice, Minor (0225) (p. 1400)
Graphic Design, Minor (0073) (p. 1471)
Indigenous Australian Studies, Minor (0015) (p. 1511)
Social Ecology, Minor (0215) (p. 1667)
Sustainable Futures, Minor (0035) (p. 1701)

Program Structure 2023

Qualification for this award requires the successful completion of 320 credit points which include the subjects listed in the recommended sequence below.

Recommended Sequence

The core subjects are taught at the Parramatta City (Hassall St) campus.

Students may be required to travel to different Western Sydney University campuses to complete Majors, Minors or elective subjects.

Bachelor of Industrial Design (Honours) (3731)

Approved Abbreviation: BIndDes(Hons)
Western Sydney University Program Code: 3731
AQF Level: 8

CRICOS Code: 107743E

This program applies to students who commenced in 2021 or later.

Students should follow the program structure for the session start date relevant to the year they commenced.

For commencement year 2020, please refer to: 3731.3 Bachelor of Industrial Design (Honours) (http://handbook.westernsydney.edu.au/hbook/course.aspx?course=3731.3)

For commencement year 2018-2020, please refer to: 3731.2 Bachelor of Industrial Design (Honours) (http://handbook.westernsydney.edu.au/hbook/course.aspx?course=3731.2)

Handbook Summary 2021 - 2022

The Bachelor of Industrial Design (Honours) is a four-year program with specialisations that build significant support for the final year research thesis and applied design research project. The Design Research pathway central to Honours is developed to meet the demands of industry and academia in creating new contributions to the body of knowledge in innovation, systems thinking, design thinking, and social innovation.

The curriculum offers structured and self-directed learning across standard class formats, studio-based, blended online and experiential Work Integrated Learning with focus on advanced design research methods drawn from industry-based design practice providing graduates with multi-directional employment pathways.

Parts of this course may be taught at the Parramatta City - Hassall St campus or at the Parramatta South campus.

Handbook Summary 2023

The Honours Design Research pathway is developed to meet the demands of communities, industries, and academia in creating new applied design research contributions to the societal body of knowledge in creativity, innovation, systems and design thinking, and social innovation.

The curriculum offers structured and self-directed learning across standard class formats, studio-based, blended, online and experiential Work Integrated Learning. At the culmination of the program the final year Thesis Projects are showcased in the Annual Widevision School Excellence Exhibition for industry and employer engagement providing a unique, career enhancing, engagement and networking opportunity.

With a focus on advanced design research methods drawn from industry-based design practice graduates are provided with multi-directional employment pathways. Students can choose to transition to a research pathway such as Masters and PhD studies or to an industry or entrepreneurial career in their chosen area of research specialisation. Studies are held at the Parramatta Engineering Innovation Hub.

Effective industrial design research career professionals require a broad range of knowledge to allow them to connect and work with colleagues across many disciplines. To assist students to flexibly build their career pathways, the Bachelor of Industrial Design (Honours) provides elective options in order to complete an industrial design major; one or two minors; or explore a range of free electives in areas of interest outside of industrial design.

Parts of this course may be taught at the Parramatta City - Hassall St campus or at the Parramatta South campus.

Early Exit

Students may exit this program on completion of 240 credit points with a 3729 Bachelor of Design and Technology (https://hbook.westernsydney.edu.au/programs/bachelor-design-technology/)

Study Mode

Four years full-time or eight years part-time.

Accreditation

Graduates are eligible for membership of the Design Institute of Australia (DIA)

Work Integrated Learning

Western Sydney University seeks to enhance student learning experiences by enabling students to engage in the culture, expectations and practices of their profession or discipline. This program includes a placement or other community-based unpaid practical experience.

There is a mandatory work component required for completion of this program. Please contact the Program Advisor listed above for information.

International students should also refer to the link below for more information and a link to the Commonwealth Register of Institutions and Courses for Overseas Students (CRICOS).

Work Integrated Learning (WIL) for international students (https://www.westernsydney.edu.au/currentstudents/current_students/services_and_facilities/international_student_support/working_in_australia/work_integrated_learning/)

Admission

Assumed knowledge: any two subjects of English plus at least two subjects of Design, Design and Technology, Visual Arts, Digital Multimedia, Engineering, or Business Studies.

Alternate Entry

Entry by interview in which personal aptitude, professional experience, and educational qualifications are taken into consideration supported by a portfolio of works. After applicants have applied they are required to book an interview and download a questionnaire at the University's online booking system. The questionnaire provides applicants further information on how to prepare their portfolio and for the interview.

Applicants who have undertaken studies overseas may have to provide proof of proficiency in English. Local applicants who are applying through the Universities Admissions Centre (UAC) will find details of minimum English proficiency requirements and acceptable proof on the UAC website. Local applicants applying directly to the University should also use the information provided on the UAC website.

International students currently completing an Australian Year 12 in or outside Australia, an International Baccalaureate in Australia or a New Zealand National Certificate of Educational Achievement (NCEA) level 3 must apply via UAC International.

http://www.uac.edu.au/

All other International applicants must apply directly to the University via the International Office.

International students applying to the University through the International Office can find details of minimum English proficiency requirements and acceptable proof on their website.

International Office (http://www.westernsydney.edu.au/international/)

Overseas qualifications must be deemed by the Australian Education International - National Office of Overseas Skills Recognition (AEI-NOOSR) to be equivalent to Australian qualifications in order to be considered by UAC and Western Sydney University.

Recommended Sequence 2022

Qualification for this award requires the successful completion of 320 credit points which include the subjects listed in the recommended sequence below.

Parts of these subjects may be taught at the Parramatta City - Hassall St campus or at the Parramatta South campus.

Majors

Design Practice, Major (0225) (p. 1399)
Indigenous Australian Studies, Major (0015) (p. 1510)
Technology Entrepreneurship, Major (0261) (p. 1708)

Minors

Western Sydney University also offers the following innovative transdisciplinary minors which we encourage those students who have elective space to consider or may choose another university-wide:

Climate Justice, Minor (0315) (p. 1357)
Design Practice, Minor (0225) (p. 1400)
Eco-Socially Conscious Design and Manufacturing, Minor (0310) (p. 1406)
Equitable Technologies, Minor (0312) (p. 1447)
Global Sustainability, Minor (0196) (p. 1469)
Global Workplaces, Minor (0316) (p. 1469)
Humanitarian Action in Practice, Minor (0327) (p. 1506)
Indigenous Australian Studies, Minor (0015) (p. 1511)
Innovating, Creating and Problem Solving, Minor (0283) (p. 1517)
Innovating For Humans, Minor (0288) (p. 1517)
Migration and Global Change, Minor (0314) (p. 1582)
Personal Innovation, Minor (0284) (p. 1605)
Social Ecology, Minor (0215) (p. 1667)

Bachelor of Information and Communications Technology (3639)

Approved Abbreviation: BICT
Western Sydney University Program Code: 3639
AQF Level: 7

CRICOS Code: 064013K

This program applies to students who commenced in 2016 or later.

Students should follow the program structure for the session start date relevant to the year they commenced.

For Commencement Year 2014, please refer to: 3639.3 Bachelor of Information and Communications Technology (http://handbook.uws.edu.au/hbook/course.aspx?course=3639.3)

For Commencement Year 2009 to Autumn 2013, please refer to: 3639.1 Bachelor of Information and Communications Technology (http://handbook.uws.edu.au/hbook/course.aspx?course=3639.1)

The Bachelor of Information and Communications Technology is a three-year program accredited by the Australian Computer Society. It meets the demands of business to be competitive and to innovate in this fast-changing area. Students build strong foundational skills, and then apply these to a range of industry relevant problems and projects as part of work-integrated learning. To complete the degree, students do a major to specialise in topics, such as, cyber security, cloud computing, multimedia computing. Students also have options to do a minor. This is a challenging and rewarding degree with an ever-expanding range of employment options.

NB: Majors / minors may not be offered on all campuses.

Study Mode

Three years full-time. Six years part-time.

Accreditation

On completion of this Program graduates will be eligible for professional membership of the Australian Computer Society. Australian Computer Society accreditation for the Surabaya Campus offering will be sought.

Work Integrated Learning

There is an optional work component available in this program. Please contact the Program Advisor listed above for information.

International students should be aware that if an elective is a requirement of the program but the work itself was not registered with CRICOS, students can still complete these electives but it would be counted towards the work limitation. For more details, refer to the 'Work Integrated Learning (WIL) for international students' website.

Work Integrated Learning (WIL) for international students (https://www.westernsydney.edu.au/currentstudents/current_students/services_and_facilities/international_student_support/working_in_australia/work_integrated_learning/)

There is a mandatory work component required for completion of this program. Please contact the Program Advisor listed above for information.

International students should also refer to the link below for more information and a link to the Commonwealth Register of Institutions and Courses for Overseas Students (CRICOS).

Admission

Assumed knowledge required: HSC Mathematics and any two units of HSC English

Applications from Australian and New Zealand citizens and holders of permanent resident visas may be made via the Universities Admissions Centre (UAC) or directly through the Western Portal. Use the links below to apply via UAC or Western Sydney University. Applications made directly to Western Sydney do not have an application fee.

http://www.uac.edu.au/
https://westernsydney.uac.edu.au/ws/

Applicants who have undertaken studies overseas may have to provide proof of proficiency in English. Local applicants who are applying through the Universities Admissions Centre (UAC) will find details of minimum English proficiency requirements and acceptable proof on the UAC website. Local applicants applying directly to the University should also use the information provided on the UAC website.

International students currently completing an Australian Year 12 in or outside Australia, an International Baccalaureate in Australia or a New Zealand National Certificate of Educational Achievement (NCEA) level 3 must apply via UAC International.
http://www.uac.edu.au/

All other International applicants must apply directly to the University via the International Office.

International students applying to the University through the International Office can find details of minimum English proficiency requirements and acceptable proof on their website.

International Office (http://www.westernsydney.edu.au/international/)

Overseas qualifications must be deemed by the Australian Education International - National Office of Overseas Skills Recognition (AEI-NOOSR) to be equivalent to Australian qualifications in order to be considered by UAC and Western Sydney University.

If you commenced in 2023 or later please refer to the Sequence 2023 tab for details.

Qualification for this award requires the successful completion of 240 credit points which include the subjects listed in the recommended sequence below.

Major and Minor elective spaces

Elective subjects may be used toward obtaining an additional approved major (80 credit points) or minor (40 credit points). Western Sydney University offers majors and minors in a range of areas including Sustainability and Indigenous Studies.

Global Sustainability Minor (p. 1469)
Indigenous Australian Studies Major (p. 1510)
Indigenous Australian Studies Minor (p. 1511)

Western Sydney University also offers the following innovative transdisciplinary Challenge Minors (https://www.westernsydney.edu.au/educational_partnerships_and_quality/home/challenge_minors/) which we encourage those students who have elective space to consider.

Equitable Technologies (p. 1447)
Urban Evolution (p. 1715)
Migration and Global Change (p. 1582)
Personal Innovation (p. 1605)
Innovating, Creating and Problem Solving (p. 1517)

Bachelor of Information and Communications Technology (Advanced) (3684)

Approved Abbreviation: BICTAdv
Western Sydney University Program Code: 3684
AQF Level: 7

CRICOS Code: 077827J

Program Status: CURRENT
This program applies to students who commenced in 2022 or later

The Bachelor of Information and Communications Technology (Advanced) is a challenging program that includes advanced coursework, extension projects and basic research training which develops the knowledge and skill sets of capable students for the high end of ICT professions. A mentoring program links students with experienced academic staff and research groups within the University helping to highlight relevant new and emerging technology developments for use in student work. Students are engaged in a wide variety of application development, industry projects and work integrated learning. To complete the degree, students do a major to specialise in topics, such as, cyber security, cloud computing, multimedia computing. Students also have options to do a minor, such as Ubiquitous Computing, Data Science and Machine Learning. This is a rewarding degree providing graduates with an ever-expanding range of employment options.

Study Mode

Three years full-time.

Accreditation

The Bachelor of Information and Communications Technology (Advanced) is accredited with the Australian Computer Society (ACS) at Professional level.

Work Integrated Learning

Western Sydney University seeks to enhance student learning experiences by enabling students to engage in the culture, expectations and practices of their profession or discipline. This program includes a placement or other community-based unpaid practical experience.

There is a mandatory work component required for completion of this program. Please contact the Program Advisor listed above for information.

International students should also refer to the link below for more information and a link to the Commonwealth Register of Institutions and Courses for Overseas Students (CRICOS).

Work Integrated Learning (WIL) for international students (https://www.westernsydney.edu.au/currentstudents/current_students/services_and_facilities/international_student_support/working_in_australia/work_integrated_learning/)

Admission

Assumed knowledge - HSC Mathematics and any two units of HSC English.

Minimum ATAR of 90. Students must maintain a Grade Point Average (GPA) greater than 5.0 to continue their enrolment in this program.

Applications from Australian and New Zealand citizens and holders of permanent resident visas may be made via the Universities Admissions Centre (UAC) or directly through the Western Portal. Use the links below to apply via UAC or Western Sydney University. Applications made directly to Western Sydney do not have an application fee.

Please note: elective spaces can be used to complete a Minor.

Major or minor subjects can be used in the elective spaces.

Majors

Cyber Security and Ethical Hacking, Testamur Major (T145) (p. 1393)
Enterprise Systems and Architectures, Testamur Major (T151) (p. 1438)
Health Informatics, Testamur Major (T007) (p. 1475)
Multimedia Computing, Testamur Major (T147) (p. 1587)
Networking and Cloud Computing, Testamur Major (T146) (p. 1596)
Software Development, Testamur Major (T148) (p. 1672)

Minors

It is suggested that students in the Bachelor of Information and Communications Technology who wish to choose a minor should choose from the list of optional minors below.

Cloud Computing, Minor (0128) (p. 1362)
Cyber Security and Ethical Hacking, Minor (0326) (p. 1393)
Data Science and Machine Learning, Minor (0322) (p. 1397)
Games Development, Minor (0323) (p. 1464)
Graphics and Visual Simulation, Minor (0324) (p. 1472)
Health Informatics, Minor (0037) (p. 1475)
Multimedia Computing, Minor (0328) (p. 1586)
Networking, Minor (0040) (p. 1597)
Software Development, Minor (0329) (p. 1671)
Ubiquitous Computing, Minor (0325) (p. 1714)

Bachelor of Information and Communications Technology (Health Information Management) (3711)

Approved Abbreviation: BICT(HIM)
Western Sydney University Program Code: 3711
AQF Level: 7

CRICOS Code: 110874A

This program applies to students who commenced in 2021 or later.

For commencement year 2015, please refer to: 3711.1 Bachelor of Information and Communications Technology (Health Information Management) (http://handbook.westernsydney.edu.au/hbook/course.aspx?course=3711.1)

The increasing use of electronic health records requires the accurate and efficient capture, maintenance, security and reporting of health information. This program will provide students with the knowledge and skills required to build software systems and undertake roles relating to the classification, coding and management of health information within a healthcare setting.

With direct industry experience through 140 hours of work placement, the program offers students the opportunity to seek employment in health information management and/or clinical coding, recognised as workforce skills shortage areas. Specific content areas addressed include Health Informatics, Systems Analysis and Design, Medical Terminology, Database Design and Development, Healthcare Data Environments, Clinical Classification and Coding, Programming, Web Development, Computer Networking, Health Service Management, Activity Based Funding and Data Quality and Healthcare Software and Systems.

Study Mode

Three years full-time. Six years part-time.

Accreditation

The Bachelor of Information and Communications Technology (Health Information Management) is accredited with the Australian Computer Society (ACS) at Professional level. Accreditation with the Health Information Management Association of Australia (HIMAA) is currently being sought. Successful certification will see graduates eligible for professional accreditation status with both bodies.

Work Integrated Learning

Western Sydney University seeks to enhance student learning experiences by enabling students to engage in the culture, expectations and practices of their profession or discipline. This program includes a placement or other community-based unpaid practical experience.

There is a mandatory work component required for completion of this program. Please contact the Program Advisor listed above for information.

International students should also refer to the link below for more information and a link to the Commonwealth Register of Institutions and Courses for Overseas Students (CRICOS).

Work Integrated Learning (WIL) for international students (https://www.westernsydney.edu.au/currentstudents/current_students/services_and_facilities/international_student_support/working_in_australia/work_integrated_learning/)

Admission

Applicants may be regarded as eligible for admission if they have completed the NSW HSC and attained the required ATAR (Australian Tertiary Admission Rank), or have completed other equivalent qualifications such as a recognised Diploma or Advanced Diploma.

Recognition of prior learning may be considered for applicants with Certificate III or Certificate IV in conjunction with relevant industry experience

Applications from Australian and New Zealand citizens and holders of permanent resident visas may be made via the Universities Admissions Centre (UAC) or directly through the Western Portal. Use the links below to apply via UAC or Western Sydney University. Applications made directly to Western Sydney do not have an application fee.

Bachelor of Information and Communications Technology/ Bachelor of Arts (3654)

Approved Abbreviation: BICT/BA
Western Sydney University Program Code: 3654
AQF Level: 7

CRICOS Code: 068787J

Program Status: CURRENT
This program applies to students who commenced in 2014 or later.

This double degree is designed in recognition of the globalising nature of the information technology industry. In addition to providing a strong technical background in IT, the program also provides students with the necessary knowledge in an Arts major such as: International Relations and Asian Studies; Culture and Society; English; History and Political Thought; Philosophy; Chinese; Japanese, Arabic, Indonesian and Psychological Studies.

In the IT area, the program allows students to develop skills in program design, application development, systems analysis and design, computer networking, web development, data analysis, and the implementation of technology to solve real-world problems.

Students in this double degree also have the opportunity to complete a semester of study overseas and receive advanced standing towards their BA majors and minors subject to WSU limits on advanced standing. Students are encouraged to do so but must discuss this with a BA program advisor first.

Study Mode

Four years full-time. Eight years part-time.

Accreditation

The business component of this program is accredited by the Association to Advance Collegiate Schools of Business (AACSB). The following Business Majors are accredited:

- Major T041 Human Resource Management is accredited with the Australian Human Resources Institute (AHRI).
- Major T038 Applied Finance satisfies the educational requirements for membership of the Financial Services Institute of Australasia (Finsia).
- Major T044 Marketing satisfies the requirements of accreditation of Marketing subjects in accordance with the Australian Marketing Institute's Accreditation and Endorsement Program. On completion of an AMI Accredited program graduates are eligible for special graduate membership rates and credit towards becoming a Certified Practising Marketer (CPM) in a shorter duration of time. Specifically, graduates are eligible to apply for a reduction off the minimum five (5) years industry experience required before becoming a CPM.

Work Integrated Learning

Western Sydney University seeks to enhance student learning experiences by enabling students to engage in the culture, expectations and practices of their profession or discipline. This program includes a placement or other community-based unpaid practical experience.

There is an optional work component available in this program. Please contact the Program Advisor listed above for information.

International students should be aware that if an elective is a requirement of the program but the work itself was not registered with CRICOS, students can still complete these electives but it would be counted towards the work limitation. For more details, refer to the 'Work Integrated Learning (WIL) for international students' website.

Bachelor of Information and Communications Technology/ Bachelor of Laws (2768)

Approved Abbreviation: BICT/LLB
Western Sydney University Program Code: 2768
AQF Level: 7

CRICOS Code: 084731C

This program applies to students who commenced in 2022 or later.

Students should follow the program structure for the session start date relevant to the year they commenced.

Commencement Year 2015 - 2016 - 2768.1 Bachelor of Information and Communications Technology/Bachelor of Laws (http://handbook.westernsydney.edu.au/hbook/course.aspx?course=2768.1)

The program offers multi-skilling and highly marketable career paths in information and communications technology and law. It equips students with professional legal skills and knowledge which are required by the Legal Profession Admission Board (LPAB) for admission to legal practice, solve non-legal problems and undertake specialised study in topical local and international law. The Information and Communications Technology component of the program is accredited by the Australian Computer Society and meets the demands of business to be competitive and to innovate in this fast-changing area. Students build strong foundational skills, and then apply these to a range of industry relevant problems and projects as part of work-integrated learning. Students also have options to do a Minor in topics such as Cloud Computing, Networking, Data Science and Machine Learning, Graphics and Visual Simulation and Ubiquitous Computing.

Early Exit

Students may exit this program on completion of 80 credit points with a 2827 Diploma in Laws (exit only) (https://hbook.westernsydney.edu.au/programs/diploma-laws-exit-only/)

Study Mode

Five years full-time. Information and Communications Technology subjects are offered at Penrith, Campbelltown and Parramatta campuses and Law subjects are offered at Campbelltown and Parramatta campuses. Students may be required to travel between campuses in order to complete their core subjects.

Accreditation

Graduates from the Bachelor of Laws program are eligible to apply to the Legal Profession Admission Board for admission to legal practice in NSW after undertaking prescribed practical legal training.

Inherent Requirements

There are inherent requirements for this program that you must meet in order to complete your program and graduate. Make sure you read and understand the requirements for this program online.

Inherent Requirements (https://www.westernsydney.edu.au/ir/inherent_requirements/inherent_requirements_for_law_courses/)

Work Integrated Learning

Western Sydney University seeks to enhance student learning experiences by enabling students to engage in the culture, expectations and practices of their profession or discipline. This program includes a placement or other community-based unpaid practical experience.

There is an optional work component available in this program. Please contact the Program Advisor listed above for information.

International students should be aware that if an elective is a requirement of the program but the work itself was not registered with CRICOS, students can still complete these electives but it would be counted towards the work limitation. For more details, refer to the 'Work Integrated Learning (WIL) for international students' website.

Work Integrated Learning (WIL) for international students (https://www.westernsydney.edu.au/currentstudents/current_students/services_and_facilities/international_student_support/working_in_australia/work_integrated_learning/)

Admission

Assumed knowledge: HSC Mathematics and any two units of HSC English (or equivalent)

Applications from Australian and New Zealand citizens and holders of permanent resident visas may be made via the Universities Admissions Centre (UAC) or directly through the Western Portal. Use the links below to apply via UAC or Western Sydney University. Applications made directly to Western Sydney do not have an application fee.

http://www.uac.edu.au/
https://westernsydney.uac.edu.au/ws/

Applicants who have undertaken studies overseas may have to provide proof of proficiency in English. Local applicants who are applying through the Universities Admissions Centre (UAC) will find details of minimum English proficiency requirements and acceptable proof on the UAC website. Local applicants applying directly to the University should also use the information provided on the UAC website.

International students currently completing an Australian Year 12 in or outside Australia, an International Baccalaureate in Australia or a New Zealand National Certificate of Educational Achievement (NCEA) level 3 must apply via UAC International.

http://www.uac.edu.au/

All other International applicants must apply directly to the University via the International Office.

International students applying to the University through the International Office can find details of minimum English proficiency requirements and acceptable proof on their website.

International Office (http://www.westernsydney.edu.au/international/)

Overseas qualifications must be deemed by the Australian Education International - National Office of Overseas Skills Recognition (AEI-NOOSR) to be equivalent to Australian qualifications in order to be considered by UAC and Western Sydney University.

Special Requirements Prerequisites

Students enrolling in these subjects may need to have a National Police Certificate and consent or prohibited employment declarations as they may be conducting their placement in circumstances where they work with minors. This would be managed on an as needs basis:

- LAWS 3074 Judicial Internship
- LAWS 4017 Access to Justice Clinic

- LAWS 3077 Legal Internship
- LAWS 3080 Street Law Clinic
- LAWS 4012 First Nations Peoples' Access to Justice Clinic
- JUST 3011 Issues in the Criminal Justice System (corrective services field trip requirement) also records and identity check.

The following subject requires a visa for the relevant country and the ability to travel at a specified time:

- LAWS 3024 Foundations of Chinese Law
- LAWS 3025 Law, Culture and Entrepreneurial Innovation in India
- LAWS 3078 Legal, Economic and Social Transformation in Taiwan

Program Structure 2022

If you commenced in 2023 or later please refer to the Structure 2023 tab for details.

Qualification for a double degree in law requires the successful completion of 400 credit points comprising all subjects listed in the recommended sequence.

To gain early exit from the combined degree, with a Bachelor of Information and Communications Technology students are required to complete 16 technology subjects and the first eight law subjects listed in the recommended sequence.

Students enrolled in the 2768 Bachelor of Information and Communications Technology/Bachelor of Laws will only be eligible to graduate from their Bachelor of Laws degree upon completion of the entire 400 credit point program. Students enrolled in this program who wish to graduate with a standalone law degree prior to completion of the entire Bachelor of Information and Communications Technology component must transfer to program 2502 Bachelor of Laws (Non Graduate Entry) which requires the completion of 320 credit points (inclusive of 80 credit points of non-LLB study).

Students may early exit with the Diploma in Laws (p. 750) on completion of 80 credit points, comprising 20 credit points of specified Law core subjects and 60 credit points of Law core or alternate subjects, as provided in the program structure. Please refer to the links above for details.

It may be possible to vary the sequence of subjects so that students study a greater concentration of either law or technology each semester, to minimise travel between campuses and to overcome timetabling problems. Students should speak to their Academic Program Advisor as needed. However students who enrol in LAWS 1003 Fundamentals of Australian Law must also be enrolled in LAWS 2004 Criminal Law and students who enrol in LAWS 1009 Legal Analysis and Critique must also be enrolled in LAWS 2013 Torts Law.

Recommended Sequence 2022

If you commenced in 2023 or later please refer to the Sequence 2023 tab for details.

Students commencing via mid-year entry, please consult the Academic Program Advisor (https://directory.westernsydney.edu.au/search/profile/14661/)

Program Structure 2023

If you commenced in 2022 please refer to the Structure 2022 tab for details.

Qualification for a double degree in law requires the successful completion of 400 credit points comprising all subjects listed in the recommended sequence.

To gain early exit from the combined degree, with a Bachelor of Information and Communications Technology students are required to complete twelve technology subjects (120 credit points), four ICT Minor subjects (40 credit points) (ICT Minor options listed below) and the first eight law subjects (80 credit points) listed in the recommended sequence below including a minimum of 60 credit points at Level 3 or above to meet the completion requirements of a three year (240 credit points) Bachelor's degree. You must seek advice and discuss your options with your Academic Program Advisor.

Students enrolled in the 2768 Bachelor of Information and Communications Technology/Bachelor of Laws will only be eligible to graduate from their Bachelor of Laws degree upon completion of the entire 400 credit point program. Students enrolled in this program who wish to graduate with a standalone law degree prior to completion of the entire Bachelor of Information and Communications Technology component must transfer to program 2502 Bachelor of Laws (Non Graduate Entry) which requires the completion of 320 credit points (inclusive of 80 credit points of non-LLB study).

Students may early exit with the Diploma in Laws (p. 750) on completion of 80 credit points, comprising 20 credit points of specified Law core subjects and 60 credit points of Law core or alternate subjects, as provided in the program structure. Please refer to the links above for details.

It may be possible to vary the sequence of subjects so that students study a greater concentration of either law or technology each semester, to minimise travel between campuses and to overcome timetabling problems. Students should speak to their Academic Program Advisor as needed. However students who enrol in LAWS 1003 Fundamentals of Australian Law must also be enrolled in LAWS 2004 Criminal Law and students who enrol in LAWS 1009 Legal Analysis and Critique must also be enrolled in LAWS 2013 Torts Law.

Bachelor of Information and Communications Technology/ Bachelor of Laws (Honours) (2837)

Approved Abbreviation: BICT/LLB(Hons)
Western Sydney University Program Code: 2837
AQF Level: 8

CRICOS code: 108427J

This program applies to students who commenced in 2022 or later.

This program is designed for high achieving law students in the Bachelor of Information and Communications Technology/Bachelor of Laws program who wish to undertake an extended level of study and research in Law. An honours degree indicates academic excellence in a professional context and, as an Australian Qualifications Framework Level 8 (https://www.aqf.edu.au/aqf-levels/) qualification, students may also have direct entry into postgraduate programs including Masters and Doctor of Philosophy programs.

There is no direct entry into the Honours program. Entry is by application only following completion of at least 160 credit points of Law study and by meeting specified criteria (see Admission details).
As an embedded honours program, students are not required to undertake an additional period of study. Further details regarding the honours program and its requirements are available at: Honours in Law (https://www.westernsydney.edu.au/schools/sol/honours/) and School of Law Honours Guidelines (https://policies.westernsydney.edu.au/download.php?associated=1&id=498&version=4).

The Bachelor of Laws (Honours) program satisfies the academic degree requirements for admission to practice as an Australian lawyer. Students will engage in collaborative face-to-face problem and case-based learning, will be supported by online learning materials, and will participate in authentic assessment to develop knowledge and skills. The program provides students with a broad progressive legal education with a strong practical orientation to the law. Students develop skills in problem-solving, critical thinking, research, communication, collaboration, self-management, and ethical and professional awareness and judgement. Students will have the opportunity to develop skills in legal advocacy, negotiation, and legal technology and extend their professional and learning experiences through work integrated learning, clinical placement and international exchange engagements.

Study Mode

Five years full-time. Information and Communications Technology subjects are offered at Penrith, Campbelltown and Parramatta campuses and Law subjects are offered at Campbelltown and Parramatta campuses. Students may be required to travel between campuses in order to complete their core subjects.

Accreditation

Graduates from the Bachelor of Laws (Honours) program are eligible to apply to the Legal Profession Admission Board for admission to legal practice in NSW after undertaking prescribed practical legal training.

Inherent Requirements

There are inherent requirements for this program that you must meet in order to complete your program and graduate. Make sure you read and understand the requirements for this program online.

Inherent Requirements (http://www.westernsydney.edu.au/ir/inherent_requirements/inherent_requirements_for_law_courses/)

Work Integrated Learning

Western Sydney University seeks to enhance student learning experiences by enabling students to engage in the culture, expectations and practices of their profession or discipline. This program includes a placement or other community-based unpaid practical experience.

There is an optional work component available in this program. Please contact the Program Advisor listed above for information.

International students should be aware that if an elective is a requirement of the program but the work itself was not registered with CRICOS, students can still complete these electives but it would be counted towards the work limitation. For more details, refer to the 'Work Integrated Learning (WIL) for international students' website.

- LAWS 3024 Foundations of Chinese Law
- LAWS 3025 Law, Culture and Entrepreneurial Innovation in India
- LAWS 3078 Legal, Economic and Social Transformation in Taiwan

Program Structure 2022

If you commenced in 2023 or later please refer to the Structure 2023 tab for details.

Qualification for a double degree in law requires the successful completion of 400 credit points including the subjects listed in the recommended sequences for the relevant double degree programs.

To gain early exit from the combined degree, with a Bachelor of Information and Communications Technology students are required to complete 16 technology subjects and the first eight law subjects listed in the recommended sequence below.

Students enrolled in the 2837 Bachelor of Information and Communications Technology/Bachelor of Laws (Honours) will only be eligible to graduate from their Bachelor of Laws (Honours) degree upon completion of the entire 400 credit point course. Students enrolled in this program who wish to graduate with a standalone law degree prior to completion of the entire Bachelor of Information and Communications Technology component must transfer to program 2829 Bachelor of Laws (Non Graduate Entry) (Honours) which requires the completion of 320 credit points (inclusive of 80 credit points of non-LLB study).

It may be possible to vary the sequence of subjects so that students study a greater concentration of either law or technology each semester, to minimise travel between campuses and to overcome timetabling problems. Students should speak to their Academic Program Advisor as needed.

Students must complete 240 credit points of Law subjects comprising:

- 160 credit points of specified core subjects to meet Priestly 11 accreditation requirements:
- 10 credit points Research Training Component (LAWS 4016 Legal Research and Methodology)
- 20 credit points Research Component (LAWS 4011 Law Honours Dissertation)
- 50 credit points of LLB alternate subjects.

Recommended Sequence 2022

If you commenced in 2023 or later please refer to the Sequence 2023 tab for details.

Qualification for this award requires the successful completion of 400 credit points as per the recommended sequence below.

Bachelor of Information Systems (3687)

Approved Abbreviation: BInfoSys
Western Sydney University Program Code: 3687
AQF Level: 7

CRICOS Code: 079492M

This program applies to students who commenced in 2016 or later.

Students should follow the program structure for the session start date relevant to the year they commenced.

For Commencement Year 2014, please refer to: 3687.1 Bachelor of Information Systems (http://handbook.uws.edu.au/hbook/course.aspx?course=3687.1)

Today, practising professionals need to not only have knowledge and skills in computing, they also need to understand the context in which computer technology is applied in society, and be able to work collaboratively with people in all sorts of professions and industries. The Bachelor of Information Systems degree integrates closely the applications of computing and information systems in a global business environment. You will work with organisations to design, develop, deploy and manage information systems through the application of computing technology. This program will help you carry out a real-life project where you will need to design and develop an information system that solves a community-based problem.

Study Mode

Three years full-time.

Bachelor of Information Systems Advanced/Bachelor of Business (3745)

Approved Abbreviation: BInfSysAdv/BBus
Western Sydney University Program Code: 3745
AQF Level: 7

CRICOS Code: 093319G

This program applies to students who commenced in 2022 or later.

Commencement Year 2018 - 3745.2 Bachelor of Information Systems Advanced/Bachelor of Business (http://handbook.westernsydney.edu.au/hbook/course.aspx?course=3745.2)

The Bachelor of Information Systems Advanced/Bachelor of Business provides students with knowledge and understanding of two very closely related fields. The advantage of this degree is that it will help open doors to entrepreneurship, start-up companies and new innovations that will require business knowledge and cutting edge information systems and technology skills. Advanced students will also have industry mentors.

The business component of the double degree will allow students to gain knowledge in one of three core Business areas: Money, Markets or Management. The Money area encompasses majors in Applied Finance, Business Analytics and Economics, while Markets centre on majors in Hospitality, Sport Management, International Business and Marketing. Finally the Management area includes majors in Human Resources and Management. Four business core subjects introduce students to fundamental aspects of law in a commercial context, management, the basics of financing and accounting needs of an organisation, and an introduction to markets and marketing. A number of professional core subjects compliment and build on previous knowledge and skills in the areas of numeracy, creativity, innovation, entrepreneurship, leadership and further enhance student's employability by offering internship or client-based problem solving subjects. A choice from eight business majors will add to the in-depth knowledge and equip students with the skills to pursue a career in a chosen area of interest.

Students' knowledge is augmented with study in the Information Systems domain including, but not limited to, system analysis and design, information systems, programming, database design and development, networking, system deployment and management, web and mobile development and social computing. In pursuing this combination of study, students will learn how to assume corporate roles in global enterprises as well as gain skills needed to start a business. This double degree will equip students with the tools to become future entrepreneurs, to innovate, engage in new business developments, implement new business models and propose technology enhanced start-ups.

Study Mode

Four years full-time or eight years part-time.

COMM 1026 Principles of Professional Communication 1

Bachelor of Information Systems Advanced/Bachelor of Laws (2801)

Approved Abbreviation: BISAdv/LLB
Western Sydney University Program Code: 2801
AQF Level: 7

CRICOS Code: 095800D

This program applies to students who commenced in 2022 or later.

This program enables multi-skilling in information systems and law, enabling increased marketability in these diverse career fields. The Bachelor of Laws equips students with the professional legal skills and knowledge required by the Legal Profession Admission Board (LPAB) for admission to legal practice in NSW, and to solve legal and non-legal problems. Students can undertake specialised study in topical local and international law and practical experiences. In the Information Systems Advanced component of the program, students learn about computing and information technology in a business context. The program extends learning available in Bachelor of Information Systems through advanced activities including extension projects, hands on business projects and research training. Mentoring and access to some industry partners and research groups will enable students to develop skills and networks that apply directly in industry.

Early Exit

Students may exit this program on completion of 80 credit points with a 2827 Diploma in Laws (exit only) (https://hbook.westernsydney.edu.au/programs/diploma-laws-exit-only/)

Study Mode

Five years full-time or ten years part-time. Information systems subjects are offered at the Parramatta campus and Law subjects are offered at Campbelltown and Parramatta campuses. Students may be required to travel between campuses in order to complete their subjects.

Approved Abbreviation: BISAdv/LLB(Hons)
Western Sydney University Program Code: 2842
AQF Level: 8

CRICOS Code: 108432A

This program applies to students who commenced in 2022 or later.

This program is designed for high achieving law students in the Bachelor of Information Systems Advanced/ Bachelor of Laws program who wish to undertake an extended level of study and research in Law. An honours degree indicates academic excellence in a professional context and, as an Australian Qualifications Framework Level 8 (https://www.aqf.edu.au/aqf-levels/) qualification, students may also have direct entry into postgraduate programs including Masters and Doctor of Philosophy programs.

There is no direct entry into the Honours program. Entry is by application only following completion of at least 160 credit points of Law study and by meeting specified criteria (see Admission details). As an embedded honours program, students are not required to undertake an additional period of study. Further details regarding the honours program and its requirements are available at: Honours in Law (https://www.westernsydney.edu.au/schools/sol/honours/) and School of Law Honours Guidelines (https://policies.westernsydney.edu.au/download.php?associated=1&id=498&version=4).

The Bachelor of Laws (Honours) program satisfies the academic degree requirements for admission to practice as an Australian lawyer. Students will engage in collaborative face-to-face problem and case-based learning, will be supported by online learning materials, and will participate in authentic assessment to develop knowledge and skills. The program provides students with a broad progressive legal education with a strong practical orientation to the law. Students develop skills in problem-solving, critical thinking, research, communication, collaboration, self-management, and ethical and professional awareness and judgement. Students will have the opportunity to develop skills in legal advocacy, negotiation, and legal technology and extend their professional and learning experiences through work integrated learning, clinical placement and international exchange engagements.

Study Mode

Five years full-time or ten years part-time. Information Systems units are offered at Parramatta campus and Law units are offered at Campbelltown and Parramatta campuses. Students may be required to travel between campuses in order to complete their units.

Bachelor of Information Systems/ Bachelor of Business (3744)

Approved Abbreviation: BInfSys/BBus

Western Sydney University Program Code: 3744
AQF Level: 7

CRICOS Code: 093318G

This program applies to students who commenced in 2018 or later.

The Bachelor of Information Systems/Bachelor of Business provides students with knowledge and understanding of two very closely related fields. The advantage of this degree is that it will help open doors to entrepreneurship, start-up companies and new innovations that will require business knowledge and cutting edge information systems and technology skills. The business component of the double degree will allow students to gain knowledge in one of three core Business areas:

- Money
- Markets
- Management

The Money area encompasses majors in Applied Finance and Economics, while Markets centre on majors in Hospitality, Sport Management, International Business and Marketing. Finally the Management area includes majors in Human Resources and Management. Four business core subjects introduce students to fundamental aspects of law in a commercial context, management, the basics of financing and accounting needs of an organisation, and an introduction to markets and marketing. A number of professional core subjects compliment and build on previous knowledge and skills in the areas of numeracy, creativity, innovation, entrepreneurship, leadership and further enhance student's employability by offering internship or client-based problem solving subjects. A choice from eight business majors will add to the in-depth knowledge and equip students with the skills to pursue a career in a chosen area of interest. Students' knowledge is augmented with study in the Information Systems domain including, but not limited to, system analysis and design, information systems, programming, database design and development, networking, system deployment and management, web and mobile development and social computing. In pursuing this combination of study, students will learn how to assume corporate roles in global enterprises as well as gain skills needed to start a business. This double degree will equip students with the tools to become future entrepreneurs, to innovate, engage in new business developments, implement new business models and propose technology enhanced start-ups.

Study Mode

Four years full-time or eight years part-time.

COMM 1026 Principles of Professional Communication 1

Bachelor of Information Systems/ Bachelor of Laws (2800)

Approved Abbreviation: BIS/LLB
Western Sydney University Program Code: 2800
AQF Level: 7

CRICOS Code: 095799C

This program applies to students who commenced in 2022 or later.

This combined program enables multi-skilling into two diverse career paths- information systems and law, providing increased marketability to multiple areas of expertise. The Bachelor of Laws equips students with the professional legal skills and knowledge which are required by the Legal Profession Admission Board for admission to legal practice in New South Wales and to solve legal and non-legal problems. Students can undertake specialised study in topical local and international law. The Bachelor of Information Systems integrates the applications of computing and information systems in the context of a global business environment. Students collaborate with an organisation in its industry based setting, on a project to solve a real community-based problem. The project involves the design, development, deployment and further management of the information system.

Early Exit

Students may exit this program on completion of 80 credit points with a 2827 Diploma in Laws (exit only) (https://hbook.westernsydney.edu.au/programs/diploma-laws-exit-only/)

Study Mode

Five years full-time or ten years part-time. Information systems subjects are offered at the Parramatta campus and Law subjects are offered at Campbelltown and Parramatta campuses. Students may be required to travel between campuses in order to complete their subjects.

Bachelor of Information Systems/ Bachelor of Laws (Honours) (2841)

Approved Abbreviation: BIS/LLB(Hons)
Western Sydney University Program Code: 2841
AQF Level: 8

CRICOS Code: 108431B

This program applies to students who commenced in 2022 or later.

This program is designed for high achieving law students in the Bachelor of Information Systems/ Bachelor of Laws program who wish to undertake an extended level of study and research in Law. An honours degree indicates academic excellence in a professional context and, as an Australian Qualifications Framework Level 8 (https://www.aqf.edu.au/aqf-levels/) qualification, students may also have direct entry into postgraduate programs including Masters and Doctor of Philosophy programs.

There is no direct entry into the Honours program. Entry is by application only following completion of at least 160 credit points of Law study and by meeting specified criteria (see Admission details). As an embedded honours program, students are not required to undertake an additional period of study. Further details regarding the honours program and its requirements are available at: Honours in Law (https://www.westernsydney.edu.au/schools/sol/honours/) and School of Law Honours Guidelines (https://policies.westernsydney.edu.au/download.php?associated=1&id=498&version=4).

The Bachelor of Laws (Honours) program satisfies the academic degree requirements for admission to practice as an Australian lawyer. Students will engage in collaborative face-to-face problem and case-based learning, will be supported by online learning materials, and will participate in authentic assessment to develop knowledge and skills. The program provides students with a broad progressive legal education with a strong practical orientation to the law. Students develop skills in problem-solving, critical thinking, research, communication, collaboration, self-management, and ethical and professional awareness and judgement. Students will have the opportunity to develop skills in legal advocacy, negotiation, and legal technology and extend their professional and learning experiences through work integrated learning, clinical placement and international exchange engagements.

Study Mode

Five years full-time or ten years part-time. Information Systems subjects are offered at Parramatta campus and Law subjects are offered at Campbelltown and Parramatta campuses. Students may be required to travel between campuses in order to complete their subjects.

Students enrolled in the 2841 Bachelor of Information Systems/ Bachelor of Laws (Honours) will only be eligible to graduate from their Bachelor of Laws (Honours) degree upon completion of the entire 400 credit point program. Students enrolled in this program who wish to graduate with a standalone law degree prior to completion of the entire Bachelor of Information Systems component must transfer to program 2829 Bachelor of Laws (Non Graduate Entry) (Honours) which requires the completion of 320 credit points (inclusive of 80 credit points of non-LLB study).

Planning study

It may be possible to vary the sequence of subjects so that students study a greater concentration of either law or information systems study each semester, to minimise travel between campuses and to overcome timetabling problems. Students should speak to their Academic Program Advisor as needed.

Recommended Sequence

Qualification for this award requires the successful completion of 400 credit points as per the recommended sequence below.

Handbook Summary 2020-2023

This program examines the relationship of nations, cultures, languages and systems of government within the international system. It develops students' capacity to analyse the historical development of relations among nation states and contemporary political, social and cultural issues, such as globalisation, transnationalism and migration.

International Studies allows students to combine studies from a range of discipline areas, including Asian and Islamic Studies, cultural and social analysis, history, politics and philosophy, and modern languages in Arabic, Chinese or Japanese. The program provides for one semester study abroad during three years of full-time study.

Students in this program also have the opportunity to complete a semester of study overseas and receive advanced standing towards their majors, minors or electives. They are encouraged to do so but must discuss this with a program advisor.

- Director of Academic Program - Dr Charles Barbour

Handbook Summary 2024

The Bachelor of International Studies examines the relationships of politics, nations, societies, cultures, and history across a range of countries. Students will analyse national and global issues, focusing on the way global forces and interactions increasingly influence domestic politics. It will also address the most important challenges that the world's communities face including climate change; religion, peace and conflict; the rich-poor gap; and sustainability. International Studies is an interdisciplinary field drawing on politics, economics, sociology, and history. Students will apply their knowledge and skills to real life scenarios through core subjects.

Students will also have opportunities to enhance their skills and knowledge through language study, internships, volunteering, and international study and travel.

- Director of Academic Program - Dr Charles Barbour

Study Mode

Three years full-time or six years part-time.

Work Integrated Learning

Western Sydney University seeks to enhance student learning experiences by enabling students to engage in the culture, expectations and practices of their profession or discipline. This program includes a placement or other community-based unpaid practical experience.

There is an optional work component available in this program. Please contact the Program Advisor listed above for information.

International students should be aware that if an elective is a requirement of the program but the work itself was not registered with CRICOS, students can still complete these electives but it would be counted towards the work limitation. For more details, refer to the 'Work Integrated Learning (WIL) for international students' website.

Bachelor of International Studies (Dean's Scholars) (1739)

Approved Abbreviation: BIntlSt(DeansSchol)
Western Sydney University Program Code: 1739
AQF Level: 7

CRICOS Code: 107231G

This program applies to students who commenced in 2020 or later.

Students should follow the program structure for the session start date relevant to the year they commenced.

For Commencement Year Spring 2018 to 2019 - please refer to 1739.3 Bachelor of International Studies (Dean's Scholars) (http://handbook.westernsydney.edu.au/hbook/course.aspx?course=1739.3)

For Commencement Year 2017 - please refer to 1739.2 Bachelor of International Studies (Dean's Scholars) (http://handbook.westernsydney.edu.au/hbook/course.aspx?course=1739.2)

This program examines the relationship of nations, cultures, languages and systems of government within the international system. It develops students' capacity to analyse the historical development of relations among nation states and contemporary political, social and cultural issues, such as globalisation, transnationalism and migration.

International Studies allows students to combine studies from a range of discipline areas, including Asian and Islamic Studies, cultural and social analysis, history, politics and philosophy, and modern languages (Arabic, Chinese or Japanese). The program provides for one semester study abroad during three years of full-time study.

This degree is exclusively for high-achieving students, and will continually challenge you to do even better and build on your academic success.

Students in this program also have the opportunity to complete a semester of study overseas and receive advanced standing towards their majors, minors or electives. They are encouraged to do so but must discuss this with a program advisor.

- Director of Academic Program - Dr Charles Barbour

Study Mode

Three years full-time or six years part-time.

For Commencement Year 2016 - 2017 - 1820.1 Bachelor of International Studies/Bachelor of Business (http://handbook.westernsydney.edu.au/hbook/course.aspx?course=1820.1)

Handbook Summary 2018-2023

This double degree program is designed for students who want to combine their interest and expertise in international studies with an Asian language and a high level of knowledge in one of eight specific Business majors. Graduates will have a solid grounding in the relationships of societies, cultures, languages and systems of government within the international system. International Studies develops students' capacity to appreciate the historical development of relations among nation states and to analyse contemporary political, commercial, diplomatic and strategic links and developments. The Business major prepares students for professional employment in the specialisation of their choice. Students complete a major in International Relations and Asian Studies; a minor in Arabic, Japanese, Chinese or Immersion Language; and a Business major in one of: Applied Finance, Economics, Hospitality Management, Human Resource Management, International Business, Management, Marketing or Sport Management.

Students in this double degree also have the opportunity to complete a semester of study overseas and receive advanced standing towards their BA majors and minors subject to WSU limits on advanced standing. Students are encouraged to do so but must discuss this with a BA program advisor first.

- Director of Academic Program - Dr Charles Barbour

Handbook Summary 2024

This double degree program is designed for students who want to combine their interest and expertise in international studies with a high level of knowledge in one of eight specific Business majors. Graduates will have a solid grounding in the relationships of societies, cultures, languages and systems of government across a range of countries. International Studies develops students' capacity to appreciate the historical development of relations among nation states and to analyse contemporary political, commercial, diplomatic and strategic links and developments. The Business major prepares students for professional employment in the specialisation of their choice. Students complete a major in Global Politics and International Relations and a Business major in one of: Applied Finance, Business Analytics, Economics, Human Resource Management, International Business, Management, Marketing or Sport Management.

Students in this double degree will also have opportunities to enhance their skills and knowledge through internships, volunteering, and international study and travel.

- Director of Academic Program - Dr Charles Barbour

Study Mode

Four years full-time or eight years part-time. Students may be required to travel between campuses in order to complete their subjects. Business subjects may, on occasion, only be available on Parramatta - Macquarie Street campus.

Accreditation

Major T038 - Applied Finance satisfies the educational requirements for membership of the Financial Services Institute of Australasia (Finsia).
Major T041 - Human Resource Management is accredited with the Australian Human Resources Institute (AHRI).
Major T044 - Marketing satisfies the requirements of accreditation of Marketing subjects in accordance with the Australian Marketing Institute's Accreditation and Endorsement Program. On completion of an AMI Accredited program graduates are eligible for special graduate membership rates and credit towards becoming a Certified Practising Marketer (CPM) in a shorter duration of time. Specifically, graduates are eligible to apply for a reduction off the minimum five (5) years industry experience required before becoming a CPM.

The Bachelor of Business in this double degree is accredited by the Association to Advance Collegiate Schools of Business (AACSB).

Work Integrated Learning

Western Sydney University seeks to enhance student learning experiences by enabling students to engage in the culture, expectations and practices of their profession or discipline. This program includes a placement or other community-based unpaid practical experience.

There is an optional work component available in this program. Please contact the Program Advisor listed above for information.

International students should be aware that if an elective is a requirement of the program but the work itself was not registered with CRICOS, students can still complete these electives but it would be counted towards the work limitation. For more details, refer to the 'Work Integrated Learning (WIL) for international students' website.

Work Integrated Learning (WIL) for international students (https://www.westernsydney.edu.au/currentstudents/current_students/services_and_facilities/international_student_support/working_in_australia/work_integrated_learning/)

Bachelor of International Studies/ Bachelor of Laws (2758)

Approved Abbreviation: BIntlSt/LLB
Western Sydney University Program Code: 2758
AQF Level: 7

CRICOS Code: 111601G

This program applies to students who commenced in 2022 or later.

Students should follow the program structure for the session start date relevant to the year they commenced.

For Commencement Year 2017 - please refer to 2758.4 Bachelor of International Studies/Bachelor of Laws (http://handbook.westernsydney.edu.au/hbook/course.aspx?course=2758.4)

For Commencement Year Spring 2014 to 2016 - please refer to 2758.3 Bachelor of International Studies/Bachelor of Laws (http://handbook.westernsydney.edu.au/hbook/course.aspx?course=2758.3)

For Commencement Year Autumn 2014 - please refer to 2758.2 Bachelor of International Studies/Bachelor of Laws (http://handbook.westernsydney.edu.au/hbook/course.aspx?course=2758.2)

The double degree program permits students to examine and analyse the historical development of relations among nation states and contemporary political, social and cultural issues, such as globalisation, transnationalism and migration. The LLB provides students with professional legal skills including the ability to analyse legal material and understand fundamental legal principles; an understanding of the relationship between law and society; the skills to analyse and solve non-legal problems and specialised study into the Australian legal system.

Students in this double degree also have the opportunity to complete a semester of study overseas and receive advanced standing towards their major or some of the Bachelor of Laws alternate subjects. They are encouraged to do so but must discuss this with a program advisor.

Early Exit

Students may exit this program on completion of 80 credit points with a 2827 Diploma in Laws (exit only) (https://hbook.westernsydney.edu.au/programs/diploma-laws-exit-only/)

Study Mode

Five years full-time or ten years part-time. International Studies subjects are offered at Bankstown and Parramatta campuses and Law subjects are offered at Campbelltown and Parramatta campuses. Students may be required to travel between campuses in order to complete their subjects.

Inherent Requirements

There are inherent requirements for this program that you must meet in order to complete your program and graduate. Make sure you read and understand the requirements for this program online.

Inherent Requirements (https://www.westernsydney.edu.au/ir/inherent_requirements/)

Work Integrated Learning

Western Sydney University seeks to enhance student learning experiences by enabling students to engage in the culture, expectations and practices of their profession or discipline. This program includes a placement or other community-based unpaid practical experience.

There is an optional work component available in this program. Please contact the Program Advisor listed above for information.

International students should be aware that if an elective is a requirement of the program but the work itself was not registered with CRICOS, students can still complete these electives but it would be counted towards the work limitation. For more details, refer to the 'Work Integrated Learning (WIL) for international students' website.

Admission

Eligibility for admission to the Bachelor of International Studies/ Bachelor of Laws is based on the following requirements:

- Assumed knowledge: any 2 units of HSC English
- Recommended studies: HSC English standard or equivalent

Applications from Australian and New Zealand citizens and holders of permanent resident visas may be made via the Universities Admissions Centre (UAC) or directly through the Western Portal. Use the links below to apply via UAC or Western Sydney University. Applications made directly to Western Sydney do not have an application fee.

http://www.uac.edu.au/
https://westernsydney.uac.edu.au/ws/

Applicants who have undertaken studies overseas may have to provide proof of proficiency in English. Local applicants who are applying through the Universities Admissions Centre (UAC) will find details of minimum English proficiency requirements and acceptable proof on the UAC website. Local applicants applying directly to the University should also use the information provided on the UAC website.

International students currently completing an Australian Year 12 in or outside Australia, an International Baccalaureate in Australia or a New Zealand National Certificate of Educational Achievement (NCEA) level 3 must apply via UAC International.

http://www.uac.edu.au/

All other International applicants must apply directly to the University via the International Office.

International students applying to the University through the International Office can find details of minimum English proficiency requirements and acceptable proof on their website.

International Office (http://www.westernsydney.edu.au/international/)

Overseas qualifications must be deemed by the Australian Education International - National Office of Overseas Skills Recognition (AEI-NOOSR) to be equivalent to Australian qualifications in order to be considered by UAC and Western Sydney University.

Program Structure 2024

This structure applies to students who commenced in 2024 or later. If you commenced prior to 2024 please refer to the relevant Structure tab for details.

Qualification for a double degree in law requires the successful completion of 400 credit points including the subjects listed in the recommended sequences for the relevant double degree programs.

Students are eligible to graduate in the Bachelor of International Studies degree at the end of three years of full-time study, only when they have completed all non-law subjects plus the eight law subjects specified in the study sequence as being in the first three years of the relevant double degree.

Students enrolled in the 2758 Bachelor of International Studies/ Bachelor of Laws will only be eligible to graduate from their Bachelor of Laws degree upon completion of the entire 400 credit point program. Students enrolled in this program who wish to graduate with a standalone law degree prior to completion of the entire Bachelor of International Studies component must transfer to program 2502 Bachelor of Laws (Non-Graduate Entry) which requires the completion of 320 credit points (inclusive of 80 credit points of non-LLB study).

Students may exit with the Diploma in Laws on completion of 80 credit points, comprising 20 credit points of specified Law core subjects and 60 credit points of Law core or alternate subjects, as provided in the program structure. Please refer to the links below for details

It may be possible to vary the sequence of subjects so that students study a greater concentration of either law or their second discipline of study each semester, to minimise travel between campuses and to overcome timetabling problems. Students should speak to their academic advisor as needed. However, students who enrol in LAWS 1003 Fundamentals of Australian Law must also be enrolled in LAWS 2004 Criminal Law and students who enrol in LAWS 1009 Legal Analysis and Critique and Critique must also be enrolled in LAWS 2013 Torts Law. For details of International Studies subjects required please see course 1658 Bachelor of International Studies.

1658 - Bachelor of International Studies (https://hbook.westernsydney.edu.au/programs/bachelor-international-studies/)

Bachelor of International Studies/Bachelor of Laws students are required to complete 80 credit points of Bachelor of International Studies Core subjects consisting of four subjects at Level 1, one subject at level 2 and three subjects at Level 3

AND

Global Politics and International Relations, Major (0340) (p. 1468)

AND

LLB key program (24 subjects).

The double degree combination therefore consists of 40 subjects with no additional flexible subjects or choice beyond that already included within the separate Bachelor of International Studies and Law programs.

Note that instead of the minimum of 80 credit points of flexible subjects required to be completed by Bachelor of International Studies students enrolled in course 1658, students in this Bachelor of International Studies /Bachelor of Laws program are required to complete the eight law subjects listed in the first three years of the recommended sequence below.

Program Structure 2022 - 2023

This structure applies to students who commenced in 2022 - 2023. If you commenced in 2024 or later please refer to the Structure 2024 tab for details.

Qualification for a double degree in law requires the successful completion of 400 credit points including the subjects listed in the recommended sequences for the relevant double degree programs.

Students are eligible to graduate in the associated degree at the end of three years of full-time study, only when they have completed all non-law subjects plus the eight law subjects specified in the study sequence as being in the first three years of the relevant double degree.

Students enrolled in the Bachelor of International Studies/Bachelor of Laws will only be eligible to graduate from their Bachelor of Laws degree upon completion of the entire 400 credit point program. Students enrolled in this program who wish to graduate with a standalone law degree prior to completion of the entire Bachelor of International Studies component must transfer to program 2502 Bachelor of Laws (Non Graduate Entry) (p. 479) which requires the completion of 320 credit points (inclusive of 80 credit points of non-LLB study).

Students may early exit with the Diploma in Laws (p. 750) on completion of 80 credit points, comprising 20 credit points of specified Law core subjects and 60 credit points of Law core or alternate subjects, as provided in the program structure. Please refer to the link above for details.

It may be possible to vary the sequence of subjects so that students study a greater concentration of either law or their second discipline of study each semester, to minimise travel between campuses and to overcome timetabling problems. Students should speak to their academic advisor as needed. However, students who enrol in LAWS 1003 Fundamentals of Australian Law must also be enrolled in LAWS 2004 Criminal Law and students who enrol in LAWS 1009 Legal Analysis and Critique must also be enrolled in LAWS 2013 Torts Law.

For details of International Studies subjects required please see program Bachelor of International Studies.

1658 - Bachelor of International Studies (p. 432)

Bachelor of International Studies/Bachelor of Laws students are required to complete the four level 1 Arts core subjects plus the eight-subject International Relations and Asian Studies major and one of the four-subject language minors; together with the LLB key program (24 subjects). The double degree combination, therefore, consists of 40 subjects with no additional electives or choices beyond that already included within the separate Bachelor of International Studies and Law programs.

Note that instead of the minimum of 80 credit points of elective subjects required to be completed by Bachelor of International Studies students enrolled in program 1658, students in this Bachelor of International Studies /Bachelor of Laws program are required to complete the eight law subjects listed in the first three years of the recommended sequence.
